

e, history and for material on those biography
Anderson came
Civil War diary
1953.
edited with an
planatory notes,
the Louisiana press in March
n: The Journal
-1868."
publication the celebrated the le of floats de the book and 0,000 were pre-
ceremonies,
Amy Holmes,
hter, was prest copy of the

tion, "Broken-
y favorably re-ers and magation, including Yorker. Now
ting, "Broken-ked with such onfederate wo-
Mary Boykin
rom Dixie."

ost recent work
y is an edition
medical doctor
the Civil War

The work is d as "A Texas
A." This will Anderson's talk
ub.

s. H. E. Hierth, es at Friday's

while the

BATTALION STAFF SHIVERS—Staff members needed a hot story last night when the temperature nosed to 25 degrees. Grasping for the least bit of heat from a cigarette lighter are (front row, left to right) Barry Hart, sports editor; Dave McReynolds, managing editor; Don Weber, Aggieland business manager; Joe Tindel, Jim Neighbors and Leland Boyd, news editors. Back row, left to right are Welton Jones, city editor and Bennie E. (Bud) Fichte, editor of the Agriculturist. —(Photo by John West).

Hometown Club Presidents Discuss High School Day

Hometown club presidents met Monday afternoon to discuss the role of hometown clubs in the High School Day operation in the Office of Student Activities.

C. G. (Spike) White, director of Recreation and Entertainment, said a large group attended. He urged presidents who did not attend to stop by the office and get forms to sign up high school seniors who plan to attend the High School Day program.

White outlined procedure to follow in recruiting for the program. Hometown club presidents should meet with local former students club presidents and with them determine how and when transportation for high school seniors to and from College Station will be provided.

Members of hometown clubs should invite high school seniors from hometowns to come to High School Day here March 2. He recommends inviting be done by calling a meeting at the local high school of seniors interested in A&M. If the local principal does not agree he recommends another approach.

White says a list of high school seniors who plan to attend the High School Day program should be prepared in triplicate by hometown club presidents and turned in to the Department of Student Activities not later than Feb. 9. Forms are available at Student Activities.

Student Activities will send a personal letter to each senior explaining what will happen at the program. This letter also will tell seniors the names of former students club presidents to contact if they need transportation.

Student Activities also will send a list of seniors attending to the local former students club president.

Hometown club presidents and former students giving rides should meet and agree on time and place the seniors meet on the campus.

Hometown club presidents or representatives should make arrangements for housing seniors who plan to stay overnight. Hometown club members should furnish sheets and blankets for rooms that are unoccupied and make arrangements for use of beds belonging to friends who will be off the campus that day. An empty room list may be obtained at the Housing Office.

A program, sponsored by Student Activities, will be given at Guion Hall at 8 a.m. March 2. The program will include entertainment, get acquainted talks and guided tours of the campus. The Intercouncil Committee will sponsor the tours.

The "T" Association will admit all seniors to Sports Day events free of charge.

250 Graduates Get Sheepskins In Guion Friday

Texas A&M College gives about 250 degrees Saturday to graduates at Commencement Exercises in Guion Hall at 10 a.m.

Dr. M. Norvell Young of the Church of Christ in Lubbock will give the combined baccalaureate and commencement address.

Maj. Gen. Gabriel P. Disoway, commander flying training, U. S. Air Force, Waco, will deliver the commissioning address and present 20 air force cadets with reserve commissions at 2 p.m. in Guion Hall.

Brig. Gen. David W. Traub, artillery commander, Fourth Armored Division, Fort Hood, will give commissions to about 40 army cadets.

150 To Attend Building Course

W. S. Allen, chairman of the Farm Structures Short Course on Grain, Drying, and Storage which will be held here Jan. 31-Feb. 1, expects an attendance of 150 when the short course begins.

Meetings for the short course will be in the Ballroom of the Memorial Student Center.

Registration will take place in the Serpentine Lounge on the second floor of the MSC beginning at 8:30 a. m. Thursday, Jan. 31. There is a registration fee of $5.00.

Schulze Elected R&F President

New officers for the Range and Forestry Club are Curtis Schulze of Mason, president; Charles Mickleson of Clifton, vice-president; Henry Pearson of Temple, reporter and social chairman; Charles Richards of Bryan, social secretary and Bob S. Sims of Moody, secretary-treasurer.

Architect Editor To Speak Tonight

Douglas Haskell, editor of Architectural Forum, will speak at 8 p.m. tonight in the lecture room of the Biological Sciences Building.

Haskell is a guest lecturer in a series sponsored by the Division of Architecture.

He received his A.B. degree in 1923 from Oberlin, Columbus, Ohio. He has traveled all over the globe making visits in 15 foreign countries.

Haskell joined Architectural Forum in 1949. Before taking over the editorship he was Senior Associate Editor of the Architectural Record.

Club Reservations Available In MSC

Student organizations and clubs wishing to meet in the Memorial Student Center during the spring semester should apply for meeting room reservations, according to Mrs. Ann Keel, social director.

