Transparent Suits For Men?

Men may be going around soon in transparent suits and chiffon shirts if the present trend toward light-weight clothing continues, according to members of the International Association of Clothing Designers.

The average man has shed about 15 pounds in clothing weight since the turn of the century, says Carl A. Forney, president of the association, who points out:

"When the breadwinner of 1900 ran for the morning trolley, he fortified himself against the cold with long underwear, heavy suit, waistcoat, leaden-weight overcoat, muffler, gloves, bowler hat and sometimes spats or leggings."

Grandpa's suit was made of woolen fabric so heavy it could almost stand alone, but the modern man wears featherweight suitings which are tailored to the natural lines of his body and don't hamper his movements.

For the age of space travel ahead, say the clothing designers, men may have transparent, weightless clothing which never gets soiled and never needs pressing.

Jesus loves me ... this I know

I still remember the happy words, and the easy tune. It was the first hymn I ever learned.
More important, I remember the certainty with which I sang "This I know!"
That was faith . . . My faith, firm . . . undoubting.
Have I outgrown that faith? No! But I have grown out from it. The ever-widening circle of experience has been drawing me away from the Center of life.
And when I heard little Janey singing her happy hymn just as I once sang it . . . I knew it was time to get back to the Real, the Unchanging.
And I've found that the Church is the one place in all this world where a man's heart—free of dread, fear, uncertainty—can sing "THIS I KNOW!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
