When Pat McAteer, British Empire middleweight champion, made his American debut he continually looked around. He explained after the bout he was searching for the television camera.

OFF TO THE RACES—The Aggies' Don Watson (24) steps out around left end for 23 yards and the second A&M touchdown. Watson was so surprised at seeing no one near him, he almost stopped at the 10 and just waltzed into the end zone. Leading the way for Don is Quarterback Bobby Conrad (40).

Step into the Expanding Field of Instrumentation

Automatic control, or automation, or data reduction are all Instrumentation, and offer some of the broadest and most satisfying careers available to today's engineers and scientists.

Atomic energy, iron and steel, aircraft and automobiles, chemicals and chinaware, petroleum and electric power are only a few of the many industries which need instruments. This need creates permanent opportunities in many of our operations, including research and development, product engineering, industrial engineering, production, inspection, market development and customer contacts.

The products with which you would be concerned include automatic, high-precision instruments for controlling, recording and indicating temperature, chemical concentration, radiation phenomena, frequency and load and many other conditions. For heat-treaters we make furnaces and process equipment. For the worker in science—whether student or researcher—we make both automatic and manual laboratory-type instruments, with which you may already be familiar.

The Company has about 3000 people—is one of the biggest in its field, yet is compact enough for you to be able to "follow the score." Its reputation for progressiveness in industrial relations, and for quality of product is world wide.

Russell E. Hansen, our Manager at Houston, will be on the campus on November 16, 1956 with information which he will cordially share about our very modern opportunities and rewards for engineers and scientists. Your placement bureau will arrange an appointment with Mr. Hansen, at your request.

NINE (COUNT 'EM) NINE Aggies halt SMU Fullback Ray Masters (44) after a short gain in Saturday's 33-7 mauling of the Dallas school. Identifiable for the Aggies are John Crow (44), John Tracey (80), Charlie Krueger (78), and Bobby Lockett (71). Coming up at the left in a futile attempt to help is the Ponies' Left Guard Dave Mitchell (60).
