

I'LL GET ME A TURKEY BY HOOK OR CROOK muttered our "expert" marksman Robert Sims Moody (right) as he draws a bead getting his "shootin' eye" ready for the Range and Forestry Club's annual Turkey Shoot which will be held Monday afternoon from 2 until 8 at the Kyle Field Rifle Range. Dean Bibbes from Burnet, (l. to r.) and Fritz Landers from Menard heading the committee in charge of arrangements for the shoot are holding the bird for Sims.

US Questions Nasser Over Red Volunteers

Groneman Says Arab Source Says Circumstances Affected NCAA Russian Aid Sought

Several factors weighed heavily against A&M in the NCAA's decision against us, Dr. Chris H. Groneman said upon returning yesterday from the body's meeting in Detroit.

"The fact that another institution, the University of Miami, was seeking to have a similar probation lifted at the same time certainly did not help our cause. The situation was not helped by the fact that a number of other schools were up for severe penalties at this same meeting," he said.

He also said that the NCAA council has an announced policy "not to terminate a probation before it expires." Groneman said that under these circumstances the ruling would not have been in A&M's favor even if another charge of rule violations had not been made against us at this meeting.

"We have made a thorough investigation of the charges made against A&M in the case of a basketball player, Jack Moreland, of Minden, La., now enrolled at North Carolina State," he went on. "We are convinced that the charges of having offered financial aid made against an alumnus of this institution are incorrect and we have a sworn statement, backed by a lie-detector test, as evidence."

Groneman concluded by saying that this case will be investigated and decided on by the Southwest Conference at an early date, after which it will be passed by the NCAA.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—U.S. officials expressed hope today that Egypt's President Nasser has not actually asked for Soviet volunteers.

Yesterday, an Arab source in Moscow said Nasser had instituted a formal request for help. Today official sources in Cairo were quoted in a dispatch to the New York Times as denying that a formal request had been filed and adding there was no need for volunteers since a cease-fire existed.

Some authorities here said the "Arab source" in Moscow yesterday may have been spreading his version of events either to try to frighten the West or to serve some Soviet purpose with respect to the Middle East.

CS Chest Drive Donations Lag Collectors Say

By WELTON JONES

About 1,000 of College Station's 8,000 residents had given $8,500 to the A&M College-College Station Community Chest-Red Cross Drive by 5 p.m. yesterday, according to a count made last night. The goal is $14,000.

"Maybe our trouble is that we haven't reached everybody," Jack Tippet, publicity chairman said. "We are constantly amazed at the number of College Station people who don't think they have an obligation to the drive."

Tippet reported that partial reports had been received from all but four departments on the campus. These are the A&M Creamery, the Post Office, the AAA building and the Eastwood Airport and Testing Lab.

One department head contacted said that the forms could be left on his desk but that they would still be seen when the representative came again, collectors reported.

On the brighter side, five departments had reported 100 per cent contributions. These are Basic Division, Dean of Graduate School office, Department of Veterinary Anatomy, Texas Feed Control Lab and the Chancellor's office.

Mrs. W. M. Heritage, chairman of business solicitations, reported that all North Gate businesses contacted contributed with the exception of one. Girl Scouts distributed stickers to all contributors Saturday morning.

The stickers are maroon and white, two by seven inches reading "We Gave To The A&M College-College Station Community Chest-Red Cross Drive."

"Several checks have come in through the mail for amounts from $10 up," said Herb Thompson, Chest treasurer. "People who haven't given to the drive are deferring." (See CHEST FUNDS, Page 2)

TB Association Launches Christmas Seal Drive

A host of volunteers and Brazos County Tuberculosis Association leaders this week will launch the 1956 Christmas Seal drive.

Distribution of letters containing seals to citizens and business firms will begin Thursday morning, according to local drive chairman Mrs. John Q. Hays.

Seals will also be available to A&M students and personnel at Bryan Air Force Base, Mrs. Hays says.

"This year marks the 50th annual Christmas Seal Sale and is a fine time for all to learn what has been accomplished so far as well as the job that lies ahead," Mrs. Hays says.

Among things accomplished, Mrs. Hays lists millions of saved lives, a drop in the United States death rate by 53 per cent and advances in TB treatment and diagnosis.

Awareness of the disease is growing yearly, Mrs. Hays says. More than 1,200 persons turned out each day of the TB chest X-ray survey last summer, she says.

Sale of Christmas seals made these advances possible, Mrs. Hays says.

"Much work remains yet to be done before TB can be conquered," Mrs. Hays says.

Still to be solved are problems of research.

Christmas Seals financed 40 different TB research projects during 1955 in laboratories and clinics over the country, Mrs. Hays says.

Research must be expanded until an effective vaccine is developed to protect against tuberculosis, she says.

An estimated 22,000 Texans now have active tuberculosis. More new cases of TB were found in Texas last year than ever before, Mrs. Hays says.

The local chest X-ray survey is in part financed by the Brazos TB Association. The sole support of the TB Association is the Christmas Seal Sale, Mrs. Hays says.

Of the funds raised by the seal sale, 82 per cent are kept in Brazos County. The Texas TB Association gets 12 per cent and sends half of the 12 per cent to the national TB association.

