Cadets Lose 6-4,
7-5, To Champs

By BARRY HART

A&M's baseball team proved they show no favoritism about giving ball games away this year as they handed the Southwest defending champion TCU Horned Frogs a pair of victories on a silver platter Friday and Saturday.

Becoming increasingly philanthropic, the Aggies of Coach Beau Bell blew their fourth of five league contests and any hope they might have had for another conference title.

The Frogs put together nine runs in two seventh innings to erase Aggie leads and maintain their unmarred league record. TCU now stands alone atop the SWC with a 5-0 record, while A&M owns a poor, 1-4 mark.

The scores, although not important, were 6-4 Friday and 7-5 Saturday. The Aggies banded out 12 hits in each game, pulling their team batting average to .254, while the Froggies got eight and nine, respectively, for the weekend.

Breazing along with a comparatively safe, 4-1, lead, A&M's sophomore hurler, Donnie Hullum, tired in the seventh and TCU scored five times, three on Joe Selman's homer. Bell had had Captain Dick Munday warming up in the bullpen, but didn't get him into the game until the eighth, too late.

Saturday's contest was almost identical, with the Maroon leading, 4-3, going into the fatal seventh. Toby Newton, the starter, had been relieved for a pinch hitter in the sixth and Munday was on the mound for A&M.

The Aggie hurler got one out, then walked Charles Quick and Carl Warwick singled him to second. Hunter Enis drove out a base knock, too, but Warwick was picked off second after taking too big a turn, and there were two outs.

Jim Shofner popped to short, but Wayne Balke dropped the wind-

AGGIE THIRDBASEMAN — Wendell Reed, sophomore from Jefferson, who finds his .303 batting average third among A&M batsmen.

Aggies' Nichols Captures
Bay City Invitational Title

A&M's Bobby Nichols captured the sixth annual Bay City Country Club invitational golf tournament Sunday with a 36-hole total of 139.

Nichols, the Southwest Conference defending medalist champ, shot a six-under-par 66 to go with his first round 73.

Galveston's John Garrison, who was tied with Nichols after Saturday's play, tied Richard Dickson and Jackie Cupit of the University of Houston and Kirby Attwell, University of Texas, for second with 140's.

In third place with 141's were Frank Wharton and Jim Hiskey of the Cougars. Hiskey was medalist with a 69.

Nichols, the Kentucky junior, leads his A&M teammates against the Lamar Tech Cardinals in Beaumont Wednesday.
