

Social Whirl

Christmas party of the Civil Engineering Wives Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Baptist Student Center. Highlights of the evening will be games, a skit, refreshments, Christmas carol-singing, and gift exchange.

Each couple attending is asked to bring a 25-cent gift or toy and something for refreshments, which will include dips, Fritos, coffee, punch, pie and candy.

Those planning to attend are asked to make their reservations with Dorothy Zuckero, VI 6-6301, as soon as possible. A nursery will be provided at the First Baptist Church, which has ample facilities for the youngsters. A charge of approximately 75 cents will be made for the nursery care.

Animal Husbandry Wives will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in south solarium of the YMCA for a Christmas social and short business meeting. All wives of animal husbandry majors are invited to attend.

Everyone is asked to bring old clothes for the club's Santa Pal project. Hostesses will be Dolores Williams and Nancy Langford.

Industrial Education Wives Club Christmas party will be held in the home of Mrs. Leslie V. Hawkins, 1004 South Dexter, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Each is to bring a white elephant gift and a contribution for a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Meeting of the Agriculture Economics and Rural Sociology Wives Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the seminar room of the Agriculture Building. The constitution will be submitted to the group for vote.

WSCS Enjoys December Meeting In Holiday Theme

Around a brightly lighted Christmas tree laden with gifts for the children of the Steele Store Community, members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the A&M Methodist Church gathered for their December meeting.

The president, Mrs. W. A. Varvel, opened the meeting with prayer and presided during a brief business meeting. At this time Mrs. R. A. Downward cleverly presented the society's gifts to Mrs. Nolan Vance and Mrs. Robert Monk.

Program was opened by Mrs. W. W. Caudill, secretary of children's work, who explained what the society does for the children of the church. The group then joined in singing Christmas carols led by Mrs. W. D. Hardesty and accompanied by Mrs. Jarvis Miller.

Climax of the evening was the telling of a Christmas story by Mrs. W. C. Adams. She told with artistry the beautiful story, "Mary's Story" by Pauline Moore Machamer.

Needy Youngsters To Be Entertained

Methodist Aggies will enter into the spirit of Christmas with a party tonight for 40 underprivileged children of the College Station-Bryan area.

There will be lots of gifts, games and refreshments for the little ones, as well as a huge Christmas tree decorated by the Wesleyans.

Toby Eady, chairman of the committee planning the party, has announced that a special program will be presented for the youngsters, including carol-singing and a reading of "The Littlest Angel."

The special individual gifts for each child have been donated by Wesley members, while various clubs and businessmen will contribute apples, candy and other refreshments.

The party is to be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the main auditorium of the Wesley foundation.

Mid-Week Church Services Announced

Unitarian Fellowship of Brazos County

The Rev. Philip Schug, minister of the First Unitarian Church of San Antonio, will meet with the Fellowship of Brazos County at 7 p.m. Thursday at the YMCA cabin in Hensel Park. He will discuss the growth and advancement of Unitarianism in Texas.

In addition to serving as minister of the San Antonio church, the Rev. Schug is director of fellowships in the Southwest Conference.

While minister of the Unitarian Church in Urbana, Ill., he secured financial backing for, and helped give direction to, the suit that Mrs. Vashti McCollum carried to the U. S. Supreme Court. That

Yule Story Highlights AAUW Meet

The December meeting of the American Association of University Women gave members an opportunity to enjoy one of the lovely Christmas stories.

Mrs. R. O. Berry, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Frank E. McFarland, who captured the Christmas spirit in the beautifully told story by Elizabeth Hart, "The Husband of Mary." This is an imaginative tale of Joseph, his love for Mary and his struggle to understand her mission.

Mrs. Charles Lewis ably summarized the stimulating AAUW convention address of Jessamyn West, author of "The Friendly Persuasion." Theme of the convention was "We Choose the Future" and of Miss West's address, "The Choice of Greatness."

During the social hour following the program, the hospitality committee served punch and sandwiches at a festively decorated table. Members of the committee were Mrs. J. G. Potter, chairman, Mrs. W. S. McCulley, Mrs. W. L. Hughes and Mrs. R. L. Atkinson.

The branch voted to send a contribution to help the University Women of Hungary.

court's decision is regarded by those who would maintain the separation of church and state as one of the historic landmarks in this controversy.
