CHS Girl Enters Contest Semifinals

Mary Margaret Hiorth, A&M Consolidated High School senior, has been named a semifinalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

Miss Hiorth is one of the 7,500 high scorers on the scholarship qualifying test, a nationwide college aptitude examination given in 14,000 high schools Oct. 22. She outscored 300,000 fellow seniors to move a step closer to the $4 million to be awarded in merit scholarships in 1958.

The rigorous three-hour semifinal test will be given throughout the country at testing centers on Jan. 11. Students whose high scores substantiate their earlier test performance will become finalists in the competition.

At least 7,000 of the semifinalists are expected to survive this second hurdle, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the annual competition.

In the final phase of the competition, high school grades, extra-curricular attainments, and the leadership and character of the competitors will be evaluated. About May 1, 800 will become the merit scholars of '58.

Winners make their own choice of college and course of study. The value of the four-year merit scholarships varies with financial need of each individual student, ranging upward from a minimum of $100 a year to $2,200, or more.

Colleges chosen by the scholarship winners will receive grants-in-aid averaging $2,200 per merit scholar to help defray the actual cost of educating the students.

The merit scholarship program is now in its third year. It was established in 1955 through grants of $20.5 million from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

The program is designed to search the nation for students who will be most able to benefit from a college education, regardless of means.

Once discovered in the national talent hunt, the students are supported by funds provided by sponsoring companies. About 14,000 merit scholarships have been awarded in the two years of the program, and the winners are now enrolled in over 265 different colleges.

Merit scholarships are sponsored by about sixty business and industrial firms, as well as professional societies, foundations and individuals. The Sears-Roebuck Foundation is the largest sponsor, with '00 awards worth $500,000 being granted annually.

Foreign Students To Be Entertained

Pan-American Roundtable of Bryan and College Station will hold its annual Christmas fiesta for students at 7:30 p. m. Monday at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in College Station.

A musical program will be presented, and carol-singing in both Spanish and English will be featured. Ballroom dancing will conclude the evening.

No gifts will be exchanged this year.
