Japanese Customs To Be Described For Women's Club

"Gracious Living in Japan" will be described by Dr. Charles M. Pomerat for members of the A&M Women's Social Club when they meet at 3 p.m. Friday in the ballroom of the Memorial Student Center.

Dr. Pomerat, professor of cellular physiology, University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston, filmed the life and customs of Japan during a recent visit to the Far East.

A linguist and artist, he is internationally known for his research in tissue culture.

Wives of foreign students attending A&M are invited as special guests for the meeting.

Foreign Student Program Discussed At AAUW Meet

Development of closer relationships between students from other lands and local residents was subject of the March meeting of the American Association of University Women, held in the social room of the Memorial Student Center.

Speakers for the evening were Mrs. Alice Reynolds Pratt, assistant director of the Institute of International Education, and Mrs. Rex Baker, chairman of its community committee in Houston.

They were introduced by Bennie Zinn, director of student affairs at A&M.

The institute was organized after World War I to develop scholarship opportunities for foreign students, and in 1952, regional offices were established in Houston. Some 4,000 students, teachers and technicians are now studying in this country under its auspices.

The Kitchen Korner

BY ZULIN C. DE PINERO

Every once in a while we like to prepare a dish that is a little more fancy, a little more exotic than usual, but which will not break the month's budget.

"Arroz con pollo," which is Spanish for chicken and rice, is a very cheap, easy-to-prepare dish; yet it will lend that extra special touch to a dinner party. It can be easily prepared in large quantities, and it also goes a long way. It is, besides, a meal in itself, and requires only a cold salad for accompaniment.

You will need a 2-pound chicken which should be cooked until almost tender in salted water to which an onion has been added for flavoring. The stock should be reserved, and the chicken can be either left in pieces or it can be boned and sliced.

Then proceed in this manner: heat 3 tablespoons oil (preferably olive oil) in a deep skillet; when hot add 1 medium onion, minced; 1 ounce salt pork, diced; 1 small bell pepper, diced; 1 bay leaf, 6 olives, 1 teaspoon capers (optional).

Saute these ingredients in the oil (over low fire) until the onion is transparent. Add the chicken and cook until golden; then add 3 more tablespoons oil and ¼ cup tomato sauce. Stir to mix, Add 2 cups rice and mix with the ingredients in the skillet.

In a separate container heat 4 cups of the reserved stock and add to the pan. Cover and allow to cook over low heat. If the rice should cook dry, add a little more of the stock. Cook for 25 minutes or until rice is tender.

When ready, turn carefully onto a large platter and sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese on the top. Garnish with whole canned red peppers and warm green peas. Yields 5 servings.

This dish also goes very well with string beans and deviled eggs.

Social Whirl

Dames Club will meet for a social at 8 tonight in the south solarium of the YMCA. Pictures of the members will be made.

Dr. M. S. Brown will speak on "Observations in Africa with Special Emphasis on Cotton" at the 7:30 meeting tonight of the Agronomy Wives Club. The group will meet in the Brooks room of the YMCA.

Range and Forestry Wives will meet at 8 tonight in the Anderson room of the YMCA. Kay King of Beverley Braley's will speak on "Budget Wardrobes."
