

Tigers Face Wildcats

Elgin Has Margin In Regional Series

By MAURICE OLIAN

Alton Arnold goes to the mound for the A&M Consolidated Tigers again tonight against the Elgin Wildcats, weather permitting, in Elgin as the Tigers fight desperately for survival in their best-of-three games regional series.

Arnold must be wondering what he has to do to win a game, after Monday night's tilt at Travis Park. In that scrap, he struck out 27 batters in 10 innings of brilliant pitching, but the Tigers nevertheless bowed to Elgin 3-2 in 11 frames, giving the Wildcats a one game margin in their series.

If the Tigers win the second game of the play-off, scheduled to begin at 7:45 tonight, Coach Edsel Jones has indicated he will send Edgar Feldman to the hill in the deciding fracas of the series. The third game, if needed, will immediately follow the 7:45 melee tonight as the second half of a twin-bill.

Provided the recent heavy rains which have fallen upon Elgin do not allow the Tigers and Wildcats to see action tonight, they will attempt to play their game, or games, tomorrow night.

Although Arnold allowed the Wildcats but one base hit Monday night as he handled them masterfully with his baffling curve, the Bengals continued their woeful ways at the plate, collecting a total of only four safeties, none of which came off the relief slants of Jimmy Fisher right-handed fast-baller who twirled the final 4 2/3 innings.

It was Fisher who thwarted the Tigers' bid for victory in the bottom half of the final regulation inning, the seventh. Arnold and John Wayne Todd opened the round with singles, and Bobby Ross sacrificed them to third and second, respectively. John Martinez was intentionally walked to load the bases with one out. Fisher was summoned to the scene and escaped without a run being scored by the Tigers.

CHS jumped into a 1-0 lead in the third frame on two Wildcat miscues. After the visitors had tallied twice in the top of the fourth on a walk, two Tiger er-

Sox Blank Senators In LL Season Opener

The College Station Little League, bigger than ever, began its fourth season Monday afternoon as the Red Sox blanked the Senators, 11-0.

Tuesday, the American Minor League South started, with the Indians trouncing the Dodgers, 17-8, and the loop's third group of teams, the Minor League "B" clubs, opened their schedule with a double-header yesterday.

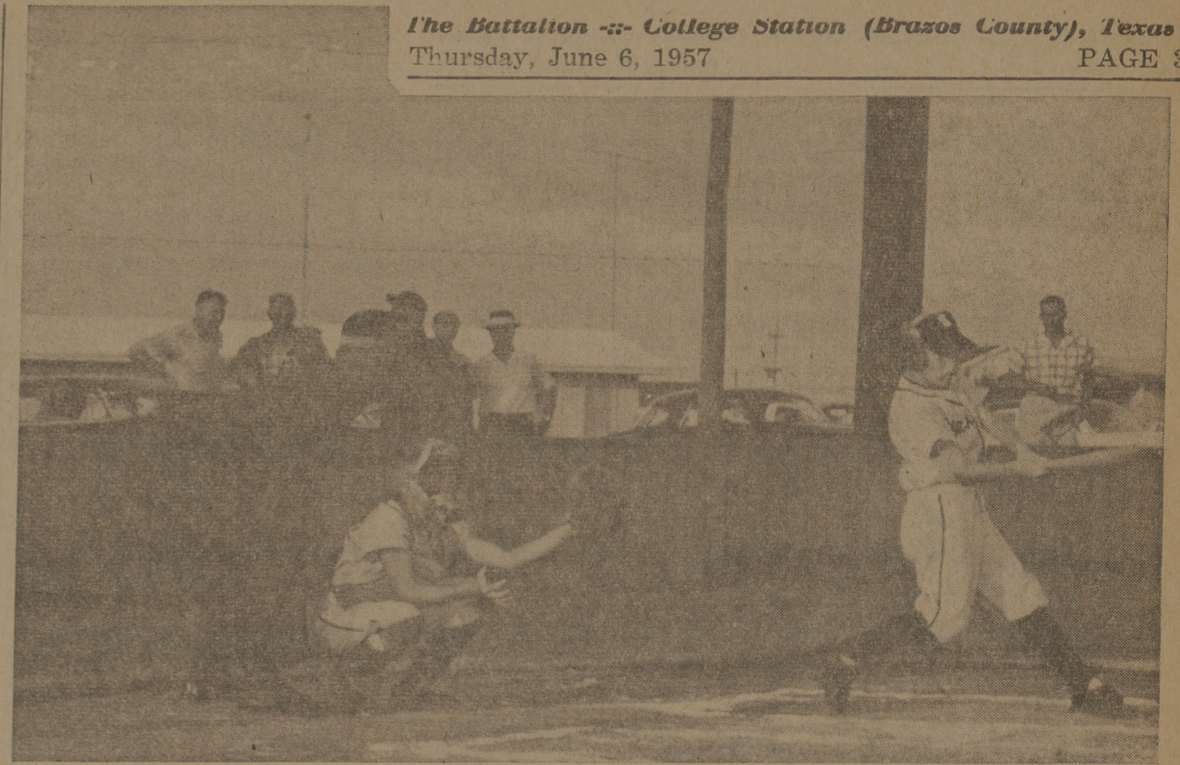

Heading the entire operation and succeeding J. Wayne Stark is American League South President Jack L. Fugate. League officers under Fugate include Howard Mitchell, vice-president; Dixie Southern, treasurer; and Walter Varvel, secretary.

Managing the four Major League teams are Bill Bates, White Sox; Hank Mills, Senators; Wayne Smith, Orioles; and Ken Midkiff, Red Sox. Piloting the Minor League squads, handling both the "A" and "B" teams, are the following: Cubs—Bobby Carter and Will Worley; Indians—Jack Merrill, Manuel Garcia, and Jim Bond; Pirates—Gene Larey and Frank Poholsky; and Dodgers—Wilson Bradley and Martin Goff.

The whole Little League set-up would, of course, suffer greatly without the various team sponsors — Black's Pharmacy (Senators), Marion Pugh Lumber Company (White Sox), Student Co-op (Orioles), Bryan Office Equipment Company (Red Sox), College Station Recreation Council (Dodgers and Indians), Kiwanis Club (Pirates), and Lions Club (Cubs). The Red Sox, Orioles, White Sox, and Senators are the Major League teams.

Major League games will be played in the form of double-headers on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday each week for the next two months with the exception of June 23-29, which has been designated as Boy Scout Week. Double-headers, with the four Minor League (See Little League, Page 5)
