Yankees Blast Spahn in 6th; Take Series Opener by 3-1

Darrell Brown
 Senior from Dayton, will fill one of the tackle posts for the Aggies. Brown is a two-year letterman.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—Whitey Ford, chunky New York Yankee left hander, whipped Milwaukee's Warren Spahn in today's World Series opener 3-1 while 69,476 basked in the warm sunshine of a perfect fall afternoon.

Showing complete recovery from the arm miseries that bothered him during most of the regular season, Ford held the National League champions to five hits.

When the embattled Braves, who went into their first series as 8-5 underdogs, threatened in the sixth, Ford calmly blew down three of their toughest right handed hitters—Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Andy Pafko. The stylish little man struck out Aaron and Pafko and retired Adcock on an easy grounder after walking the first two batters.

The Yanks took this opener in stride, although they lost the services of their slugging first baseman, Bill Skowron, early in the game.
