

Strader Appeals Firing to Directors

Chest X-rays To Be Given April 10-25

Russell Hillier has been named chairman for the TB chest April X-ray survey in Brazos county.

A mobile X-ray unit from the state health department will be in College Station April 10-11 at the Southside Shopping Center, according to Hillier.

It will be set up in Bryan at the McCulloch-Dansby Furniture Co. on the 14th of April and start chest X-rays at 1 p. m. It will continue through April 25, with the exception of Saturday, Sunday and Monday, April 21, which is a holiday. Chest X-rays will be given from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. each day.

Any person 50 years of age or older has been urged to get a chest X-ray while the unit is in Brazos county, since two-thirds of the abnormal X-ray film reports concern persons in this age group. Over 60 per cent of the deaths from tuberculosis in Texas last year were also in this age group. In the 20 to 49 age group only those who have a good medical reason will be issued a card by the TB Association permitting an X-ray.

In the 15 to 19 age group only those who have had a positive reaction to a tuberculin test will be given an X-ray.

Hillier, who served as county chairman for the last county X-ray survey, is doing everything possible to make it easy for those in the older age group to have X-rays this year.

Kamm Tells Group Of Education Ills

Dr. Robert B. Kamm, dean of the Basic Division and Student Personnel Services, outlined his observations on these critical times in American education Monday before the American College Personnel Association in St. Louis.

Kamm, president of the association, addressed some 1,800 college guidance and student personnel staff members.

To meet the problems of the world today we must increase our education facilities and quality, Kamm said.

Kamm also told the group that education should once again be coordinated so as to provide students with a unified and coordinated educational experience.

We must be especially careful to keep the individual in mind in all of our planning for the future, he said.

Aero Majors Await $1 Million Tunnel

The largest and most modern low-speed wind tunnel to be operated by any college or university in the South is expected to be ready for use at A&M by September.

The tunnel is the result of a long-range development program by the college, to which Temco Aircraft Corporation of Dallas has contributed more than $180,000.

When completed the new tunnel will be worth more than one million dollars, Temco officials estimate. Temco has provided funds for the tunnel since 1955 after studies showed the need for such facilities in the Southwest.

The tunnel will be used for research by advanced aeronautical engineering students and many industries in the South. Alfred Cronk, head of the Department of Aeronautical Engineering, called it the finest type of low speed wind tunnel that can be built.

HS Honors Day Set By Journalism Head

Donald D. Burchard, head of the Department of Journalism, has announced that the third annual Texas High School Journalism Honors Day will be held on the A&M campus April 25-26.

The conference is honoring high school boys who do outstanding work on school publications, to help create an interest in these activities and to acquaint the students with opportunities offered in journalism at Texas A&M.

Nominations from the schools across the state have been pouring into the department in Nagle Hall, with over 80 forms already received.

The guests will register in Room 9 of Nagle Hall as soon as they arrive on campus in the Journalism Department office. The Friday program will include supper in the A&M dining halls followed by a welcome by Burchard and Jim Neighbors, President of the A&M Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi. After the welcoming addresses, there will be an interesting talk by Harold Pyle, associate editor of The Houston Chronicle, titled "Journalism as a Career," and another speech by Jack Bowen, city editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle, on newspaper publication.

Saturday morning, the group will be addressed by Harry Gillam, manager of television station

KBTX-TV, followed by Joe Kendrick, national advertising manager of the Waco News-Tribune, speaking on advertising.

A very interesting movie titled "Versatility Unlimited," produced by the Bureau of Advertising of American Newspaper Public Association will also be shown.

There will be a presentation of awards by Burchard and Neighbors following the speeches, with the outstanding students receiving a certificate from the A&M College Department of Journalism for themselves and an identical copy for their schools.

The afternoon will furnish many sporting events to be seen, as the Sports Day-High School Day ceremonies overlap, and in the evening, the students will get the first peek at the single wing—a la Jim Myers—to cap off their weekend.

