

A&M Senate Accepts TCU Apology

By JOE BUSER

We want the Corps to know that every effort is being undertaken to heal the wound between our two schools, George Depee, Texas Christian University Student Congress president said last night to the Student Senate.

Spokesman for the group of five representatives from the TCU student body, Depee said "It will be virtually impossible to repay all damage done last Saturday as bodily pain and ugly memories will remain for a long time."

accepted Depee's apologies in behalf of TCU students.

Depee said incidents on their campus had been traced to several causes. First, he said, there was a lack of education emphasizing to the students the principles of good sportsmanship. Since TCU in the past has had a reputation for good sportsmanship the possibility of such incidents was unforeseen, he said.

Secondly, circumstances were partly to blame. A pep rally was scheduled Friday at midnight, the same time many Aggies were bringing their dates back to their dorms to sign in. The enthusiasm instilled by the pep rally plus the appearance of Aggies on the campus led to outbreaks of violence, Depee said.

"Don't misunderstand me," Depee said. "A girl here may date whom she pleases and it is a shameful thing when any student from any school is unweleome. I merely point out that the timing of the pep rally at the same time the girls were supposed to be in their rooms added to tension."

Third, enthusiasm and tension over the Aggie-Frog clash has increased steadily from year to year, but releasing this tension and enthusiasm along wrong channels as exemplified this past weekend is deplorable, Depee said.

As for action taken by the Congress and the administration at TCU, Depee told the Senate that a special meeting of the Congress had been called and a resolution of regret for their conduct was passed. Also, strict disciplinary action would be taken against all individuals definitely known to have started or to have taken part in the brawls, he said.

And, according to Dr. Laurence Smith, dean of students at TCU, in the release prepared for radio releases sent to Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins and Corps Commander Jon Hagler, "Indications are that there will be several such cases."

Depee also said that the Congress is attempting to recover all stolen articles of clothing and reimbursement of items not recovered will be made by their body as soon as an accurate list is forwarded to them.

Depee and Dean Smith both commended student leaders at A&M in preventing more trouble than occurred.

Getting Her Autograph

Frances Cunningham of College Station asks Dorothy Collins for her autograph and the featured singer in Town Hall last night obliges.

Second Town Hall Charms Audience

By WELTON JONES

Miss Dorothy Collins, who called herself the "June Allyson of television" and then proceeded to prove that she was wrong, joined with the orchestra of Shep Fields to charm a large Town Hall audience last night in an abnormally short program.

The audience was attentive to Miss Collins as she sang a review of songs she interpreted on the television program "Your Hit Parade", with which she sang for seven years, but they threatened to become unruly when she did a dignified strip tease on stage, revealing a black satin sheath, more suitable for the torch songs which followed.

Included in her songs was a vocal tribute to her daughter Debbie, who was three years old yesterday. The show was cut shorter than usual, with no intermission.

Weather Today

College weather station forecasts partly cloudy skies and cool temperatures for the local area.

At 5:30 this morning the thermometer recorded a low of 53 degrees. Yesterday's high was a cool 63 degrees at 3 p. m.

Relative humidity at 8 this morning was 79 percent, and the temperature, 55 degrees.

in order that she could fly back to New York last night.

Orchestra leader Al Johnson, who left his own band in Las Vegas to join Miss Collins here, did a commendable job with the Fields organization in arranging the music, rehearsing it and conducting it in the space of one day.

Shep Fields was his usual polished professional self, and brought a very personable girl vocalist, Jackie Austin, with him. Also featured were clarinetist Bud Thompson and vocalist Bob Bodet.

SWC Football Book To Be Autographed

Copies of "The Power and the Glory," a story of Southwest conference football, will be autographed by its author, Harold Ratliff, regional sports editor for the Associated Press in the gift shop area of the Memorial Student Center Saturday morning.

Important Meeting Set For Basic Students

All new entering Basic Division students will meet with their faculty advisers at 4 p. m. Tuesday. According to C. H. Ransdell, associate dean of the Basic Division, "this is a very important meeting, and every student is expected to attend."

Community Chest Makes Final Plans

Next Tuesday 20 zone captains of the 1957-58 A&M College-College Station Community Chest begin making the rounds in 17 zones set up for the drive which is striving for $14,950 this year.

The zone captains are charged with visiting all citizens in their zones and soliciting contributions for the drive. Captains will also furnish a detailed list of agencies to receive the Community Chest funds to those approached for donations.

The objective of the Community Chest is to allow citizens to make their contributions to charities for the entire year at one time instead of being solicited by the various organizations at different times throughout the year.

Money received from the drive will be proportioned among 15 charities and organizations which will be of benefit in some way to local citizens.

Since it is the problem of people in the Bryan-College Station area of living in one community and working in the other, there is often uncertainty in their minds of which drive they should contribute to, or whether they should contribute to both drives, Richard Vrooman, co-chairman of the drive said.

Common precedent seems to be that the donations be requested where the people work, however, Vrooman added. He said this year's soliciting would be aimed at the place of work since this is the common custom.

Vrooman also said that some people might feel it their duty to contribute to both drives, and if this is the case, they should contribute the most to the place they feel the strongest obligation.

Rue Pinalle Tonite, Garber Tomorrow

By DAVID STOKER

Beginning with the gaiety of the Rue Pinalle tonight at 8:30 and ending with the renowned music of Jan Garber and His orchestra, this weekend at Aggeland offers top entertainment.

