

A&S Council Votes Cut In Membership

Members of the Arts and Sciences Council voted Monday to exclude club and organization presidents from arts and science membership in future years.

The move was made to cut membership down to a size that would make the council more functional. Current membership is set up on the basis of three members from each club—the president and a junior and senior representative.

The new membership setup will include only a senior and junior representative from each organization, plus the editor of the Battalion and the Commentator. On this basis the club will have 40 members.

The council also resolved to enforce attendance requirements more rigidly in the future. According to attendance rules, two unexcused absences from council meetings means automatic expulsion from the body.

Don Cloud read a list of questions pertaining to campus traffic and parking problems which will be submitted to Campus Security Chief Fred Hickman and W. H. Badgett, physical plants manager. The arts and sciences group is seeking ways to improve campus parking facilities and help ease the traffic problems on the campus at crucial times of the day and during special events such as football games.

Asphalt Paving New Short Course

"Bituminous Materials" and "Special Problems in Design of Highway and Airport Pavements" will be the main courses of a six-week summer graduate program in asphalt paving technology, June 2 to July 11.

The course is being offered by the Civil Engineering Department for college engineering instructors interested in asphalt technology and construction. It will consist of six units of graduate courses which may be taken for graduate credit, together with a series of seminars on a variety of subjects pertinent to the field of emphasis.

Some special subjects to be covered in seminars and by guest lecturers will include topics such as "History, Chemistry and Rheology of Asphalt," "Design of Plant Mix Pavements," "Soil Asphalt Stabilization," and "Practical Aspects of the Design of Flexible Pavements."

Instructors for the program will include members of the School of Engineering and of the CE department and guest lecturers who are specialists in pavement design and airport engineering.

College Prexy's Safety Meet Set

Presidents of every college and university in Texas have been invited to attend or delegate some key administrator to attend the Conference on College and University Safety for Texas to be held in the Memorial Student Center Feb. 19-20.

The program is designed to create more interest and encourage college presidents and key administrators in all phases of college and university safety.

The A&M System Accident Prevention Committee under the chairmanship of John Hill, A&M System personnel insurance and safety director, will sponsor the program.

Chairman Named For Nuclear Meet

Dr. Paul C. Abersold of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission will be general chairman for the first annual Texas Conference on the Utilization of Atomic Energy to be held here March 31-April 2.

Information to be presented at the meeting in the Memorial Student Center will be in the fields of nuclear reactors, isotopes and their use, nuclear waste disposal, petroleum industry application of atomic energy and nuclear education.

Sixteen technical papers by prominent nationally-known authorities will be discussed at the meeting.

Dr. Abersold is a world authority on radioactive isotopes, according to Richard E. Wainerdi of the Texas Engineering Station, coordinator of the meeting.

Symphony

and therefore it was with more than his usual pessimism that he began the Fifth.

But performances of the completed Fifth, which many consider his best work in the symphonic medium, encouraged him to continue the work that was to produce, among others, a sixth symphony and the "Nutcracker Suite".

The second movement of the Fifth should be familiar to anyone who has ever stumbled across the old concert series on radio called "The Voice of Firestone," for the main theme in the second movement has been used by that program as a theme song for years.

Little can be said about the "Carmen" Suite, which is, in reality, part of the composer's "Suites 1 and 2", except that it was chosen, seemingly, with the very admirable idea in mind of exploiting some of the lesser-known themes in this old chestnut.

Thus we have the "Intermezzo" from the second suite instead of the famous "Habanera" and the "March of the Toreadors" instead of the "Toreador Song".

Debussy, perhaps more than any other composer, has suffered the label of "sissy" composer. His "Afternoon of a Faun", with its delicate shadings and subtle nuances certainly doesn't inspire the fire and eloquence of a Wagner, but, often leaves a more lasting effect.

The Berlioz overture is sufficiently loud and frolicsome to allow everyone to get seated while the earthy gypsy flavor of the Enesco rhapsody will leave a good taste in the mouth.
