Stalinists Gain Power As Pravda Blasts Tito

Architects Hear Dallas Official Tonight at 8

Marvin R. Springer, director of city planning in Dallas, will lecture on "Problems of Our Urban Revolution" tonight at 8 in the biological sciences lecture room.

Sponsored by the Division of Architecture, Springer is the first speaker of the architecture division's new lecture series, designed to bring top names in architecture to A&M for the purpose of getting new ideas and exchanging ideas with other schools and practicing professionals.

Charles R. Colbert, head of the division of architecture, said "Because of the increasing occurrence of problems in planning, zoning and traffic, this lecture should be of great interest to anyone connected with physical environment."

"With the background Springer has, both students, faculty and practicing professionals in architecture, city planning and municipal law are sure to find his lecture worthwhile," he added.

Air Force Sophs Set Contract Quiz

Air Force sophomores are scheduled to take their qualification tests for an advance contract on Sunday and Monday afternoons at 1.

These tests are necessary for an advanced ROTC contract.

Those sophomores whose names begin with the letters A-Q are supposed to report to the chemistry lecture room for their examination.

Those whose names begin with the letters R-Z plus all other persons eligible for the test and who desire an advanced contract are supposed to report to the biological sciences lecture room.

These two dates are the only times this year the tests are scheduled to be given.

Cherry Represents Texas At Tax Meet

Robert G. Cherry of A&M's Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department last week was in Los Angeles, Calif. as Texas' delegate to the National Tax Conference.

Cherry had earlier been appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers to represent Texas at the conference.

State and national tax problems were to be discussed. Other topics were to include property and highway user taxes.

Towery Says Service Is Journalist's Target

By DAVID McLAIN

Today's journalists should try to be a service to mankind by finding the facts and enlightening the public with truth, Kenneth Towery, Pulitzer Prize winning member of Capitol Bureau of Newspapers Associated told delegates to the fourth annual conference of the Texas Junior College Press Association at their banquet Monday night in the Memorial Student Center.

"When you get printer's ink on your fingers, and it permeates into your bloodstream, you're never good for anything else," said Towery to the journalists-to-be.

Towery, while editor of the Cuero Record, was the main factor in the expose of the 1954 land-grab scandal involving Bascom Giles. He delivered his speech to more than 130 delegates, faculty members, journalism majors and members of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity and sponsors of the conference.

The banquet was the climax to the first day of panel discussions and talks by professional men in the field of journalism.

After the invocation by Roy (Connie) Eckard, general chairman of the convention, Donald D. Burchard, head of the A&M Department of Journalism gave a

Malenkov May Oust Bulganin as Head

LONDON—(AP)—Pravda's attack on Yugoslav President Tito is viewed here as new evidence that the Stalinists, probably with army support, are gaining in the Kremlin struggle for power.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper in Moscow, attacked Tito for blaming "Stalinists" in the Kremlin for Russia's troubles in Hungary and Poland. It accused him of trying to split the Communist world.

This could mean Stalinists are shaping the paper's editorial line and thereby signaling their ascendancy.

An unconfirmed report reaching British diplomats supported his theory. The report suggested that Georgi Malenkov may step back as premier, replacing Nikolai Bulganin, and that V. M. Molotov, former foreign minister, may oust Nikita Khrushchev as boss of the Soviet Communist Party. Recent actions show a "velvet glove" line possibly inspired by the Khrushchev faction, as contrasting "iron hand" tactics which perhaps can be ascribed to the Stalinists, believed led by Molotov.

TB Seal Sale Plans To Cover All Dormitories

Christmas Seals to fight tuberculosis will be made available to students at A&M as well as to permanent residents of the county who will receive seals by mail, according to Mrs. John Q. Hays, county chairman.

"In view of the late appearance of the student directory, it was not practical to get letters addressed to each dormitory student," she said, "But packets of envelopes each containing a sheet of seals will be distributed through the dormitory organizations, so that all students may have the opportunity to buy one or more sheets of seals."

"The seals are $1 a sheet, just as they were in 1957," Mrs. Hays said, "but any amount may be contributed."

Students living in College apartments will be mailed individual letters, she said. Their letters, however, will contain only one sheet of seals while those to other residents contain more.

The seal sale committee, Mrs. Hays explained, decided to ask students to buy one sheet of seals in hopes a larger number of students would participate. Of course, anyone wishing to buy more may do so.

In a recent meeting, the Student Senate moved to back the Seal Sale on the campus 100 per cent, according to Larry Piper, president.

