

Handball Clinic Here Tonite

Dick Roberson, national collegiate director of handball and coach of handball at the University of Texas, will give a clinic on the sport tonight at 7 in room 282 of White Coliseum.

Roberson will be the guest of the A&M Handball Club and will show films of the 1956 singles finals of the national handball tournament.

All interested in handball are invited, according to club president, John Dillard.

CS Little League Registration Sat.

Saturday between 10 and 12 a.m. is the last time for participants to register for the 1957 edition of the College Station Little League.

All boys who did not play last season must bring their birth certificates and each potential little leaguer must be accompanied by one parent.

At 1 p.m. Saturday all little leaguers and their fathers will meet at the park to get it in shape for the coming season.

A&M Cinder Men Try SMU, Rice in Dallas

After a two-week layoff, A&M's thinclads journey to Dallas tomorrow to dual with SMU and Rice as both varsities and frosh get together.

The Aggies were idle last weekend due to the ban on all NCAA meets and could not participate in the Texas Relays.

In the Owls and Mustangs the Cadets find their two top rivals for the Southwest Conference runner-up position. Talent-heavy Texas has long been spotted as the class of the league.

This will be the first meeting between A&M and the Ponies in 1957, but the Aggies have twice taken the measure of the Owls and are in the midst of a three-meet winning streak. The last team of Coach Frank G. (Colonel Andy) Anderson, after a dismal start, has downed Rice in a dual affair, the Owls and LSU in a triangular and tied the University of Houston in their last outing.

The A&M Fish are 1-1 on the season, having lost to the Slimes but beating the Houston Kittens. This will be their last meet until the SWC get-together in Austin May 10-11.

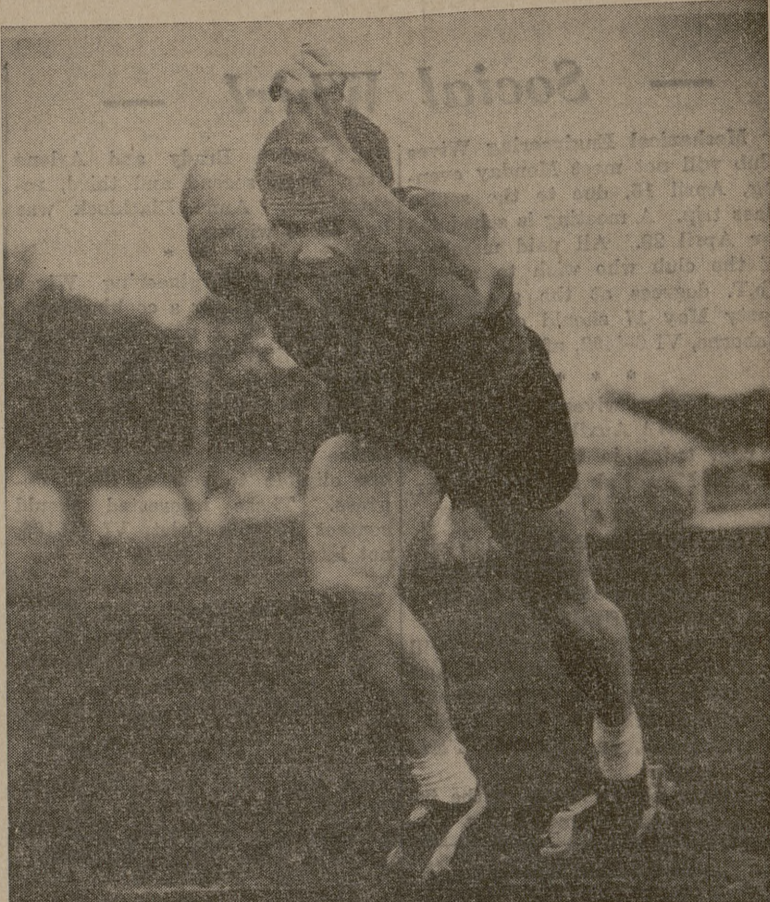

The Maroon will counter the running of Rice and SMU with the league's top field men. Expected to carry much of the A&M load are weightmen Herman Johnson in the shot put and discus, Lee Newman, discus, and Fred Hartman, javelin, while pole vaulters Winton Thomas and James Clark should continue their monopoly with the long sticks. Thomas is undefeated this season and has recorded a 13-10 leap.

Points in running events should come from quartermilers Ed Bussa, Johnny Roberts, Robert McKnight and Andy Erisman, who will team up for the mile relay, and distance men Paul Harrington and Fidel Rul.

Fritzie Connally, SWC high-jump champ in 1955, will face his toughest opposition of the year in SMU's Don Stewart, who leaped 6-8 3/8 last Saturday at Austin and holds the nation's freshman record of 6-10 1/2.

The Owls' best bets for firsts will be defending conference champs Roy Thompson, in the 220-yard low hurdles, and Ed Keasler, in the javelin. Wes Hight, in the 120-yard high, and Max Royalty, in the 880, will be probable favorites.

CADET QUARTERMILER—Baytown's Ed Bussa who will combine with Andy Erisman, Robert McKnight and Johnny Roberts in the mile relay tomorrow against Rice, and SMU in Dallas. Bussa has taken second in the 440-yard dash in the last two meets and will be one of the favorites in Friday's triangular.