Math Contests Announced For Fish and Sophs

Annual Mathematics Contests examinations will be given to interested freshmen and sophomores Tuesday, April 22, Dr. E. C. Klippe, head of the Mathematics Department, has announced.

The freshman examinations will be held in Room 223 of the Academic Building and the sophomore exams in Room 225. The exams are to be given between 7:30 and 9:30 p. m.

First prize in each of the contests will be a gold wrist watch. Second and third prizes are $15 and $10 in cash, respectively.

All freshman awards and the second and third place sophomore awards are provided by the Robert F. Smith Memorial Fund, established in memory of the late Prof. Robert F. Smith.

The first prize for the sophomores has been obtained through the Halperin Award Fund, established by the estate of the late Prof. H. Halperin. Both professors were members of the Mathematics Department.

To qualify for the contests, freshmen must be enrolled in Math 104 and not repeating any freshman math course. Sophomores must currently be enrolled in Math 210 without repetition in any sophomore math course.

Final Tryouts For Follies Set Tonight

Final tryouts for a part in the 1958 Aggie Follies production of "We Is The Aggies", riddled with Cadet Slouch characters, will be held tonight in 7 in the Music Hall. C. K. Esten, advisor, said last night.

The play, written by Jim Earle and directed by John Gladwell, will be presented on May 9 and 10, Friday and Saturday nights of Mother's Day Weekend. Earle is the originator of the famed Cadet Slouch cartoons.

Four main parts and a host of minor roles are open to anyone who can meet requirements. Slouch, Simp, Fish Jethro and non-reg Cedric are the big parts in the play, but actors are needed to fill the roles of officers, sergeants, butlers and others.

About 32 aspirants were on hand for the first tryouts last night. Earle said anyone could still try for the parts tonight even if they were not on hand last night.

Several roles in the production will be filled by girls. About six were on hand last night for an audition and any others are invited to show their talents tonight.

HoustonGal Named Junior Sweetheart

Brunette, 18 year-old Frances Andrus was crowned Sweetheart of the Class of '59 at their ball Saturday night in Sbis Hall.

Miss Andrus, escorted by Thomas Braevneec, was selected from a field of five finalists. She is presently employed by the Maryland Casualty Company of Houston.

An Easter theme backdrop dominated by "Harvey the Rabbit" formed the setting for the activities which began with a filet mignon banquet. Max Stansbury, assistant manager of Continental Oil Company's Industrial Relations Department delivered the banquet speech, "The Man Most Likely."

Library Hours Cut For Spring Recess

Due to spring holidays, the Cushing Memorial Library will begin a modified schedule tomorrow, Michael V. Krenitsky, assistant librarian, has announced.

The library will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday. It will not be open Friday, Saturday and Sunday, but will open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday.

A&M Students To Take Over Weekly Papers

Eighteen students from the A&M Journalism Department will leave early Wednesday morning on an annual field trip to publish two Texas weekly newspapers during the Easter holidays. Prof. W. D. Calvert has announced.

The students have been divided into two staffs of nine, one of which will take over the Cleveland Advocate and the other which will publish the Liberty Vindicator. The Aggie issues will be dated April 10.

STAFFS NAMED

Joe Tindel, editor of the Battalion, has been named editor of the Vindicator and Joe Buser, next year's Battalion editor, will serve as junior editor.

The advertising manager of the Vindicator will be Bill Reed, a junior.

Other members of the Vindicator staff include Earl Doss, Dave Daniell and Tucker Sutherland on the editorial staff and Ervan Zouzalik, Jim Moore and Bob Weekley on the advertising staff.

John Warner will reign as senior editor at Cleveland, with the assistance of Fred Meurer, Battalion news editor, as junior editor. Other members of the editorial staff are Bob Kerr, Joe Steen and Tommy Keith.

Toby Mattox will be advertising manager for the Advocate. John DiBattista, Bob Carlisle, and Jim Costen are the other advertising staffers.

HUGE GOAL

The goal of each of the two teams is to double the average size of the newspapers and maintain 70 per cent advertising. Themes of the special editions are devoted to progress in the two cities.

