A group of airplane enthusiasts organized the "Bryan Modelers" last Friday night at Coulter Field, hoping to provide a better place for local modelers to fly.

Newly-elected president, M. R. Osborn, announced that a hand-launched glider contest will be held on March 9, at Coulter Field. The gliders will be limited to a 20-inch wingspan and prizes will be given in the senior and junior divisions.

Other officers elected were Henry Stallings, vice president and Mrs. John Elliott, secretary.

Club meetings will be held at Coulter Field on the last Friday in each month, and flying sessions will be held each Sunday from 1-5 p.m. Members of the Club will provide free flying lessons to anyone interested.

Spring Style Show Highlights Social Club Luncheon Meeting

Spring came early when members and guests of the A&M Women's Social Club gathered Friday afternoon at the Briarcrest Country Club for a luncheon style show.

Modeled for the appreciative audience was an exciting new array of spring and summer fashions—including the new chemise creations, silk and woolen suits, colorful print blouses, coats, sportswear, cocktail frocks, formals, hats and appropriate accessories.

The fashions were provided by Lester's Smart Shop of Bryan. Models chosen from the Social Club members were the Mesdames Spike White, Phil Cutchin, Charles Richardson, Robert Branson, Walter Delaplaine, Willie Zapalac, Wayne Stark, C. H. Groneman, George Huebner, Ross Strader, Horace Bass, Robert Kamm, George Wilcox, M. T. Harrington, Jim Myers and Henry Dittman.

Mrs. A. E. Medlen provided a musical background for the show. Intermission featured several violin selections by Miss Melanie Clark.

Mrs. R. E. Branson, chairman of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Earl Knebel, Mrs. Charles Hohn and Mrs. H. S. Whitney, provided colorful decorations for the affair. The luncheon tables were also cleverly decorated, featuring pastel flowers of ribbon and English ivy.

Mrs. W. H. Clayton, chairman of table decorations, was assisted by the Mesdames H. E. Lynch, R. B. Stewart, G. E. Bayliss, C. P. Zietlow, R. J. Deland, H. A. Lowe,