Senate Slate Set For Session Tonite

The Student Senate meets in the Senate Chamber in the MSC today at 7:30 p.m.

Included on the agenda are reports from standing committees, seating committee, and 12th Man Bowl, committee, according to recording secretary Jon Hagler.

Action on the budget will come up under old business. New business is to include a memorial for James Sarraz, Reville, seating at out-of-town games, charging for parking lots at home games and a traffic committee report, Hagler said.

Members of the round-table include Col. James A. Jordan, of the department of social science, U. S. Military Academy; R. W. Akers, editor of the Beaumont Enterprise and Journal; Dr. John M. Claunch, chairman of the department of government, SMU.

W. W. Armistead, dean of the school of veterinary medicine, A&M; Clayton D. Ford, director of the school of government, Principia College, Elmhurst, Ill.; Col. Allen Haveman, of the Policy Division in Directorate of Plans, U. S. Air Force.

James MacLeod, vice consul of the British Consulate, Denver, Colo.; and Jack D. Gray, formerly with the state department in India as an agricultural worker.

Class '60 To Pick Leaders In Runoff

Freshman voters gave no one candidate a majority in each of the races for class officers yesterday in the election held in the Memorial Student Center.

Runoffs will be necessary for all the offices and this election will be held Dec. 5, according to Tommie Hennard, election commission member.

In the run-off for president are Bruce B. Johnson, 68; Charles R. Nourie, 66 and Floyd H. Christian, 61.

Vice presidential candidates still in the race are Don R. Burns, 76; Ralph Peterson, 59 and Bill D. Jobe, 59.

Remaining candidates for secretary are Efraim Armendariz, 74; Jerry Don Smith, 72 and Pete T. Scamardo, 50.

Run-off candidates for social secretary are Alden J. Smith, 109; Thomas L. Sutherland, 83 and Norman Dowdy, 80.

Still in the race for treasurer are Bobby J. Newsom, 84; Dennis Zimmerman, 81 and James H. Bingham, 78.

Parliamentarian run-off candidates are Kenneth R. Mudd, 118; Jay P. Gatlin, 76 and Robert G. Allen, 72.

Candidates still in the race for sergeant-at-arms are Paul Bar-sotti, 73; Jimmy Davis, 63 and David Johnson, 56.

In the run-off for reporter are Don H. Gilbert, 195; James L. Heller, 79 and David Dannenbaum, 72.

Sixty-Nine Qualify For Ross Volunteers

Sixty-nine corps juniors were approved for the Ross Volunteer Company according to John H. Specht, commanding officer.

To be eligible the members needed to be academically classified as a junior, have a 1.5 grade point ratio with a 2.00 in air science or military science.

Over 100 applied.

New members are: Rayford Gaines Anthony, James W. Anz, Brady Douglas Armstrong, Robert John Balhorn, Robert Ellis Blake, Ray M. Bowen, James Allen Burke, Harold W. Byars, Raymond Everett Camper, Jr., James Calvin Caston, James A. Clark, Robert Dunn Cleland, Philip B. Collier.

J. Paul Costa, Dixon W. Coulbourn, Ford George Daab, Franklin Demuth, Donald Dean Dunlap, Jerry Wayne Ellington, John W. Foster, Bartolome Garcia, Jr., Clarence William Garrard, Jr., James Dennis Gower, Alvin Howard Grantham, Jr., James R. Groves.

Jon L. Hagler, Thomas R. Harris, Phil Calep Hurley, Donald Brent Kirby, Carroll Frank Lam, Charles S. Lessard, John Leroy Ligon, John Mallory Long, Arlen Don Lummus, Don D. McGinty.

Jerry N. McGown, Dewitt L. McLallen, Theron Dodd McLaren, David R. Mayo, William Keith Meals, Frank M. Nail, Jack E. Nelson, John Walter Ochterbeck,

Major Is Pinned At Reserve Meet

Reserve officer Harriott O. Kunkle received the gold leaves of major during drill of the 343rd Field Artillery Battalion Wednesday.

He is operations officer of the unit. Major Kunkle is associate professor of biochemistry at A&M and has served over 13 years active and reserve military duty.

Commissioned at the Artillery Officers Candidate School, Fort Sill, Okla., he wears the Philippine Liberation Medal, As-Pac Campaign Medal and American Theater Campaign Medal.

Weather Today

College Station area forecast calls for cloudiness this afternoon, with northerly winds. High and low readings yesterday were 84 and 69 degrees. The temperature at 10:30 this morning was 62 degrees.

Chester Bowles Is Key Speaker At SCONA II

Chester Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and ambassador to India, is keynote speaker of the second Student Conference on National Affairs.

Other panel members are Henry Tanner, political science writer for the Houston Post, and Major General Richard C. Lindsay, deputy chief of staff for operations, United States Air Force.

These speakers will also be presented to students, the faculty staff and the college community by Great Issues on Dec. 12, 13, and 14.

Members of the round-table include Col. James A. Jordan, of the department of social science, U. S. Military Academy; R. W. Akers, editor of the Beaumont Enterprise and Journal; Dr. John M. Claunch, chairman of the department of government, SMU.

