Look Ahead

More than one decision was made yesterday in the voting on the proposed compulsory insurance program. One of these was that students were not in favor of the one plan that was offered to them.

On the other hand, they plainly showed their interest in the subject of student insurance by their vote participa-The election, with its 2,802 votes, will probably be tion. known as one of the heaviest voting figures in history of A&M student elections.

Another figure supporting the student interest in the idea of insurance is the slim margin of 510 votes.

These figures show the student body is interested in insurance and their attentiveness to the actions of the Sen-

This too is a healthy sign because Senate action deserves attention. Yesterday's issue was the biggest step taken by the Student Senate in the last four years. They broke the tradition of confining their decisions to where Reveille would stay and who would care for her.

Because of their initiative, they have gained favor and strength.

To get an accurate picture of what students want in the form of insurance will take much work but will guarantee the highest possible degree of satisfaction for all.

Why not give widespread notice that bids and proposals for student insurance policies will be accepted? Make each company first clear its contract, in the complete form, with the state insurance commission as is the usual form.

Then when these policies have been submitted, give them to a committee composed mainly of students with a few faculty members. Include one of the insurance professors on the committee

This committee could study all of the submitted bids and weed out the ones definitely not in the competition either because of too narrow limitations or too high cost. Present the best few, with approval of entire Senate, to the student body

After the best possible have been selected, post their contracts around the campus so students may study them and decide for themselves.

As for the ballots, they may be long and complicated, but they could present short summaries of the good and bad points of each of the policies presented for their vote.

To make the voting as complete a voicing of student opinion as possible, the ballot should include a phrase giving by Dr. Robert I. possible in choosing exactly what they wanted. This is the function of all governing bodies, not just to sell them one idea.

Unfortunately, the issue in yesterday's voting created much bitterness and even reached the name calling stage with the names ranging from "the Senate is crazy" to "the Battalion prints lies.

Since neither of these is intentionally true, nothing remains but to pick up the beginning idea of a good student insurance program and work ahead from there.

1. Big Record. A new 12-inch, 331/3 RPM record contains, for the first time, 18 songs of the Pogo. The words are by Walt Kelly, most of the music by Norman Monath. The songs vary in mood from the rousing Go Go Pogo to the haunting Whence that Wince and the world-weary Parsnoops. Originally scored for lute, harp, comb-with-tissuepaper and nightingale, they are here presented in brilliant orchestral arrangements. The vocal parts are performed by an almost uncompromising (they did let Kelly sing three of the songs) group of Pogo Singers. The words are austerely printed, for serious students who wish to employ a libretto, in a leaflet enclosed with the record. Ask your book or record dealer for the 12-inch Songs of the Pogo. $4.95.

2. Big Little Record. For cautious people who prefer to buy one movement of a symphony at a time, for people in small rooms, and for small people with little carrying capacity, we have made a SONGS OF THE POGO sampler (78 or 45 RPM) containing 3 of the songs from the big record. It costs 49¢. People who buy this record and like it are eligible to buy the big record too.

3. Big Book. Here done up in a beautifully shiny hard binding are the words and music to all the SONGS OF THE POGO -30 of them, suitable for as many occasions: birthdays, medical check-ups, elevator rides, valentines, songs-to-cramfor-midyears-by, etc. With drawings in color as well as authentic sauce material by Walt Kelly. Ask for the Songs OF THE POGO song book. $3.95.