Applications must be made beginning at 8 a. m. Friday. Forms are available at the Social and Educational Department of the MSC.

Weather Today

Forecast for the College Station area calls for partly cloudy skies and fresh northerly winds. A chilly 20 degrees was the low last night, with the high yesterday only 35. At 10:30 this morning the thermometer stood at 30 degrees.

Shore Would Appreciate A Chess Man

Is there any ole, faculty advisor with nothing to do nights? If there is then run to the nearest telephone and call Hugh Wharton or the directorate office in the Memorial Student Center and apply for the advisorship of the Memorial Student Center Chess Committee.

Guillermo Price, chairman of the Chess Committee said that he would take anyone whether an adult in the community, a faculty member or a staff member.

Price said that the Chess Committee program is open to all Aggies, staff or faculty members, and adults in the community who are interested in playing chess and in chess tournaments with the group. Anyone interested in joining the committee is urged to contact Hugh Wharton or leave their application in the directorate office in the MSC.

Lab Man To Talk To Chem Society

Dr. Clair J. Collins, of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, is scheduled to speak to local members of the American Chemical Society Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 7:45 p.m. in the Chemistry Building Lecture room.

Speaking on "Carbon-14 and Organic Chemistry," Collins has written about 30 articles about the isotope. He is a member of the ACS, Sigma Xi and Phi Lambda Upsilon. He received his Ph.D. degree from Northwestern University in 1944.

An informal dinner will be given for Collins by local society members and their wives in the Memorial Student Center before the meeting.

Exam Schedule

Schedule for final examinations which begin Saturday afternoon is as follows:

Saturday	1-4 p.m.	Classes Meeting MWF at 3
Sunday	8-11 a.m.	Classes Meeting MWF at 8
	1-4 p.m.	Classes Meeting TTS at 8
Tuesday	8-11 a.m.	Classes Meeting MWF at 9
	1-4 p.m.	Classes Meeting MWF at 1
Wednesday	8-11 a.m.	Classes Meeting MWF at 10
	1-4 p.m.	Classes Meeting TTh at 1
Thursday	8-11 a.m.	Classes Meeting TTS at 10
	1-4 p.m.	Classes Meeting MWF at 2
Friday	8-11 a.m.	Classes Meeting MWF at 11
	1-4 p.m.	Classes Meeting TTS at 11
Saturday	8-11 a.m.	Classes Meeting TTS at 9
	1-4 p.m.	Classes Meeting TTh at 2

Four Sophomores Suspended for Hazing

Jurors Find Body's Story Inconsistent

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—There seem to be "glaring inconsistencies" in Marie (The Body) McDonald's film and verbal accounts of being kidnaped, a spokesman said after the county grand jury took up the case today.

The jury saw a 20-minute police film of the blonde beauty acting out her story of her kidnaping by two men from her Encino home the night of Jan. 3.

Then they saw a three-minute film interview with the actress by a local TV newscaster, George Putnam. And they heard a police sergeant read a 27-page statement Marie made to detectives at an Indianapolis hospital.

She was taken there, bruised and hysterical, after a truck driver found her on the desert 24 hours after she disappeared.

The grand jury spokesman, who declined to be identified by name, said:

"The films are mutually inconsistent, and the statements in the films and the re-enactment in the films are inconsistent with themselves.

"I assume that if this thing happened it was a nerve-racking experience, and whether the inconsistencies were due to that I don't know."

Marie is scheduled to appear before the grand jurors tomorrow.

So are 14 other persons, including English Actor Michael Wilding, her current escort; shoe magnate Harry Karl, her former husband; Mrs. Mary Tuboni, her mother; Harold Plant, her business manager, and movie columnist Harrison Carroll.

Her mother and Karl said they received phone calls from an apparent kidnaper shortly after she had disappeared. The voice was described as that of a nervous young man.

During her disappearance, Marie made phone calls to Carroll, Wilding and Plant.

22 Cadets Draw Varied Sentences

Twenty-two members of "C" Infantry yesterday received sentences ranging from indefinite suspension to official reprimands, according to Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant.

Four sophomores were indefinitely suspended effective immediately with the sentence suspended long enough for them to finish the present semester.

In addition they were reduced to the rank of private, moved out of their company and into dorm 2 with all other cadet dorms placed "off limits" to them.

They were convicted on three counts of article 12 of the Articles of the Cadet Corps. Col. Davis said their charges involved use of a broom in hazing, personal service and unauthorized physical exercise.

Two sophomores plus four freshmen were suspended effective immediately until June 1, 1957 with the suspension being suspended pending good behavior.

Ozark Dog Treks West To California

ROSEVILLE, Calif., (AP)—Ring was on his way home today to Centerville, Ark.

The husky black, brown and white dog, of uncertain ancestry, showed up several weeks ago at nearby Antelope and "adopted" Mr. and Mrs. John Herman.

The dog's collar tag was issued by the Arkansas State Fish and Game Commission. The commission reported the tag had been issued to John Nail of Centerville.

Nail informed the Hermans Ring was missing and enclosed a photograph of the dog. Nobody knew how Ring made the 1,700-mile trek from Arkansas to California.

