Services Held For Wife Of Ex Math Head

Services were held yesterday at the First Methodist Church, Bryan, for Mrs. Elizabeth Hardwick Porter, wife of W. L. Porter, former head of A&M's Department of Mathematics.

A member of the First Church for many years, Mrs. Porter was active in the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Philathea Sunday School Class where she served as president.

She was a past president of both the local chapter of the A&M Mothers' Club and the Bryan Woman's Club. She was a member of the Lawrence Sullivan Ross Chapter No. 100 of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and served as an officer.

While her children, Mrs. Charles R. Love, of Ardmore, Okla. and Walter Lee Porter, Jr., of Fort Worth, were in school, she worked as a member of the Parent Teacher Association.

A native of Alabama, she is survived by her husband, two children, two brothers, Frank Hardwick, of Macon, Ga., and Will Hardwick of Tuskegee, Ala.; four sisters, Mrs. T. A. Munson of Angleton; Mrs. J. M. Cox and Mrs. L. H. Cole, both of Tuskegee, Mrs. W. C. Butler, Macon, Ga.; and four grandchild-degrees. tor, conducted services.

All freshmen and upperclassmen interested in agriculture at A&M are urged to attend an "agricultural get-acquainted program" in Guion hall at 4 p. m. today.

"The program will be a getacquainted session for all students interested in agriculture and also serve as an introduction to the program here at A&M", said Dr. R. C. Potts, assistant Dean of Agriculture.

Dr. J. C. Miller, Dean of Agriculture, will open the program with a speech on the School of Agriculture, followed by an introduction of the agriculture department heads. The program will be concluded with the presentation of the Student Agricultural Council.
