Secretaries Week Activities To Include School Visitation

As part of the local observance of Secretaries Week, members of the Bryan-College Station Chapter of the National Secretaries Association will visit local business and high schools to explain to students the role of today's secretary. The week April 21-27 has been proclaimed Secretaries Week in the local area by Mayors B. F. Vance and Ernest Langford of Bryan and College Station. Today has been set aside specifically as Secretaries Day.

In addition to Secretaries Week activities, NSA sponsors study courses, seminars and the CPS program, whereby a secretary qualifying for and passing a two-day examination becomes a certified professional secretary.

The Bryan-College Station Chapter presents a study course program the fourth Tuesday evening of each month. All interested secretaries may contact Mrs. Kelly Fracklow or Miss Alma Kasner. Mrs. Clyde Bailey is chairman for local Secretaries Week activities.

Study Clubbers Enjoy Program Of Texas Lore

A Texas Day program by Mrs. Tom King was enjoyed by Campus Study Club members at their meeting last week.

Mrs. King gave readings from Boyce House's new book, "The Texas Treasure Chest," a compilation of stories of Texas. She told of the unique character of the cowboys and of the romantic story of the longhorns and their contribution to the building of the West.

During the business meeting, the club voted to send Mrs. W. S. Allen, incoming president, as delegate to the state meeting of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Waco May 6-9.

SPORTS SLANTS

swimming will be continued by the participants after graduation. The major sports such as football, basketball, baseball and track will see very few athletes continuing after school days and even fewer as professionals. This is true of boxing and wrestling, but that is no reason to deprive the few men who love physical contact enough to want to box from participating.

Granted that few of the Texas colleges have boxing teams or clubs, but is that any reason why we shouldn't have one? Of course not! There is no intercollegiate fencing, ping pong, horseshoes or wrestling, either, but that doesn't keep A&M from recognizing those sports and it shouldn't keep boxing out of the picture, either.

Coached by Andy York, the Aggie fighters have not sustained anything more than a minor injury in the three years they have been in existence. The supervision has been more than sufficient even though the facilities are not up to par, but very few are for any sport at A&M. The boxers have been working out in DeWare Field House and the Little Gym in the past and seem to have been getting along adequately there. More injuries have been sustained in intramural sports, even in percentage participating, than in boxing on the campus. This point is not much of an argument.

If the Aggie Boxing Club has members that are not students at the college, Penberthy's last reason is the only one worth mention, but a simple rule limiting participation to A&M students would quickly remedy the situation.