W. W. Armistead, dean of the school of veterinary medicine, A&M; Clayton D. Ford, director of the school of government, Principia College, Elmhurst, Ill.; Col. Allen Haveman, of the Policy Division in Directorate of Plans, U. S. Air Force.

James MacLeod, vice consul of the British Consulate, Denver, Colo.; and Jack D. Gray, formerly with the state department in India as an agricultural worker.

Parents Meeting

A&M Consolidated High School's Mother and Dad club will meet Monday at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Atom Test Problem Told To Engineers

Engineering problems at an atomic research plant were explained to American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Institute of Radio Engineers members by guest speaker Melvin (Maxie) Newsom at a joint meeting of the groups Tuesday.

Newsom used movies of the plant and equipment at Sandia Atomic Research plant at Albuquerque, N. M. Precautions taken to protect the public from experimental nuclear blasts were also covered in the movie.

Newsom, class of '53, is an electrical systems engineer.

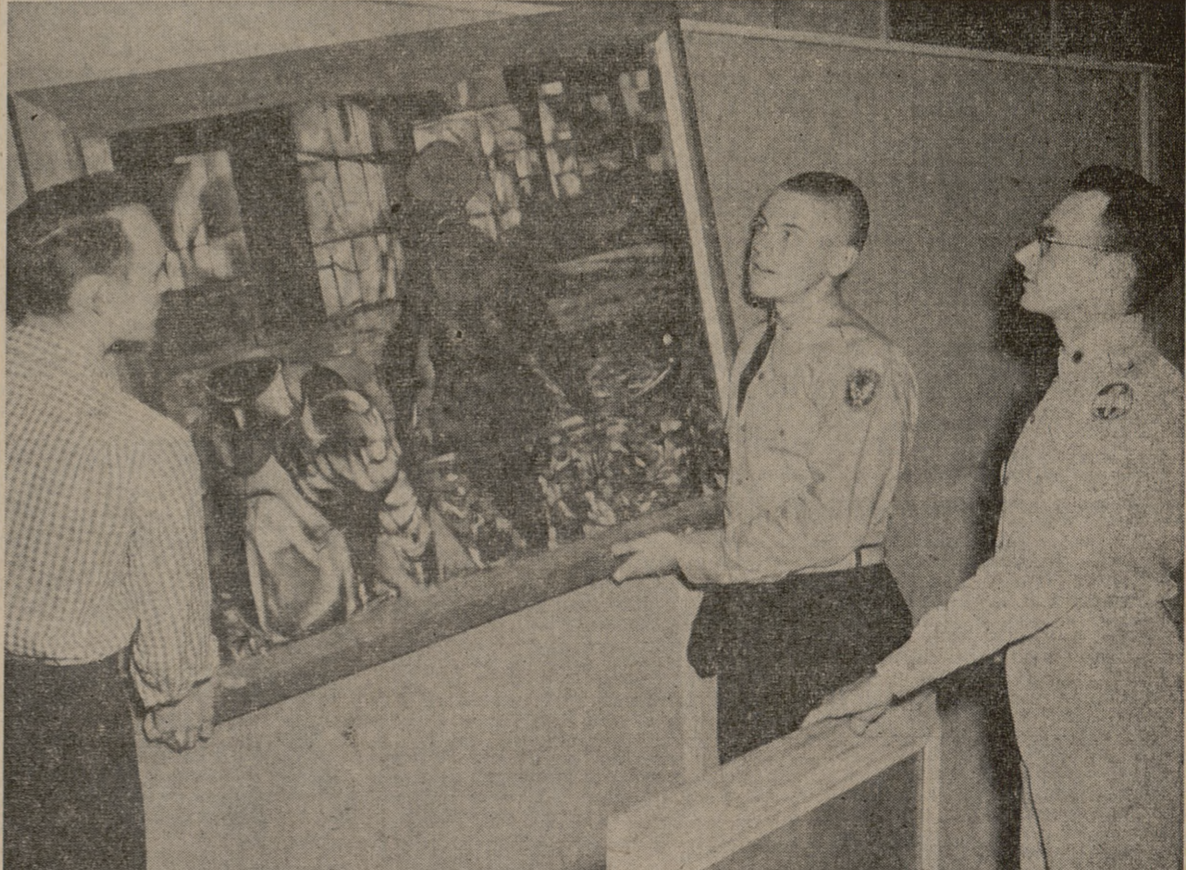

CORRECTION

A mistake was made in yesterday's story regarding the number of date and student tickets available for the Texas University game.

There are plenty of tickets available and they will go on sale at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow according to Pat Dial of the Athletic Office. Tickets will go off sale Friday, Nov. 23.

Some Kiss!

HONOLULU (AP)—A fellow here collected a good night kiss that really packed a wallop. As he hugged his girl friend, a coconut fell 40 feet off a tree and smacked him on the head. The amorous one woke up in the hospital.

PUTTING UP ONE of the prize-winning pictures for the art exhibit that opens tomorrow are (from left to right) Paul Ross, William Newton and David Morris.