This is the fourth year Calvert has taken such teams out during the Easter holidays. All previous trips have been very successful, according to Calvert.

No Batt Tomorrow

The Battalion will not be published tomorrow due to the spring recess, which begins officially at 5 p. m. Wednesday.

Hits Harrington's 'Inefficient' Motive

Ross Straders, director of Student Publications, yesterday appealed to the A&M Board of Directors to reconsider President M. T. Harrington's request that he not be employed in the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1.

Strader told the board in a letter through President Harrington that "this action by the president . . . has been a great shock to me and may have severely damaged my reputation as a person and as a newspaperman."

He pointed out to the board that he had not yet received specific reasons in writing for his removal. He said he had written a letter to the president asking for specific reasons but had not been informed of any since writing the letter.

Strader said the only reason he had heard was the one given in a Thursday release by the president saying his "services were not satisfactory."

The publications director's appeal pointed out he had no prior warning of the president's action and that he had, at no time, "knowingly violated any of the regulations or directives" which apply to his office and which ultimately stem from the president's office.

Strader told the board that the publications which he advises have won more awards this year than in any previous year. He also reported the publications program in sound financial condition, pointing out his salary is taken from Student Publications funds rather than tax moneys.

The publications director said in the appeal he had expected regular employment and a raise in pay since the Student Publications Board had commended his work, and the board and the dean of Student Personnel Services had recommended a raise for the coming year.

Dr. Harrington could not be reached last night for comment.

Strader's appeal is being made in accordance with the "Objectives and Rules and Regulations for the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College System adopted in 1954 with amendments to June 1, 1954," Section 15, page 14 which reads as follows:

"Any employee, feeling himself aggrieved, shall have the right of appeal. Appeals shall be in writing and shall be forwarded through the chief executive officer of the college or division concerned and the Chancellor (now the president) to the Board of Directors for consideration."

CHS Trustees Up For Election On Saturday

The electorate of the A&M Consolidated school district will vote Saturday to fill two positions on the Board of Trustees from six candidates.

The two positions are for east of the campus now held by J. R. Jackson and for trustee-at-large now held by J. S. Rodgers. They will be filled by the two candidates receiving the largest number of votes regardless of the section of the district in which they reside.

Under a gentleman's agreement adhered to since the district was organized in 1926, the board has been made up of three trustees from rural areas, three from urban areas and one trustee elected at large. The trustee-at-large has usually been from the urban part of the district.

Both Jackson and Rodgers are candidates for re-election. Other candidates include James B. Baty, Allen E. Denton Jr., James H. Dozier and Truman R. Jones Jr.

One of Five Autos Still Not Inspected

Roughly one out of five Texas autos have not been inspected as required by state law and only 14 more working days remain prior to the inspection deadline on April 15, Col Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported.

SPORTS

Soccer Team Takes Texas Championship

The A&M soccer team downed Casa Blanca of Dallas Sunday, 3-1, to capture the Texas soccer championship.

The Dallas contest was the final game of the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation's statewide elimination. The Aggies qualified for the semi-finals by winning five of six preliminary tilts with the Houston Soccer Association and then downing Galan Construction of San Antonio.

In Sunday's game, neither team scored in the first 45-minute half. Early in the second period, Orlando Cossani, the Aggies' right inside from Argentina, pushed the first score into the net. Carlos Salinas, A&M's center forward, tallied twice more, and the Aggies settled down to play defensive ball.

Late in the game, Roy Martinez, the Dallas captain, finally penetrated the Aggie defense to score for the hosts. Alfonso Aldape and Ernesto Alvares, the Aggie goalkeeper, played outstanding ball in preserving the A&M lead. After the game, the Aggie eleven was awarded the winning trophy given by George Alan Jewellers of Houston.

The Aggies face the Houston Blue Stars here on April 13.

Get Off My Back!

With the soccer ball on his shoulder and an unidentified Aggie on his back, a Casa Blanca player tries desperately to overcome a 3-1 deficit in Sunday's contest in Dallas. The Aggies kept their lead and captured the trophy for championship soccer team in Texas.