The Seal Sale began Thursday and will continue until Christmas. It is the sole means of support for the work of the Brazos County Tuberculosis Association and its state and national affiliates.

Navarro JC Coeds Injured In Bus Wreck

Two Navarro Junior College students, traveling with a group on the way to Texas Junior College Press Conference held here yesterday and today, were injured yesterday morning when their school bus overturned near Hearne.

Injured were Donnie Mills, 18 and Elizabeth Coker, 18. Hearne hospital authorities said that Miss Mills was treated for a broken shoulder and Miss Coker for shock.

The bus, a converted 1955 Chevrolet panel truck, was carrying 10 students when it went out of control on the slippery highway at 8:15 a.m. yesterday and overturned five miles south of Hearne. Driver of the car, Clarence Lucas, a student, suffered cuts and bruises, according to State Highway Patrolman Charlie Hodges.

The group's sponsor, Mrs. R. L. Arnold, was unable to continue the trip, and Kenneth Martin, Director of Guidance at Navarro, took her place as sponsor.

Other passengers in the car, all students, included Richard Grimmett, Aletha Carr, Virginia McCormack, Linda Traweck, Delores Bartula and Jerry Worsham.

Shrimp Bowl Sends Invite To Ag Team

GALVESTON, (AP)—Texas A&M, banned from bowl game competition by an NCAA probation order, yesterday was invited to the Shrimp Bowl game.

The coaches and Aggie players were invited to attend the game Dec. 8 as spectators.

A spokesman for the Shrimp Bowl said, "We feel Texas A&M should have been allowed to play in the Cotton Bowl; we would like this to be a consolation trip for the squad." The Aggies already have clinched a tie for the Southwest Conference championship and would probably get a Cotton Bowl berth if the probation were not in effect.

The Shrimp Bowl game will math the Ft. Hood Tankers against Bolling AFB, Washington, D.C.

Bonfire Center Pole Up; Safety Being Stressed

Work on the bonfire began in earnest as the center pole was raised yesterday morning. Measuring 66 feet in height, the pole consists of two telephone poles spliced together and sunk into the ground about eight feet.

The safety committee, an important factor in every year's bonfire, already has been at work for some time preparing for the actual cutting, hauling and stacking problems.

Posters are being placed in the dormitories carrying safety slogans and safety men have been appointed by each unit to instruct in the safe way of working on the bonfire.

Approximately 70 corps juniors identified by green arm bands will circulate through working areas acting as safety officers. A sound truck, donated by American Laundry in Bryan will stay at the cutting area continuously broadcasting safety warnings and pointers.

In addition to prevention of accidents such as cuts, bruises and broken bones, this year's safety committee is making an effort to eliminate the many cases of poison ivy that accompany each bonfire.

To do this, workers are orienting students on ways to prevent poison ivy and distributing strong laundry soap to use in the showers as a means of preventing poison ivy. If used right away, the soap is supposed to greatly reduce the chances of getting poison ivy, workers said.

Oceanographic Group To Meet Friday Night

Oceanographic Society will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday in room 2-C of the Memorial Student Center. This will be the group's final meeting of the year. Items on the agenda include election of officers and year-end business matters.

Weather Today

Cloudy weather is expected all day, with a cold front moving in about 7:30 this evening, possibly accompanied by rain showers. This morning's temperature at 10:30 was 75 degrees. Yesterday's maximum and minimum readings were 81 and 68 degrees.

Dick Wall, chairman of the safety committee, said.

"If we can save one man a broken leg, the efforts of the bonfire safety committee will be worthwhile. In past years, one out of every 100 cadets has suffered an injury requiring hospital care. Let's try to make this the safest bonfire we have ever had."

Statistics for last year from the College Hospital show that during the bonfire construction period, there were 37 hospital cases and 67 cases of poison ivy.

Safety committee members are

Vet Check Forms Need Signatures

About 40 to 50 veterans have not signed for their October checks, according to the Veteran Advisor's Office.

These checks, normally due to be delivered on the 20th of each month, will be late and will not be delivered at all if the concerned students do not sign the necessary forms.

Missing Records

ALBUQUERQUE—(AP)—After recently examining the income tax returns of two New Mexico ranchers involving a joint venture, a U. S. Internal Revenue Service agent here requested records from the pair to verify the transaction. One of the partners sent the following reply: "Well, I'll tell yuh. We sat on a corral fence and figured the deal out on a piece of board. Then I gave Sam a check for his part and threw the board away."
