

CS All-Stars Eliminated Despite Late Inning Threat

South Overcome By Hearne Fire

By MAURICE OLIAN

College Station American South failed to overcome a five-run uprising by Hearne in the first inning of Tuesday night's semi-final game in the Area 3 Little League Tournament, and as a result, was eliminated 7-3 despite a late threat.

The College Station all-star nine, piloted by Bill Bates, had previously defeated Bryan National West 7-0 Monday night at Williamson Park in a first round tourney encounter, as Dennis Muth twirled a two-hit masterpiece.

Hearne's five big runs came on four base hits, an error, and two free passes.

Jimmy Nail, the third in a line of three College Station American South hurlers used Tuesday, limited the victors to only four hits and one run, walked three, and chalked up eight strikeouts in a neat five-inning relief job.

College Station tallied once in the fourth on two hits, an error, and a passed ball. They scored twice in the bottom half of the sixth inning on two safeties, a pair of walks, and a couple of Hearne miscues, but that early five-run bulge that increased to 6-0 in the second-inning was too much to overcome.

Jody Rush led the American South at the plate with his 2-for-3.

In Monday's tilt, Muth was superb as he struck out twelve and did not walk a single batter. He had twirled perfect ball until the

Tigers Roar Off Unbeaten With Half-game Lead

Ed Logan's Tigers are "off and running" in the College Station Recreation Council Softball League. At the conclusion of the first two week-ends of play, the Tigers have won three and gone undefeated, giving them a one-half game lead over the Tired Nine.

The Tired Nine is the loop's only other undefeated team, boasting a perfect 2-0 record. They are followed, in turn, by the Vets and the Flashes (tied for third place), the Duffers, and the Eagles.

In this week-end's activity, the Flashes battle the Tigers, and the Duffers tangle with the Eagles in tomorrow's double-bill. Saturday, the Vets are pitted against the Duffers, and The Tired Nine meets the Tigers, the latter tilt being the season's first "big" game.

POKER GAME

MIDNIGHT, Miss. (P) — This small town in Mississippi's agricultural Delta was named for the hour it was won in a poker game.

Around the turn of the century, pioneer land owners would take time out from clearing the land and relax over a poker game.

One of the land owners bet and lost all of his cleared land and the game broke up. The new owner glanced at his watch and announced he would name his land "Midnight."

Former Firechief Employed Here

William J. (Bill) Henderson, former chief of the Galveston fire department, has been employed to serve as a full-time field instructor for the Firemen Training Division of the Engineering Extension Service.

Henderson had been with the Galveston department for the past 22 years.

For the past ten annual one-week Firemen's Training Schools, held here, Henderson has served as an instructor with the combined field operations phase of the school.

According to Henry D. Smith, chief of the Firemen's Training Division, "Henderson's work has been very outstanding, in fact to the extent that he was selected as chairman of the Basic Combined Operations in 1952."

The former fire chief replaced L. O. Bynum, former field instructor who resigned the past year. His work will involve conducting basic and advanced firemen training classes and programs at local fire departments throughout the state, including such special assignments as may be directed.
