Johnson Sees Space Travel In Near Future

HOUSTON, (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson predicted last night that "most of us" will live to see space ships.

The Senate majority leader, at a dinner in his honor, said:

"Rockets to the moon are just over the horizon. Space ships are only a few years away and most of us will live to see them.

"The scientists are already talking—in serious terms—about the day when we will escape the solar system and explore the universe."

Over 1,300 Texans attended the $7.50 a plate testimonial dinner arranged by Houston area businessmen and industrialists. Among those paying tribute to the Senate majority leader were House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Texas Governor Price Daniel.

Johnson attended a White House conference Tuesday with the top legislative and governmental leaders in Washington. He said the conference dealt with "the very real perils that face our country."

These resulted, he said, from "startling scientific achievements made by the Soviets in the past few years."

"No sane man can underrate those achievements," Johnson continued. "The United States has been outstripped in a field where we thought we were supreme."

"Already there are satellites in the skies held to this earth only by a thin, invisible thread of gravity," he said. "A little extra burst of speed and that thread snaps."

"That day—which is not very far—is the beginning of the race for outer space."

Five CHS Teams Place In FFA Meet

Competing against 21 other schools in District I, all five Consolidated High School Future Farmers of America teams entered placed in the top five places Tuesday in the meet held at Yoe High School in Cameron.

First-year junior FFA "greenhands" made better showings than their older chapter brothers of the senior division in the contests.

In the junior division, the greenhand quiz team, composed of Henry Allen, Colvin Schehin, Kenneth Greer and Freddy Wright, took second place. They won the runner-up spot on the basis of their knowledge of the FFA organization and parliamentary procedure. The position entitles them to compete in the area contest Saturday at Blinn College in Brenham.

Their other junior team entry was in farm skill demonstration, the team taking third. Byron Bostick, Morris Stone and Raymond Huff made up this team, giving a demonstration on vaccinating poultry for fowl pox.

All three senior teams entered placed fifth in their divisions.

The radio broadcasting team, composed of Brenner Sayers, Billy Mac Miller and John Wayne Todd, presented a program on "Winter Poultry Problems" for their fifth place ribbon.

John Thomas, Raymond Barker and Delbert Hovorak, making up the farm skill demonstration team got fifth on their entry, "Selecting a Gift."

The chapter conducting team, composed of club officers, took the other fifth in their division. Officers of the chapter are Kenneth Cooner, president; Edgar Feldman, vice president; James Baker, secretary; Bobby Ross, treasurer; Sidney Greer, reporter and Marshall Chenshaw, sentinel.

Home-made Rocket Bursts, Kills Prof

FLOYDADA, Tex.—(AP)—A home-made rocket exploded during a chemistry class experiment at Floydada High School yesterday, killing the teacher and injuring five students. Two of the students were seriously injured.

Killed was Garland Foster, 40, a former employee of the Atomic Energy Commission research center at Los Alamos, N.M.

Dennis Whitfill, 18, a member of the class who was only a few feet from the explosion but escaped injury, gave this account:

"We had mixed together carbon, potassium chlorate and sulphur and placed it inside this one-foot long piece of pipe. The ends were capped with a hole in one end.

"We had twine tied to the rocket, which was on a roller skate, and had planned to hold it back with the twine.

Whitfill said 14 members of the chemistry class were gathered around the teacher on the school grounds when he struck a match to the opening at one end of the rocket and the match went out.

"The next time he tried," Whitfill continued, "the rocket fused just a second and then exploded."

Wildlife Contest Winner Announced

Eli Brooks Lilly, freshman from Central Heights, has been named first place district winner in the Folgers 4-H Wildlife Conservation Program.

To win the award, Brooks carried a wildlife demonstration from 1953 to 1957. This demonstration included stocking the seven ponds on his family farm with fish and providing food and shelter for quail and other wildlife.

Brooks reported that he provided hiding and nesting protection for the quail by leaving designated brush and vines near watering places and feeding places. Special attention was provided to the leaving of certain nut bearing trees as well as some of the vines and bushes, so essential in providing food for wild game and birds.

National recognition will be given Brooks at the Texas National 4-H Achievement Day Program, Nov. 16. At this time he will receive the Wildlife Conservation gold medal as well as a $50 saving bond.