Rue Pinalle tonight, held in the Memorial Student Center table tennis area, lasts until midnight yell-practice. Music for the event will be furnished by Dave Woodard's Combo. Curtains go up on a floor show at 10:30 which features a vocal trio, a blues singer and a tap dancer from Texas Woman's University. Price for the show will be $1.50 per couple.

Kicking off the Saturday festivities is the big football game on Kyle Field at 2 p. m. The Aggies tackle the Baylor Bears. The MSC will operate a check room service for the game from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Saturday.

Jan Garber and his orchestra visits Aggeland Saturday night to provide music for a dance in Sbis Hall from 9 'till midnight. Along with Garber will be Deanna St. Clair, a featured vocalist.

Garber's band, which features "Sweet With A Beat", music is composed of some of the top instrumentalists and artists in the country. The orchestra is considered by many critics as the most danceable band in the land.

Besides cutting records for the Capitol label, Garber and his group have had choice spots in motion pictures and short features. The band also has been featured on radio and television.

Admission for the Sbis dance is $2.50, stag or drag.

Band Prepares Big Drill For Saturday

The Texas Aggie Band has been working feverishly this week in preparation for probably one of the most spectacular drills of the season.

Despite bad weather which has plagued the band as well as the football team, this week's drill will feature minstrel turns and a moving BAYLOR in the fashion of Arkansas last year.

Highlights of the drill this week will be a hollow entrance formation, minstrel and northwestern turns, and forming of the traditional marching "T". During the six and one half minute drill, they will also execute double delay counter-marches, with northwestern turns to the left and right, dividing the band into two groups of 120 each.

Nominations For Who's Who End Monday

Deadline for turning in nominations for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities is 5 p. m. Monday.

Nov. 6 is the final day for submitting information forms on nominees. Forms for nominating students to the list may be obtained from the Commandant's office, the housing office and the main desk of the Memorial Student Center.

The forms must be filled out and turned in to one of the places where they were obtained by 5 Monday afternoon.

Nominees will be screened by a committee of five Cadets appointed by Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins. A committee of five Civilians, appointed by Bennie Zinn, will screen the civilian entries.

Any academic senior who expects to graduate by June, 1959, is eligible for selection.

He must have a grade point ratio of 1.5 or better, be active in student affairs, display leadership qualities through positions held in student organizations and be popular with fellow students.

A student may be considered for Who's Who only one time, and may be nominated by himself, another student or a member of the staff.

Kyle Field Sold Out For 'Game of Year'

BY GARY ROLLINS
Battalion Sports Editor

A sellout crowd of over 42,000 will invade Kyle Field tomorrow at 2 p. m. to view the clash of the Texas Aggies and the Baylor Bears—in what has been called the game of the year.

The Cadet gridders will have as guests their fathers, who will sit alongside the Aggie bench and be introduced to the crowd at halftime.

The game was pronounced a sellout early Wednesday, as a sudden rush for tickets came on the heels of the announcement that the game would not be televised due to another college game within a 100-mile radius.

Coach Paul Bryant's Aggies will seek their sixth straight victory of the season and their second win in conference play. The mighty Farmers have not suffered a defeat since the 1955 season; their record only being blemished by a tie with the University of Houston.

The massive Baylor Bears, with a line averaging 217 pounds ably coached by Sam Boyd, will bring one of the outstanding lines in the nation to College Station as they seek their fourth win of the season, having been bounced by Miami and Arkansas. Although this was supposed to be their year for becoming SWC Champions, they opened their conference schedule on a sour note by bowing to Arkansas' unpredictable Razorbacks.

Statistically, the two teams rank about the same, with the Cadets holding a slight edge. However, in a game like this, the paper work is thrown out the window, and the winner is usually the team that wants victory the most.

Civilian Councilmen Urge Better Dress

Members of the Civilian Student Council last night voted to draft an appeal to all Civilian students urging them to improve their personal appearance.

At the regular meeting of the Council in the Memorial Student Center, President Bill McKown said he felt the dress of the Civilians could certainly be improved. Such a measure, he said would do much to increase the prestige of the Civilians at A&M.

The Council placed the New Student Committee in charge of drafting the appeal and also stipulated the group should investigate methods of eliminating friction between the Corps and Civilians.

Later discussion at the meeting included a short discussion about changing the format of the Civilian dormitory pages in the Aggeland. Val Polk, civilian editor of the yearbook, told the group why he thought a change was in order.

Standing committee appointments were made and the following men were placed on committees:

Fred Hartman, Demcie Burton and Troy Spencer were appointed to the Traditions Committee; Bob Montgomery, Charles Graham and Jarrell Pruitt were put on the Civilian Weekend Committee.

Tom Beckett, Isaac Garza and Lester Berry were appointed to the New Student Committee.

Other men placed on as yet unnamed committees were Dick McGlaun, Jerry Reynolds and Alton Smith; Bill Lynch, Sammy Ray, Al Kirt and Fred Pendleton; Billy Sprayberry, A. M. Hoffpaur and McKown.

The last committee was directed to work with the Aggeland to see what improvements could be made.

Singing Cadets To Perform In Dallas

Fifty-five members of the Singing Cadets will leave the campus by chartered bus Sunday at 7:30 a. m. to sing for the Dallas Rotary Club at the Baker Hotel. They will return the same day.
