US Senate Sends Ike Bill Raising Debt

WASHINGTON, — (P) — The Senate last night passed and sent to President Eisenhower the bill he asked raising the federal debt ceiling by five billion dollars.

The limit is now 275 billion dollars, a ceiling which the administration is approaching.

The 280 billion limit will be in effect through June 30, 1959. This is the fourth time Congress has boosted the limit temporarily at Eisenhower's request.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee argued without success the limit should be held to 278 billion dollars.

However, Sen. Kerr (D-Okla), who is due to succeed Byrd as chairman if the Virginian carries out his plan to retire, said Secretary of the Treasury Anderson had made "a complete justification" for the full five billion increase.

Senate passage came by voice vote after five hours debate. The House passed the measure 328-71 Jan. 23.

Voluntary for Students

Insurance Plan Approved By A&M Board of Directors

By RON EASLEY

A voluntary student accident insurance program to supplement the regular health program at A&M was approved Saturday by the Board of Directors.

The program, submitted by a committee of five student and five staff members, would give the students specific coverage on all medical treatment for accidents not covered by the ten-dollar medical fee.

The committee has not decided whether to place the plan before the students for approval. If approved this spring, the program will go into effect next fall.

The insurance company handling the policy would be determined by bids.

Another insurance plan, which would have been compulsory, was rejected by the students Feb. 14, 1957. Last summer the board appointed the ten-man committee to study the possibilities of another plan.

Student members of the committee were James W. Brady, Bobby Jack Melson, John Hofmann, Raymond Anthony and Lester Berry. Staff members of the committee were R. S. Nolen, Walter F. Berndt, W. S. Penberthy, Dr. Charles Lyons and John Hill.

Only students who have paid their medical fees would be eligible for the insurance. Under the plan the student would be covered for approximately 12 months from the date of issuance.

Coverage for returning students would begin three days prior to registration, and student could register for the policy for a period of two weeks after registration. Since freshmen arrive on the campus a week before returning students their coverage would include new student week.

The plan would provide for the student's protection at school and while traveling during school or vacation periods, including the summer vacation period.

All benefits in the plan will be based on a principal of $1,000.

Up to a sum of $1,000, all hospital expenses would be paid, including hospital room and board, physician's or surgeon's fees and miscellaneous hospital expenses, such as nurses, drugs, X-rays, etc., incurred within 26 weeks after the date of the accident. It would not be necessary for the student to be hospitalized to receive the benefits.

The insurance company must guarantee not to change the premium for a period of two years after the date of the policy is issued. After this period they would be allowed to change the rates. The policy cannot be cancelled by the insurer for a period of two years, the committees also stipulated.

will be conducted at the meeting except formulating the letter.

Other business conducted by the council included the council's order of a general municipal election set for April 1.

At last night's meeting, Langford announced for reelection to his post as mayor and Joe Sorrels and A. P. Boyett announced for another term as councilmen. Marion Pugh is the third councilman whose term expires this year.

In making the application for another term, Langford said, "We feel this council owes an obligation to the people of College Station which we have not fulfilled and we will seek a new term if the people want us."

All who wish to file for one of the posts must do so before next Sunday, 30 days prior to the election.

Langford especially urged citizens to turn out for this election. "Vote the way you please" he said, "but vote."
