

Women Engineers Wanted By Industry, Says Pioneer In Aircraft Corporation

WINDSOR LOCKS, Conn. (AP) College girls in search of ca-Wanted: more women engin- reers would do well to consider the eers. slide-rule, says Rose Worobel, a pioneer of 14 years standing in the Hamilton Standard Division of United Aircraft Corp. here.

It was a rough road in the beginning, says Rose, but today's girl engineers will find the way smoothed for them with a prospect of equal opportunities with men.

"When women first went into industry as engineers, we had to do a better job than the men and even cater to them a bit," says Rose. "Now women are accepted as a matter of course, and the future holds great opportunities."

Miss Worobel started her engineering career in 1943, after graduation from Bates College and a six-month course at Penn State University. At this time women were getting their first chance to break into the engineering ranks, because of the shortage of male engineers during the war.

She now holds the important post of technical supervisor, coordinating work and conducting performance calculations on propellers, as well as working on designs for propeller blades. She works closely with some 50 men engineers daily on ideas for equipment for tomorrow's airplanes.

Businesswoman Still Active At 78

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) "Retire? Pooh!"

So says Mrs. Amelia Kelley, Rhode Island's oldest active woman insurance agent who's still so busy after working 61 years that even now, at 78, she has no thought of retiring.

It was Aug. 12, 1895, that she went to work in an insurance and real estate office in the same building where present office is located.

White-haired, neatly groomed and brisk, Mrs. Kelley still drives a car. Rhode Island requires road tests for all persons over 75. She easily passed her latest test in September.

By GEORGIA BENSON

(Georgia and William D. "Doc" Benson are another of College View's working wife-student husband teams. Georgia has been employed in the Student Affairs Office since June 1955, and Doc is entering the "home stretch" toward getting a degree in poultry science. He'll graduate in January 1958.

(There's one little Benson, Kenneth, who's two and a half. When vacation times roll around, the Bensons usually head for Aransas Pass, which they claim as home.)

HAMBURGER SAUCE

Brown onions and hamburger in a skillet for a few minutes, stirring with a fork to break meat into bits. Add remaining ingredients and simmer gently for 45 minutes. (This sauce is excellent on spaghetti, rice, potatoes or frankfurters.)

- 3 small onions, chopped
- 2 teaspoons Gebhardt's chili powder
- 1 pound hamburger
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- 2 teaspoons salt

TUNA NOODLE CASSEROLE

Cook noodles in boiling, salted water. Saute onion in butter until a light brown. Place half of the noodles in casserole and spread with layer of onion slices, tuna fish and mushroom soup. Top with remainder of noodles, sprinkle with pepper and thyme, and cover with chips. Bake in 325-degree oven about 30 minutes until thick and brown.

- 1 can tuna fish
- 1 cup soft shortening
- 1 pound noodles
- pinch of thyme
- 1 small onion, sliced thin
- 1 small package potato chips, crushed
- 1 can mushroom soup

CHERRY PIE

- 1 can (20 ounces) pitted sour cherries (2 1/2 cups)
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- 4 tablespoons flour (or 2 tablespoons cornstarch)
- 1 double crust pastry recipe

Heat oven to 425 degrees (hot). Drain cherries. Combine sugar and flour in saucepan; stir in cherry juice; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and boils. Remove from heat. Add cherries, butter and almond extract.

Pour into pastry-lined 9-inch pie pan. Cover with top crust; cut slits for steam to escape. Make high fluted rim. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350 degrees, and continue baking 30 to 35 minutes—until nicely browned and juice begins to bubble through slits in crust. Six to 8 servings.

BUTTERSCOTCH DROP COOKIES

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Sift flour once before measuring. Grease cookie sheets. Sift together:

- 3 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 cup soft shortening (part butter or margarine)
- 2 cups brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 minutes. Add:
- 1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk
- 2 teaspoons vanilla

Combine in mixing bowl: Add sifted flour mixture. Beat until well blended—about 3 minutes. Chill dough 1 hour or more. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls 2 inches apart on cookie sheet. Top each with a whole pecan or candied cherry, if desired. Bake 8 to 10 minutes—just until firm and brown around edges.
