Compulsory Corps To Strengthen A&M

"Many questions have been raised concerning the recent ruling by the Board of Directors that military training will be required of entering students beginning with the fall of 1958," President M. T. Harrington said today.

"It seems quite clear that the Board of Directors has established this ruling so that future students of A&M College shall have both strong military and strong academic training.

"The ruling regarding required military training applies only to students entering with freshman classification in September 1958 and thereafter. These students, according to the Board ruling, will have military training as a part of their required curriculum for two years. (The Board has already adopted the policy that military training is synonymous with life in the Corps of Cadets.)

"Therefore, only those students entering A&M for the first time with freshman classification will come under this ruling. Civilian students now on the campus will not be affected by this ruling. Students now on the campus who are regularly enrolled will not come under this classification regardless of whether or not they attain sophomore status.

"Students wishing to transfer from other colleges or universities will be exempt from this requirement unless they enter A&M with freshman classification. The Registrar and Director of Admissions classifies students with less than

CS Civic Assn. Elects Officers

New officers for the 1958 term were elected by the College Station Civic Association last week.

Don Dale was elected president of the group; V. E. Schember, vice-president; Mrs. Chris Groneman, secretary and R. E. Callender, acting manager. Callender will serve at the manager post until a committee appointed by Dale selects a new manager for 1958.

The directors voted to make education, recreation and the Carnegie Library items for the 1957 budget.

Committee assignments will be made at the February meeting.

CHS School Board Seeks Back Taxes

The A&M Consolidated School Board authorized action Monday night to collect all delinquent taxes, including 1957 taxes which are past due, beginning Feb. 1.

Tax Assessor Collector Bill Miller and Superintendent Taylor Riedel were given the authority to obtain legal aid in making collections of $65,725 receivable taxes. Tax collections for 1957 stood at $70,189 Monday.

The tax office will be kept open during the noon hour for the remainder of the month for the convenience of those unable to come during regular hours, Miller said. The tax office is located in the small wooden building north of the CHS auditorium.

Also, at the Monday meeting, a three-man board of equalization was appointed for the coming year. Don Dale, Harold Redman and J. O. Alexander compose this committee. The three-man board was appointed at Miller's request, with the provision that additional members could be added if needed.

Recent legislation has affected the Consolidated schools in only one respect, Riedel told the board. A slight adjustment in the science curriculum will have to be made to meet the new state graduation requirement, but nothing to present a problem, he said.

The larger portion of the regular monthly meeting was taken up in tax reports given by Miller and expenditure reports by Riedel.

Probation Students Need Dean's Okay

Students on scholastic probation during the Fall semester, or who may be placed on probation on the basis of final Fall grades, will have to have written authorization from their dean to register for the Spring semester, H. L. Heaton, registrar said yesterday.

These authorizations can be obtained from deans by students and should be presented at the rear of the newsstand west of Milner Hall on the day of registration, he said.

Presentation of these authorizations will entitle students to pick their assignment cards, at the regular hour designated in the schedule of classes for the Spring semester.

Students in doubt of their eligibility to re-enroll should check first with their dean before registration.

275 Lions Attend District Meeting

Approximately 275 District 2-S Lions Club members and wives attended the Lion Mid-winter Conference in the Memorial Student Center last Sunday, making it an "outstanding success," Charlie Haas, College Station Lions Club president, said.

Haas said the attendance was at least 75 above the number attending any past mid-winter conference.

The conference was highlighted by the address of Dudley L. Simms, of Charleston, W. Va., first vice-president of Lions International.

"Mr. Simms' speech was highly inspiring and enjoyed by everyone attending," Haas said.

Monday night at 6:30 the local Lions will honor their wives with an official "ladies night" in the MSC, Rooms 2-A, B, C and D. A smorgasbord dinner will be served, followed by the singing and comedy entertainment of Chester Ayers, a fellow Lion from San Antonio.

ARMY, WHAT IS AGGIELAND TO YOU?

Aggieland means many different things to many different people. To some it is the place they met their lifetime friends and received their formal education, to others it is the place they learned how to be a man and to get along with their fellow man.

Although Aggieland may have a special meaning for each Aggie, all have memories of yelling for that Fightin' Aggie Team as we beat T. U. or of singing The Twelfth Man when we didn't yell loud enough.

Army, when we go home after these finals let's throw our chests out and tell the world that we are proud to be a Fightin' Texas Aggie. Let's keep alive the heritage left to us by our buddies we've honored with Silver Taps who are no longer able to share it with us.

MY CLOSEST SHAVE by Pat Flaherty

1956 Indianapolis Speedway Winner

"My closest shave was at Indianapolis in 1953," says Pat Flaherty, 1956 Indianapolis winner. "The track temperature that day hit 125° and the exhaust fumes hung right down on the speedway. I was going into the north turn at 130 mph when the fumes got me. I blacked out, hit the outside concrete fence, and skidded along for 120 feet. The car was demolished, my helmet was torn off, my safety belt broke—but I didn't break a single bone!"

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Westport's "Mr. Telephone Company"

The Westport, Connecticut, office of Southern New England Telephone Company is managed by John F. Lehr, A.B., Yale, '52. In Westport, John is "Mr. Telephone Company."

"This job has everything," John says; "responsibility, independence, a chance to contribute to the community as well as the company. I have 3600 accounts in my office, and every one of those accounts is a person who has to be pleased with our telephone service. I'm in close contact with the town officials, and take part in many civic activities. Needless to say, it's a very interesting assignment."

"How I happened to choose a career with the telephone company tells you something about the business. After a dozen or so interviews with various firms, I picked the telephone company because it offered two things I was looking for—immediate opportunity, and long-range opportunity, too.

"You see, I was married in my senior year at college, so I wanted a career where I could start with a good salary, and get the training I'd need to advance in the shortest possible time. That's what I wanted immediately."

"The rapid expansion of the telephone business assured me of the long-range opportunities, because that expansion is creating more and more management positions to be filled. In fact, here I am, Manager in Westport, after only five years in the company. I don't know of another business where you can find more opportunities to get ahead."
