Dr. Dillon to Open National Meeting

Dr. Lawrence S. Dillon of the Biology department has been invited to give the opening address for the Zoological Section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at its meeting in Indianapolis, Ind., Friday, Dec. 27.

"This is a high honor," Dr. C. C. Doak, head of the Biology department, said. "We are proud that Dr. Dillon was selected to give the opening address—it is deserved."

Dillon's talk, entitled "Progressive Evolution: A New Approach to the Development of Life," will be in the nature of a forthcoming book.

AH Judging Teams Show Well At Kansas City Grading Meet

Senior judging teams from the Animal Husbandry Department returned this week from the American Royal Livestock Exposition in Kansas City, bearing a host of trophies to show of their prowess.

Making the best showing was the Senior Meats Judging team which ended up second in a field of 17 competitors in that contest.

Coached by G. T. King, the team won first in lamb grading, third in lamb judging, fourth in pork judging, fifth in beef grading and eighth in beef judging.

Individual high rankers included Robert Gooch, Jack Estes and Homer Smith. Gooch, from Abilene, was the second highest scoring individual in the contest. He was first in beef grading, second in lamb judging and third in lamb grading.

Estes, from Fort Worth, placed third in pork judging and seventh in individual scoring. Smith, from Robstown, took highest individual score in lamb grading.

The Senior Wool Judging team, coached by Richard Thallman, captured sixth position in the contest. Stanley Keese of Llano won fifth place in individual scoring while Clyde Castleberry of Lampasas took fifth in fleece grading.

The Senior Livestock Judging team, coached by W. T. Berry, ended up 12th in the intercollegiate competition. They were fifth in the sheep contest and tenth in the cattle contest.

Richard Thomas of Robstown took third place in the quarter-horse contest.

The various teams left for Kansas City last week, making practice stops at several large meat companies and ranches along the way.

Sunday night, all team members were guests at a dinner given by the Kansas City Aggie Club.

Social Whirl

Chemical Engineering Wives Club will meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the south solarium of the YMCA.

A program on rug braiding will be presented at the meeting of Animal Husbandry Wives at 7:30 to night in the south solarium of the YMCA.

Aggie Wives Bridge Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Memorial Student Center.

Hostesses will be Pat Younts and Elon Foster for the regular group; Ann Meitzer and J'Nene Morgan for the intermediates, and Barbara Keller and Kae McGlothlin for the beginners.

Prizes last week went to Marilyn Ibbitson, high, Trilba Keller, traveling slam, and Karen Lee Mounce, low, in the regular group, and Ann Meitzer and Texas Maxey in the intermediate group.

Mechanical Engineering Wives Club will have an informal, get-acquainted dance for all mechanical engineering students, their wives and prospective club members at 8 p.m. Friday in the Girl Scout house in Bryan.

Dancing and refreshments will be featured. There will be a charge of 50 cents per couple.

A&M Women's Social Club will hear a book review by Mrs. Frank McFarland at 3 p.m. Friday in the ballroom of the Memorial Student Center.

Scientist Speaks To Luncheon Club

Dr. Gerald Wendt, a scientist whose articles of the news in science are used by more than 5,000 newspapers in 71 countries, was guest of honor at the knife & fork club dinner Monday, at 7:30 p. m. in the Memorial Student Center.

Ranking high in the field of atomic energy, as is indicated by the fact that his latest book, "You and the Atom," has been translated into 14 foreign languages, Dr. Wendt is called the world's leading interpreter of science to the layman.

It was Wendt, who at the "Atoms for Peace" conference at Geneva analyzed for the 900 newspapermen present, just what the importance was of the high-brow atomic discussions being carried on. He also acted as chief radio commentator for the United States on the major U.S. networks.
