

Letters to the Editor

(Ed Note: The following was inadvertently left out of the letter to the editor written by Philip R. Anderson that appeared in yesterday's Battalion. These paragraphs refer to his statements regarding the points of his conclusion.)

What then happens to the poor bugger that is working his way through college and is not an especially bright student? Will his Saturday Bull Ring and 4 point C.Q. help him?

Will those "sessions" of "brainwashing" (used for lack of another decent word) in upperclassmen's rooms help his grades any?

This together with the fact that the poor fellow works during his spare time, doesn't give him much time to get in the extra study he needs and get his share of sack at the same time. Again, what happens to the veteran and the married student? Has Aggie land no place for them too?

Talking about guts, does hazing a freshman or being hazed by an upperclassman put the stamp of a man with guts on an Aggie? I wonder how many men in the Corps would talk as loud if they were stuck under fire, tortured in a prison camp, or had the real hard life of a soldier.

Aggie Pictures Set For Civilian Dorms

Civilian dormitory pictures for the Aggie land will be taken starting Monday to the following schedule:

- March 11, 5:00 p. m. Dorm 16,
- 5:15 p. m. Law Hall, 5:30 p. m. Puryear Hall.
- March 13, 6:00 p. m. Hart Hall.
- March 14, 5:15 p. m. Leggett Hall.

Grad Announcers Ordering Closes

Wednesday is the last day for seniors to order graduation announcements. Orders may be placed at the office of Student Activities on the second floor of the YMCA.

The announcements come in three styles, leather 75 cents, cardboard 40 cents, and French fold 10 cents. Personal cards must be ordered in groups of 100.

I will be so bold at this moment to say that you won't find more or less guts in the Corps as you will among the non-regs.

Now, I have been in the Corps and have lived as a civilian at A&M and have given my choice. I would be back in the Corps were it not for my grades but I can see advantages on both sides and have the temerity to say I can see the virtues of both sides of the argument from an adult's point of view.

Social Whirl

Industrial Engineering Wives will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in room 2-D of the Memorial Student Center for the purpose of making final plans for the couples social to be held March 16. All I.E. wives, whether members or not, are urged to attend.

Mrs. W. W. Armistead entertained the freshmen wives of the AYMA Auxiliary for their March meeting Monday at her home, 1211 Taurus.

The Little Sprouts, Junior A&M Garden Club, will meet at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at the YMCA. Mrs. Edward Madley, president of the A&M Garden Club, will talk on design in flower arrangement and planning arrangements for the flower show.

Dames Club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the YMCA. The program will be a talk on "Selection of China, Sterling and Crystal" by Mrs. Haswell of Haswell's in Bryan.

Mrs. Caldwell of Caldwell's Jewelers gave a program on silver, crystal and china Wednesday evening for the Civil Engineering Wives Club. Hostesses were Helen Loyd and JoAnn Beckner. Shirley Purcell was elected to represent the club at the Cotton Pageant.

Phi Eta Sigma To Initiate Eighty Freshmen Tuesday

Eighty freshmen will be initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman honor society, Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.

These students, by virtue of their scholastic rating, leadership and character were chosen on the basis of grade point ratios during the fall semester.

A g.p.r. of 2.5 or better is the minimum requirement for admission into the A&M chapter.

The nationwide organization began 34 years ago on the campus of the University of Illinois to give freshmen with the ability, energy and initiative an opportunity to achieve academic honor while still freshmen.

The idea quickly spread and today 100 colleges across the nation have chapters.

Formal initiation of the new members will be in the Birch and Assembly Rooms of the MSC.

Freshmen qualifying for initiation are as follows:

- Irregular member — Vigneault, Richard E.
- Regular members—Badough, K. R.; Barlow, James B.; Bayley, Clyde C. Campus to Career

An executive of the Warner & Swasey Co., leading manufacturers of machine tools, textile machinery, earth-moving equipment, and other precision machinery, will visit Texas A&M on March 14th to interview high caliber men with technical backgrounds or mechanical interests who are looking for a career in research, development, engineering, sales, manufacturing, or finance.

This medium sized company offers either immediate productive employment or programs planned to prepare you rapidly for positions of responsibility in line with your background, training, and objectives.

See your placement director to arrange an interview, or write direct to: C. W. Ufford, Director of Industrial Relations,

FASTER, FASTER!
Pick up your paper every morning and what do you read? "CRISIS IN HIGHER EDUCATION." That's what you read. "ENROLLMENT SPIRALING UPWARD - DESPERATE NEED FOR MORE CLASSROOMS, MORE TEACHERS." But classrooms, alas, do not spring up like mushrooms, nor teachers like mayflies. So what must we do while we build more classrooms, train more teachers? We must get better use out of the classrooms and teachers we now have. That's what we must do.

This column, normally a vehicle of good-humored foolery, of joy that wrinkled care derides, of laughter holding both his sides, will today forsake levity to examine the crisis in higher education. My sponsors, the makers of Philip Morris Cigarettes, as bonnie a bunch of tycoons as you will see in a month of Sundays, have given cheerful consent to this departure. Oh, splendid chaps they are, the makers of Philip Morris! Oh, darlin' types they are, fond of home, mother, porridge, the Constitution, and country fiddling! Twinkly and engaging they are, jaunty and sociable, roguish and winsome, as full of joy, as packed with pleasure, as brimming with natural goodness, as loaded with felicity as the cigarettes they bring you in two convenient sizes - regular in the handy snap-open pack, and new long-size in a crushproof flip-top box - both available at moderate cost from your favorite tobacconist. Light one now. Light either end. No filter cigarette can make that statement.

GOOD MORNING GOOD MORNING
Teach all language courses in English!

Let us then, with the gracious connivance of the makers of Philip Morris - Oh, splendid chaps! Oh, gracious connivers! - take up the terribly vexing question of how we can turn out more graduates with campus facilities as they now exist.

The answer can be given in one word: speedup! Speed up the educational process. Streamline courses. Eliminate frills. Sharpen. Shorten. Quicken.

Following is a list of courses with suggested methods to speed up each one.

- PHYSICS - Eliminate slow neutrons.
- PSYCH LAB - Tilt the mazes downhill. The white mice will run much faster.
- ENGINEERING - Make slide rules half as long.
- MUSIC - Change all tempo to allegro. (A collateral benefit to be gained from this suggestion is that once you speed up waltz time, campus proms will all be over by 10 p.m. With students going home so early, romance will languish and marriage counselors can be transferred to the buildings and grounds department. Also, housing now used for married students can be returned to the school of animal husbandry.)

ALGEBRA - If "x" always equals 24, much time-consuming computation can be eliminated.

LANGUAGES - Teach all language courses in English.

DENTISTRY - Skip baby teeth. They fall out anyhow.

POETRY - Amalgamate the classics. Like this:

Hail to thee, blithe spirit
Shoot if you must this old gray head
You ain't nothin' but a hound dog
Smiling the boy fell dead.

You see how simple it is? Perhaps you have some speedup ideas of your own. If so, I'll thank you to keep them to yourselves.

The makers of Philip Morris have no interest in any speedup. We age our fine tobacco slow and easy. And that's the way it smokes - slow and easy - a natural smoke.
