

29 Civilian Profs Visit AF Academy

Twenty-nine civilian professors, representing 16 departments at A&M, recently attended a two day seminar at the Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. Dr. Bardin H. Nelson, from the Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department and a member of the faculty committee for the development of teaching personnel, arranged for the seminar with Col. Henry Dittman, P.A.S. The agenda included Air University Briefing; Air Command and Staff College Briefing; Academic Instructors Course Briefing and Observations; and an Air Force ROTC Educational Briefing. Men attending said that this visit did much toward developing a better understanding of problems common to both civilian and military educational institutions and provided an opportunity to examine the Air Force Teachers Training Program. E. V. Walton, head of the Agricultural Education Department said, "The emphasis the Air Force University is placing on flexibility and initiative in the training of young men is definitely an asset to overall citizenship as well as military preparedness. I see nothing in the training that would not be an asset to any profession." Those making the trip were: A. C. Ashcraft, S. L. Roberts, History Department; R. Ballinger, F. Ekfelt, English Department; H. Bebout, D. Davis, V. Edmondson, B. H. Nelson, H. Whitney, Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department; M. Brown, Dairy Husbandry Department; J. Dennison, G. Hallmark, Electrical Department; R. L. Elkins, D. R. Fitch, T. W. Leland, R. M. Stevenson, Business Administration; E. Ellis, Education and Psychology. O. M. Holt, E. V. Walton, Agricultural Education; P. L. Hubert, K. R. Pierce, C. W. Schulz, Veterinary Medicine; D. King, Entomology Department; W. F. Krueger, C. R. Ryan, Poultry Science Department; R. E. Miller, Basic Division; and J. F. Mills, Agronomy Department. Military personnel included Capt. Jones and Capt. Griffith from the Air Science IV Department, and Col. Henry Dittman, Professor of Air Science.

SPORT SLANT S

By GARY ROLLINS

Lacking the ferocious aggressiveness characteristic of successful Texas Aggie football teams, the Athletic Council continues in their search for a coach to take over the position vacated by Paul (Bear) Bryant—almost a month ago. Three famous-name coaches have undoubtedly used Texas A&M's attractive offers to "feather their nests," and the question no doubt arises as to just how many more will be able to do just that. There are some fine names to consider—Curtice, Erdelatz, Baugh, Zapalac, Myer, King and Phillips and many others. It's high time we stop moaning about "the one that got away" and get down to serious business. Many factors are different when "girl courts boy"—especially in recruiting coaches but while Alabama serenaded Bryant with "No Other Love" the Athletic Council now twiddles its thumbs, waits for chance openings and hums "I'll Be Around."

Thirteen Aggie seniors donned the proud Maroon and White for the last time; finally in a bowl game after many frustrating years. They wore it as Southwest Conference Champions in 1956, swirled about for three short weeks as "nationally-ranked number one team," and faded dimly in the stretch as 1957 drew to a close. The "Team of Tomorrow" will have to wait until "tomorrow," but who ever heard of running race horses without an ambitious jockey?"

Crow Leads Stars In Hawaiian Loss

Big John David Crow, pride of the Aggies, led the College All Stars in their unsuccessful bid to de-throne the pro-studded Hawaii All Stars Sunday in the Hula Bowl. Crow, everybody's All-American, scored three of the five touchdowns made by the hapless collegiate eleven as they lost 53-34. The game's leading scorer by way of the ground route, Crow hit paydirt on plunges of 8, 12 and 2 1/2 yards respectively. The other two TD's were made by Michigan State's Walt Kowalszyk. Crow and Kentucky's Lou Michaels were picked as the standouts for the collegians, while Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch of the Los Angeles Rams and Tobin Rote of the Detroit Lions carried off the laurels for the pros.

Rice Wins Trophy For Sportsmanship

Rice Institute was presented the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship award for 1957 last Wednesday in Dallas in ceremonies preceding the Cotton Bowl game kickoff. The award, which made its first appearance in 1947, is awarded annually to the school chosen by the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship committee. Committee members from A&M were Ted Lowe, head yell leader; Bob Surovik, president of the Student Senate; Joe Tindel, Battalion editor; and Roddy Osborne, athletic representative.

