

Raiders Squeeze Past Aggies, 57-55

Ags Drop To 6th; Face UH Tonight

By GARY ROLLINS

Like a sandstorm symbolic of the Texas panhandle from whence they came, the Texas Tech Red Raiders eroded the Texas Aggies' 34-28 lead in the second half of the contest last Saturday night to hand Coach Bobby Rogers' Cadets their fourth loss against three victories.

Although the Farmers were able to score at a nifty 51.6 per cent clip in the first half, the second period found them as cold as a winter evening in the Arctic when they passed a meager 21.4 per cent of their shots through the bucket.

While Jim Myers was in the stand viewing his first Aggie contest, another Myers was spelling defeat for the Cadets on the court. Gerald Myers, 5-10 guard for the Raiders, paced the scoring with 18 points. In addition, his free throw afforded the final Tech point that kept them out of range of the Aggies.

Neil Swisher and Archie Carroll led the scoring for A&M, with 12 points, followed by Wayne Lawrence with 9.

With a 6-10 record in season play, the Cadets tangle with the University of Houston in an inter-sectional game tonight in G. Rolie White Coliseum at 8. Conference play will continue this Friday night when A&M meets Baylor in the coliseum.

Fish Trip Wharton; Face UH Kittens In Early Contest

By ROBERT WEEKLEY

Tied at the end of regular play the Fish eagars hit eight out of nine shots in overtime to put the skids to Wharton Junior College Saturday night in White Coliseum 77-71.

With thirteen seconds remaining in the second period Don Mercer hit a jump shot inside the circle to put the Aggies ahead 61-59, but Jerry Spence of Wharton tied the score again with only two seconds remaining to play.

The pace of overtime play was set in the early seconds when Mercer put the Aggies ahead 63-62. The score was tied three times until big Dale Ethridge drove in to sink a basket to give the Farmers two
