Fish Stomp Ramblers, 6-0

Thompson Records Victory Strikes Out Eleven Ramblers

The Aggie Fish romped over the Allen Ramblers yesterday evening in Travis Park, shutting out the cross-town rivals by a humiliating 6-0 score.

Right-hander Joe Thompson took over the mound for the Ags in the first inning and was never in trouble as he went the route, striking out 11 men and yielding six meager hits.

The Cadets started their scoring parade in the top of the second with two runs. The inning began with a single down the right field line by Bryan Barber. A fielder's choice put Larry Huitt on first and Don Davis walked to load the bases.

Barber was forced at home to prevent one score, but Thompson walked, letting Huitt in for the first tally. Kettler hit a high fly out to left field for an out but Davis scored before the ball could be thrown home.

A&M scored again in the fourth frame after Thompson was safe on first on an error by the Rambler centerfielder. Kettler stepped into the batter's box for the Farmers and smashed a drive down the third base line that took a crazy hop away from the fielder's glove. The Allen shortstop grabbed the ball and threw to second trying to catch the Ag runner, but overthrew the base and scored Thompson.

The Ramblers threatened in the bottom of the fourth, but the Aggies rallied to stop the threat leaving two runners on base. Randy Wortham slashed a drive into left field for a single in the fifth, and was homered home by Barber's grand slam over the left field fence. The Cadets had placed two more men on base before the inning ended.

Farmer scoring ended in the sixth inning after Allen Hurler Tony Arce loaded the bases with two away and walked Kettler home.

Thompson, former S. F. Austin star on the 1957 state championship club, kept the Rambler sluggers fanning the air with his slow breaking curve and fast ball. The Bryan pitcher yielded only one walk during his nine inning stretch on the mound.

Seale was the starting pitcher for Allen Academy, but was replaced after five innings by Arce. Seale was touched for four hits and five runs, giving up nine bases on balls. He struck out two men.

Arce threw for four innings, gave up two hits, one run and four free trips to first base. He struck out none.

Walks provided the big difference in score between the two teams, with only two runs being earned off the Rambler hurlers.

The game was the third contest between the two clubs, the Fish winning the first and third games with Allen capturing the middle one. This was also the third date set for the meeting which was postponed on April 25 because of rain and Tuesday night because of a conflict in the use of the playing field.

The Aggies will close out the season against Texas Saturday in Kyle Field, meeting Wharton Junior College the previous day in a warm-up for the Saturday finale.

INTRAMURALS

As the Intramurals season is nearing its end, teams are putting forth their best efforts in the final games.

The golf championship will be decided Monday when Jerry Harris and Taylor Ewing of A Ordnance meet Dub Nash and Dick Noack of A Field Artillery. The Ordnance crew defeated C Engineers in their semifinal game, and A Field won over the White Band for their bid at the title.

In class A softball, the winner of the Maroon Band-Squadron 2 game will play the winner of the A Vet-A Ordnance game in the quarter finals. The winner of this contest will take on the winner of the Squadron 4-Squadron 1 game for the championship.

In class B softball, A Ordnance and Squadron 16 will vie with the winner playing the victor in the A Infantry-Squadron 12 game to finish the quarter finals. The champion of this bracket will take on the top team of the A Transportation-Squadron 10 contest for the Championship.

Squadron 18 won its quarter final game with B Engineers yesterday and will take on the winner of the Squadron 20-Squadron 10 match to be played today. In the other bracket, the winner of the A Quartermaster-A Infantry game will meet the winner of the B-AAA-B Composite game in the quarter finals.

In class B rifle quarter finals, Squadron 13 shot a 373 in their bid for the title. C Armor still has to shoot in that bracket. C-AAA shot a 251 in the second bracket, and A Infantry and Squadron 12 have not shot. In the third bracket, B Engineers shot a 431, White Band shot a 394, and A Composite has not fired. In the last bracket, C Infantry shot a 397, while A Ordnance must shoot later.

Track intramurals will start Monday. Preliminaries will run through Friday, with the finals in all track events coming Monday. On May 12 preliminary events will be held in class A and B 440-yard dash, A and B broad jump, and B shotput.

On Tuesday, class A and B 440-yard relay, A shotput and B high jump will take place.

On Wednesday, class A and B 880-yard run, A and B 100-yard dash and A high jump will be held.

On Friday, class A and B 120-yard low hurdles, A and B 880-yard relay and A and B pole vault will be held.

No preliminaries will be held in the field events, with each event being final. Substitutions may be made in the preliminaries but not in the finals.

Directors are reminded to have their men oriented as to when they run and in what heat and lane before they show up for the meet.
