

Tough Temple Blasts Aggs, 60-44

Aggies Test Single-Wing; Await Arrival of Sanders

With a date for the Gator Bowl only 11 days away, the Texas Aggies continued to prepare for the oncoming clash with Tennessee by running defensive patterns against a simulated Volunteer single-wing offense yesterday afternoon.

The Cadets haven't seen the single-wing offense in the past 29 games, and even though they showed signs of catching onto the Vols' tricky attack, Coach Paul Bryant said the team still had a "long way to go."

The Aggies will hold another workout this evening, but it's a pretty good bet Coach Red Sanders of UCLA won't get to see what might be his future charges in the practice session. He will arrive on campus about 6 tonight. Sanders is currently rated the top-prospect for the vacancy left by Bryant.

Dr. Chris Groneman, chairman of the council said there was a possibility that another coach would be contacted within the near future. Although no names were mentioned, it was understood to be Dan Devine, the successful coach at Arizona State.

Neil "Freddie" Swisher

Neil Swisher, 6-foot junior guard from Victoria, was unable to quell the Temple Owls' mighty attack last night in Philadelphia. He did lead the Aggies' scoring, though, meshing the cords for 11 points.

All-American Rodgers Leads Owls To Victory

By GARY ROLLINS

Temple University, the "Cadillac" of East Coast basketball squads handed the Texas Aggies a 60-44 shattering last night in Philadelphia.

The Owls, on the rebound after losing to sixth ranked Kentucky and seventh - ranked Cincinnati, were in complete control of the Cadets for the entire game.

Temple was last year's third-place NIT team, returning every starter from the squad including two All-American candidates.

One of their selections, Guy Rodgers, a red-hot 6-footer, engineered the defeat. He paced the Owls with 22 points, which was high for the game.

Neil Swisher, flashy guard from Victoria was the leading point producer for the Cadets with 11 points.

Temple has been named one of the best collegiate teams in the nation, and currently is ranked twelfth in the nation — the best team the Aggies were to face on their Globetrotter tour.

Coach Bobby Rogers' eager cagers were no match for the Temple power, as the Owls pulled away to a 12-3 lead in the first four minutes of play. However, in the second quarter the Farmers narrowed the gap to seven points at 31-24, which was as close as they were able to come.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural activity yesterday saw four basketball teams eliminated from the road to the championship as quarterfinal play got underway.

Jim Moore was the big gun for Sqdn. 13 as they eked out a 22-21 victory over "B" AAA. Moore hit for 18 points.

Sqdn. 7 won another close one over "A" Vets by a score of 35-34. Jim Barr led the victors with 16 points.

"A" AAA defeated "A" Signal by a little wider margin. The final score in that one was 27-11. Bill McCuhen was the leading scorer for the winners with nine points.

In the other play-off game "A" TC defeated "A" Ord. 17-11. Bill Hanes netted seven points for the winners and Jimmy Garrett had six for the losers.

But intramural footballers also saw lots of action yesterday.

Arlian Cornett was the big man for his "A" Chemical team as he ran two touchdowns in their 19-0 victory over Sqdn. 15. The other tally came on a 40-yard run by Buddy Baker.

"A" Athletics squeezed by Sqdn. 10 14-13. Dickie Thomas scored both touchdowns for the winners on runs through the line. But Sqdn. 10 found their scoring punch through the air as Dan Burt hauled in long ones to cap their drives to paydirt.

A safety proved to be the margin in the game between "A" AAA and "B" Composite. The final score in that one was 8-7 with "B" Comp. on the big end of the score. Their touchdown came on a 40 yard pass from Eugene Simms to Louis Zemanek. The losers scored on the last play of the first half on an aerial from Norman Dowdy to Gary Higgs.

Mike Morgan showed that he could pass and run equally well as he led Sqdn. 2 to a 25-0 victory over "A" Qmc. Morgan passed to James Cobb and J. Hughes for two TD's and ran 10 yards for another. Cobb passed to R. McLeod for the other one.

Bobby Reeh passed for one TD, ran for another and kicked the extra point as Sqdn. 17 defeated "A" Composite 13-7. Ray Hart ran to paydirt for the losers and Bobby Cain kicked the extra point.
