Pinky, Wife To Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. (Pinky) Downs Jr., will observe their 40th wedding anniversary Friday. They plan a quiet celebration at their home 301 East Dexter in College Station.

Downs is official greeter for the college and a former member of the board of directors. During the anniversary week the five yell leaders and their roommates have been invited to a turkey dinner at the Downs' home. This is an annual custom at their home.

"This year," says Downs, "we will really talk—and you know what we will talk about—that Turkey Day game in Austin."

A&M is the first land-grant college conducting a regular game warden school.

12th Man Bowl Teams Complete

Rosters for teams to compete in the 12th Man Bowl Dec. 18 are now complete and no further additions will be accepted, according to the Student Senate's 12th Man Bowl committee.

The committee made the announcement after additional students made a bid to be included on one of the teams.

Candidates for players on the teams were submitted Nov. 26, and player selection ended then, the committee said.

This year's teams will be called Army and Air Force. Player candidates came from names submitted by athletic officers from each outfit, dorm and housing area.

One name was submitted from each corps outfit, four from each civilian dormitory, four from project houses and day students and eight were eligible from College View, following rules laid out earlier by the senate.

No other name may be added to the rolls even if someone is hurt or has to quit, the committee said.

About 25 more students yesterday pleaded for a position on the teams to Barney Welsh, intramural sports director.

More persons are expected to turn out for this year's game than ever before. In addition to the spirited game, a crowd-pleasing twirling contest will take the half-time limelight.

Invitations to twirlers from about 26 schools in a 50-mile area surrounding College Station have been sent out, the committee said.

Tickets for the match, a benefit game, are 50 cents. Corps athletic officers, floor and dorm representatives and area representatives are ticket sale agents.