The Hermans complied with Nail's request to return Ring by Railway Express, collect. The bill was $48.95.

Three Die In Pump Station Explosion

LIBERAL, Kan., (AP)—An explosion wrecked a Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. compressor station near here yesterday killing three men and hindering movement of gas to the Great Lakes area.

Police said 12 men were injured and an undetermined number were missing.

Panhandle ordered industrial customers in six states to stop using gas. It also stopped deliveries to three distributors that have other sources of supply. The three were not named. The company serves distributors in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

All six states are in the grip of a cold wave. A company spokesman said some residential gas users would be affected, but it was not determined how many.

The compressor station is located 14 miles northeast of this town in extreme southwestern Kansas. It is a main gas-gathering facility. Gas drawn from fields in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas is compressed there for transmission east through 24-inch and 26-inch trunk lines.

Gas leaking from a broken pipe in the engine room was ignited, according to F. J. McElhatton of Kansas City, general manager of gathering and transmission.

A roaring fire followed the explosion.

Mrs. Emalita Terry

Art Director Opens Way For Culture On Campus

By WELTON JONES

If students at Texas A&M lack culture, as some people believe, it is in spite of the efforts of a diminutive, brown-haired artist from Brownwood.

"Sometime when I get real tired and wonder if the work is worth it, I go down to the lobby and watch the students looking at our latest exhibits," Mrs. Emalita Newton Terry, art director for the Memorial Student Center said.

"It's worth everything to hear one bald-headed freshman say 'I never thought much about paintings but I like these.'"

Mrs. Terry had never had many thoughts about A&M, one way or the other, when she began studying art with the famous Spanish artist, Xavier Gonzalez, at age 13.

She knew little more about the school a few years later when she got her degree from Brownwood High School. She had been busy during high school, for at the same time, she received a degree in art from Howard Payne College there.

"It really wasn't as special as it sounds," she says. "I just studied there during the summers and after school. Art was a three year course, and they gave me a degree when I finished high school."

After a year's study under nationally famous artists, she returned to Howard Payne and took two more years of academic work, studying art in the summer. She met her future husband, a construction engineer, in Austin. They were married in 1942 and he served in the armored division for 39 months during World War II.

After the war, Ralph Terry decided to return to school for a master's degree in Rural Sociology. In September of 1948, the Terrys came to A&M.

"I hadn't touched a paintbrush or pencil for eight years," she recalls, "but an Aggie from Brownwood met me and asked me to give him and two of his buddies some lessons."

At that time, freshman students still lived off the campus at the "annex", so the little group found an empty room in the fourth floor of Bizzell Hall to move into when winter forced them indoors.

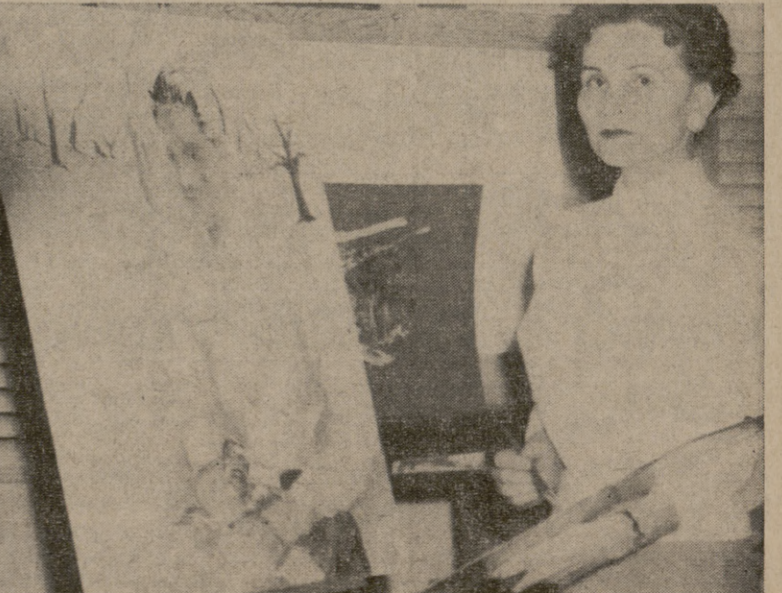

There, with aid of a broken-down drawing bench, three cast-off stools, tables constructed of boards and coke cases and some of Mrs. Terry's own personal equipment, A&M's first art studio was born.

"We stayed there the rest of the year, not making much noise and learning together," she remembers. "By that summer we had 17 students and staff members coming in."

At this same time, Wayne Stark, manager of the new student center being built on the campus, got word of the little group. He had been hunting someone to help with the art classes proposed for the center, and he hired Mrs. Terry on the spot. Together, they formed the first MSC Group, the Art Group. They moved into the MSC the next fall.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Terry was beginning to enter contests again, and in 1951 an oil painting entitled "Lemon and Three Eggs" was selected to tour in a traveling show. During the next three years (See ART DIRECTOR, Page 2)

Mrs. Emalita Newton Terry