Hungary Marks Freedom Bid Of Last Year

VIENNA, (AP)—The Hungarian people marked the first anniversary of their anti-Soviet revolt yesterday in sullen silence under the guns of police.

The Communist government of Premier Janos Kadar warned in advance any demonstrations would be crushed. He had nine Russian army divisions to back him up.

Reports from Budapest said the day was drab and rainy as Hungarians trudged to work or to school.

One scene from the Budapest reports seemed symbolic of the day.

A little, gray-haired old lady, dressed in black and hunched over against the rain, weaved her way through police guards and entered Budapest's vast cemetery.

She shuffled to a grave and knelt down in prayer.

Flu Epidemic Hits 145 CHS Students

The flu "bug" hit Consolidated Schools last week, sending absentee figures up as new victims come down with the virus.

"The epidemic seems to have reached its peak now," said CHS Principal E. P. Ozment Tuesday. "At least the number of absentees is about uniform now."

Junior High is the hardest hit of the schools. Tuesday 105 were reported absent due to flu. The high school figure Tuesday was 40 victims. Only three teachers have fallen from the virus, which has been going on a little over a week, Ozment said, and all three are now back at their desks.

3 Car Collision Damages Costly

Damages totaling $2,000 were caused in a three-car collision in the 400 block of Highway 6 at about 4:45 yesterday afternoon.

No injuries were reported, although one car was almost completely demolished and another severely damaged.

According to the investigating officer no one was at fault and the collision of the three automobiles was unavoidable. Apparently one auto, driven by S. Sgt. J. M. Moreno of College Station, was attempting to turn left across the highway.

Willard W. Parker, of 1016 E. 23rd St. Bryan, was driving a panel truck behind Moreno and was unable to stop. Following the collision between the two vehicles, Moreno's car was shoved into the path of the oncoming car, driven by Daniel Smoot of Houston.

The Moreno car was estimated to be a total loss and the panel truck driven by Parker had damages totaling about $700. Smoot's car received a smashed fender.

Air Force Cuts Two Contracts For Research

Archie M. Kahan, executive director of the A&M Research Foundation, confirmed yesterday a report that the Air Force had canceled two of the Foundation's research contracts.

Said Kahan: "Cancellation of the contracts is causing repercussions over almost all the U. S. campuses."

Those repercussions are a disarrangement of the research programs and the possible firing of some of the employees working on the projects.

Kahan said the cancellations effect on employees at A&M could not yet be determined, but it is expected that personnel involved will be shuffled to work on other problems, with only a bare minimum being laid off.

According to Kahan the cancellation was rather sudden.

"First they asked us for a five per cent reduction in the program, then asked if we could wait several months before submitting a request for money, all of which we accepted. The next word that we heard was this cancellation."

Eisenhower Gives Post To Rogers

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON.—Herbert Brownell Jr. resigned yesterday as U. S. attorney general. He said the settling of federal policy in the Little Rock school integration dispute freed him to return to private law practice.

The White House said President Eisenhower accepted the resignation and will appoint Dep. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers Jr. to the Cabinet post. Rogers is a close friend of Vice President Nixon.

Brownell is the sixth member of Eisenhower's original Cabinet to resign.

Just when he will relinquish his office was not announced. However, Brownell suggested in a letter to Eisenhower that he would be ready to step out in two weeks.

The White House said Brownell will rejoin the New York City law firm of Lord, Day & Lord, which he left to enter the Cabinet. It said he would act as an advisor to the firm for two years, instead of as a partner, because of the conflict of interest law barring former federal officials from handling government cases. Brownell will deal only with nongovernmental matters, the White House said.

Brownell held an informal news conference shortly after his resignation was announced and disclaimed any ambition for further public office.

Eisenhower named Brownell to his Cabinet after the New Yorker managed his 1952 presidential campaign. Brownell also managed the 1948 and 1944 presidential bids of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

As boss of the Justice Department and Eisenhower's chief legal adviser, Brownell has been attacked by Southern members of Congress because of his role in the Little Rock crisis and in developing the new civil rights law. On civil rights questions, Rogers and Brownell see eye to eye. Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.), one of the first to comment on the impending Brownell-Rogers shift, said this "would not mean any change in current policies."

By his resignation, Brownell avoids a prospective series of trips to Capitol Hill in the next session where he would have come face to face with angry Southern critics.

SCONA Picks Nation's 'Tops' For Third Conference

Top speakers from all phases of national and international life will share their knowledge with the nation's top college students at the third annual Student Conference on National Affairs, SCONA III, Dec. 11-14.

Heading the group will be Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine U.N. representative, and former aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

U.S. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.) will be the top national figure while others are: Eugene M. Zuckert, former Atomic Energy Commission member; John Scott, special assistant to the publisher of Time magazine, and Col. Guy H. Kissinger, Jr., '38, U.S. Marine Corps.

Houston attorney Lee M. Sharrar will complete the group.

Romulo, Pulitzer prize-winning author, holds 30 honorary doctorate degrees from 30 colleges and universities, only one of which is outside of the territory of the United States.

He captured the coveted Pulitzer award in 1942 for a series of articles on the Far East. Romulo has written eight books. One, "The Magsaysay Story" is now on sale at bookstands.

During World War II he was given the highest military and civilian awards in the Philippines and the highest military award in Mexico.

Sen. Humphrey, Democratic prospect for either the presidency or vice presidency, is one of the nation's outstanding liberals. He is a former university professor and is considered an expert in economics.

Scott in his travels for Time has picked up first-hand information in such current trouble-spots as Syria, Egypt and other Middle East countries.

He has recently returned from a 4-month visit in these areas.

Col. Kissinger, a former student graduating in 1938 with an architectural engineering degree, is considered an expert on economic factors of national strength. He has been active in NATO work in recent years but is currently stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Sharrar, former intelligence man during World War I and II, has served as instructor in economics and jurisprudence at Rice Institute in Houston. He received an LL.B. degree from South Texas College of Law in 1931.

Sharrar is reportedly civic-minded, belonging to several Houston civic organizations including the Kiwanis Club and the Houston Philosophical Society.

Jack Nelson, SCONA III head, indicates planning for the December conference is well ahead of last year.

The conference is open to delegates from selected schools in the nation and is designed to better acquaint college students with problems facing the nation.

SCONA leaders anticipate this year's conference will surpass previous years in interest, attendance and quality of training.
