Rain, Mud Cause Cancellation Of Ag-Cougar Baseball Game

By GARY ROLLINS
Battalion Sports Editor

The baseball game with the University of Houston scheduled for yesterday afternoon was called because of a wet playing field, and has been rescheduled for this afternoon.

However, the ashen gray clouds continued to soak the diamond with moisture, and the "rescheduled" contest was called off shortly after the first announcement.

And so, Mother Nature has hampered the Texas Aggies for the time being, with the next scheduled game to be with Baylor University Friday afternoon at 3 on Kyle Field.

The Cadets have gotten off to a good start in their 1958 campaign, winning four of the five games they have played. With a starting sophomore infield unit, the Cadets have been fairly water-tight in their defense, yielding but six errors. As far as runs actually crossing the plate, they have allowed but six runs in the five contests.

The pitching has been good, with a comparison of 40 strikeouts to 29 bases on balls. Hits by opponents have been rather scarce also, as the five Aggie hurlers have allowed but 19 safeties in 45 innings. There has been one no-hitter and one two-hitter twirled by Cadet pitchers.

Nichols Trips Cougar Ace, But Aggies Lose

The University of Houston golf team trounced Coach Joe Fagan's Aggies 7-2 in a dual meet Monday at Pine Forest Country Club in Houston.

The UH Freshmen also took a lopsided 6-1 victory over the out-classed Aggie Fish.

Birdies on the first and fourth holes started the Cadets' Bobby Nichols on his way to an upset win over Border Olympic Medalist Phil Rodgers, 3 and 2. Nichols also teamed up with Buck Pruett to produce the Aggies' only other victory in the contest.

Aggie Freshman Ed Triplett scored the only Fish victory over the young Cougars when he defeated Ron Weber, 4 and 3. On the power of the column, hefty Gary Herrington leads the A&M hitting parade with a lusty .643 batting average, tallying three doubles, one triple, one round-tripper—the only one for the team—and four singles.

The Friday afternoon game with Baylor will be the first game against Southwest Conference opposition.

Fights, Violence Mar Soccer Game Deadlock

In a game that sent two men to the hospital and saw four others thrown off the field for physical violence, the Galan Construction Company of San Antonio literally fought the A&M Soccer Team to a 2-2 tie Sunday in the semi-finals of the state soccer tournament.

Scoring for the Aggies were Jaime Quesada and Gustavo Gamero, both of whom were thrown off the field later in the game by the referee, a San Antonio League official.

Carried unconscious to the hospital was Aggie Carlos Salinas, star A&M center forward. Salinas was injured in one of the first scenes of violence which marred the game.

A&M Captain Nick Hopkins had this to say about the outbursts: "The San Antonio League has long been known for unnecessary rough play, and the referee, being from San Antonio, called by their rules.

"The Aggies play with tricky ball handling and very little body contact, and that's the kind of play we're used to in the Houston Association. We tried to play that way Sunday, but after you've been apparently pushed, tripped and kicked intentionally a few times and the referee refuses to restrain the rough play, your temper begins to wear a little thin. I don't think our boys started anything; they just got blamed for it."

The tie will be played off in another game that has not yet been scheduled.
