

Students Simmering Over NCAA Ruling

By JOE TINDEL

Aggie moods of anger and disappointment lessened somewhat yesterday as students began to realize the National Collegiate Athletic Association's refusal to lift the Cotton Bowl ban was final.

Yesterday some students were able to express opinions without too much emotion.

John Mayfield, junior business administration major in Squadron 5, calmly stated his opinion.

"I think that A&M benefited from the NCAA ruling in some ways," he said. "We got a lot of good, free publicity and besides that, I think the team will be helped some. The ruling will inspire them to play good ball the rest of this year to show that they are champions. It will also make them play well next year."

Bill Maxwell, freshman chemical engineering major in Squadron 18 said he had suspected that the ruling would be as it was.

"I was disappointed like a lot of other Aggies but with the NCAA law like it was, it had to come out that way," he said.

Bill Yates, sophomore civilian student majoring in personnel management, gave his first reaction.

"First thing I thought of was that a lot of Aggies who had planned to go to the Cotton Bowl were going to be awfully disappointed."

Generally Aggies were in accord with Bill Dorsey, head yell leader, who Tuesday night said:

"We don't have to play in the Cotton Bowl, Army. We can have our own bowl game down at Austin on Thanksgiving when we beat the h--- out of Texas."

Chest Funds

"We hope that collectors and zone chairmen can contact everyone and get every possible contribution," Dr. John Milliff, co-chairman of the drive said. "Our only big source of revenue left is the contribution from the Bryan Air Force Base United Fund. In a sense, however, the drive never ends, and we hope donations will continue all year."

Persons who wish to donate may do so by contacting Milliff, Tippet, Thompson or the other co-chairman, Bob Reed.

Proclamation

WHEREAS the Creative Arts Group of the Memorial Student Center, A&M College of Texas, will present in exhibition beginning November 16, and ending November 25, the 1956 D. D. Feldman Collection of Contemporary Texas Art and sketches and paintings of E. M. (Buck) Schiwetz, class of '22; and

WHEREAS this joint exhibition affords an opportunity to the students, faculty, staff, and people of the communities to see paintings of the highest type of Texas Art and thereby enriching their lives; and

WHEREAS such an exhibition expresses gratitude in a small way for the very real contribution Texas Artists have made to education and culture in the state;

NOW, THEREFORE, We proclaim November 16, 1956 as Creative Arts Day in the cities of College Station and Bryan, Texas and we urge all to participate by observing this date and exhibition.

Letters

Editor,
The Battalion
To The Fightin' Aggie Football Team:

We want you to know that we share your deep feelings about the NCAA's decision on our probation. We are all proud of the way you have worked to have a team that should be and soon will be rated No. 1 in the nation.

I know that if everyone really knew of the spirit you have and so consistently displayed, there would be no doubt in anyone's mind as to who is going to win the SWC championship.

It really looked great to see all of you show you still had this spirit even after the bad news, a hard practice and then come to attention in front of the mess hall Tuesday night when the spirit was played at yell practice.

I speak for the men in Sqdn. 1, who are only a small part of the student body, by saying that you as a team have our vote of confidence and that we believe you have what it takes to beat the h--- out of Rice, Texas and the NCAA.

Mexican Gunboat Wounds Shrimper

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., (AP)—A shrimp boat captain wounded Monday when a Mexican gunboat fired on his boat yesterday accused the Mexicans of shooting first and asking questions later.

Capt. Tom Wilson, 42, of the shrimp boat Pescador told newsmen when he arrived here by plane from Tampico, Mex., that the Mexican gunboat did not warn him before it opened fire.

Mexican authorities claimed Wilson was fishing inside the nine-mile coastal waters Mexico claims. Wilson denied his boat was operating inside Mexican territorial waters.

The United States yesterday expressed "surprise" to Mexico that a Mexican gunboat fired on the Pescador, State Department sources reported. They said the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City has asked the Mexican government for a full report on the wounding of Capt. Wilson.

Beauties In Shirts

Van Heusen, as the better dressed of you know, is the maker of the world's finest men's wear in the medium price range. If you haven't done so, you should see some of their new creations in the dress and sport shirt line. They're really beauties! The only store in the College Station—Bryan and surrounding area who is the exclusive dealer for Van Heusen men's wear is the A & M Men's Shop at North Gate. The next time you are in the vicinity of North Gate stop in and look around. If you want to buy a shirt but lack the necessary capital, as most of us do, just tell Dick Rubin, '59, the owner of the A & M Men's Shop and he'll be glad to open a charge account for you. —Adv.

State Planning Full NAACP Trial

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP)—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said yesterday the state would begin taking depositions immediately for an expected full scale trial on the NAACP's right to operate in Texas.

Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan said here earlier the NAACP had asked for the trial on merits if the state wins a plea of privilege hearing in Tyler Dec. 3.

NAACP attorneys will argue at Tyler that a trial on a permanent injunction against the NAACP should be held in Austin or Dallas.

Dunagan granted a temporary injunction against the NAACP's operations Oct. 23 after a five-week hearing in Tyler.

Ag Staff Meeting

A review of the Agricultural Experiment Station statistical facilities will highlight the staff meeting of the Engineering Experiment Station Nov. 20. Robert L. Smith, statistical supervisor of the agricultural station, will describe the facilities at the meeting at 4 p.m. in the lecture room of the Geology Building.