Easy-To-Prepare Casserole Dish Combines Pork Chops, Sweet Potatoes

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

That favorite American team, pork chops and sweet potatoes, gets savory and attractive treatment in this casserole offering. Currant jelly, orange juice, lemon rind and lemon juice, plus a mixture of spices, are poured over the meat and potatoes and the dish is baked for about 40 minutes. The sweet potatoes must be boiled and the chops browned before they go into the oven but neither process takes long. The ingredients for the sauce may be mixed beforehand.

Attending from the local group were Larry Robbins, Ray Rattcliff, Bill Shenkir, Gilbert Stelle, Corky Hibbitts, Ken Dalechau, Beverly Couch, Zilmar Marcos, Ricardo Choler, Ben Marshall, Jack Cooper, Amon Bailey, Dan Thompson, Bob Cooper, Bob and Carolyn Monk, and Bob Compton.

Social Whirl

Geology Wives will hold election of officers at their meeting Wednesday on the second floor of the YMCA. All members are urged to be present. Wildlife Management Wives Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in the YMCA. A social meeting of Animal Husbandry Wives will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in Project House 14-A.

sweet potatoes (about 1 1/4 pounds), boiling water, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 one-half inch thick loin pork chops (about 1 pound), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, salt, pepper, 1/2 cup currant jelly, 1/2 cup orange juice, grated rind of a lemon, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger. Method: Scrub sweet potatoes in cold water and trim off any stringy parts. Do not pare. Place in a medium-sized kettle and cover with boiling water; add 2 teaspoons salt. Bring to a boil; boil, covered, until tender throughout when pierced with a fork—about 20 minutes. Drain and peel, rinsing first with cold water to make cool enough to handle. Slice each potato in half lengthwise. Trim most of fat from around pork chops. In a heavy 9- or 10-inch skillet, melt the butter; add chops and brown rapidly on both sides—this will take about 5 minutes. Remove and sprinkle chops lightly with salt and pepper. To drippings in hot skillet, add currant jelly, orange juice, lemon rind, lemon juice, mustard, paprika and ginger; stir over low heat until jelly finishes melting and spices dissolve. Arrange potatoes and chops alternately in a baking dish—one that is about 9 inches in diameter and about 2 inches deep is a good size; have chops partly propped up by potato slices. Pour hot sauce over chops and potatoes. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until chops are cooked through and sauce is partly reduced. Baste chops a few times. To test chops for doneness, cut a slit near the bone; meat should show no trace of pink. Makes 4 servings.

FISH SERGEANT

I have a few copies left of my book FISH SERGEANT — the story of a Fish at Aggeland during 1939-40. I sold the Movie-rights of FISH SERGEANT to Universal Studios in 1942 for use in their movie about A & M, "We've Never Been Liked," starring Anne Gwynne and Anthony Quinn. Order your copy today. First come, First served while they last. Thrill again to the great victories of the 1939 National Football Champions. Read about Fish Hook's Corps Trip to New Orleans for the Sugar Bowl game of 1940 and his experiences in the French Quarters. FISH SERGEANT is a collector's item and will make an ideal gift. Copy on file in the office of THE BATTALION. Send check or money order for $1.10 to Lt. Colonel John Otis Pasco, 306 North 14th Street, Murray, Kentucky. Please print name and address.

PENN R. POST received his B.S. in engineering from U.C.L.A. in 1956. He is now in the second year of General Electric's Technical Marketing Program, in the Company's General Purpose Motor Department.

"In a growing industry, there's room for me to grow"

"Here at General Electric," says Penn R. Post, 24-year-old marketing trainee, "you hear a lot of talk about the future—even as far ahead as 1978. In fact, I've discovered that planning ahead for America's needs 10 and 20 years from now is characteristic of the electrical industry. And, what's important to me, General Electric's long-range planning takes my future into account. I'm now on my fourth assignment in the Company's Technical Marketing Program—all planned steps in my development. "I'm pretty confident about the electrical future, too. For one thing, America's use of electricity has been doubling every ten years. And it will increase even faster as our population grows another 65 million by 1978—and as research and development lead to new electrical products that help people live better. The way I look at it, the technical, manufacturing and marketing resources of large companies like General Electric are important factors in the growth of the electrical industry. And in a growing industry, there's room for me to grow." Young people like Penn Post are an important part of General Electric's plans to meet the opportunities and challenges of the electrical future. Each of our 29,000 college-graduate employees is given opportunities for training and a climate for self-development that help him to achieve his fullest capabilities. For General Electric believes that the progress of any industry—and of the nation—depends on the progress of the people in it.
