$75,000 Allocated Plans Studied For MSC Pool

The dream of the Memorial Student Center is now approaching reality—the addition of an outdoor swimming pool to its facilities.

In its meeting last weekend the Association of Former Students Council approved an expenditure of $75,000 for 1959 with a maximum outlay of $75,000 in the next three years for the pool, according to J. B. (Doc) Hervey, executive secretary of the Association.

The money will be used to finance the study of possible location and to develop the plans as well as to partially pay for the cost of construction.

For the past several years the Building Committee of the MSC has been studying the feasibility of adding the swimming pool which was in the plans for the original building.

The pool, when completed, will be for the use of students and their guests as well as guests at the MSC, said Hervey.

Fund-raising will start by the Association this year, said Hervey.

Next action on the pool lies with the Board of Directors at its next meeting as to selecting a firm to make the survey and other action, said Hervey.

The swimming pool proposal was made to the council by the Development Fund Objectives Committee under the chairmanship of John L. Pratt, '28, of Dallas.

The council and executive board also heard reports from Joe Fagan, '42, manager of the campus golf course, and by J. Gordon Gay, Co-ordinator of Religious Life, on the use of the Interfaith Chapel.

Fagan reported that use of the course has more than doubled since it was opened in 1951 after being given to the college by the Association.

Dulles Tells UN Not to Consider Formosa Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—Secretary of State Dulles told the United Nations today the United States is opposed to U.N. consideration of the Formosa crisis as long as there is any chance of reaching agreement with Communist China in the Warsaw talks.

Informed sources disclosed this late Wednesday as the U.N.'s powerful Steering Committee postponed for 24 hours debate on whether it should recommend Assembly consideration of admission of Communist China.

The committee approved a big list of issues, including Algeria, Cyprus, disarmament and control of outer space.

Dulles delivered the general policy address of the United States to the 81-nation Assembly this morning. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will speak in the afternoon.

Informed sources said Dulles was to touch on five key subjects—the Far East crisis, the situation in the Middle East, peaceful use of outer space, Hungary, and the question of indirect aggression.

Club President Greet Doherty
W. T. (Doc) Doherty, chairman of the A&M Board of Directors, is greeted by Brazos A&M Club President Dave Fitch prior to his address before the club last night. Doherty told the club of A&M's advancements during the past six years and also of plans for improvement in the future.

Brazos Aggies Hear Director Outline Hopes

The Board of Directors and the administration of A&M will fight against Co-education all the way, W. T. (Doc) Doherty, chairman of the Board of Directors, told the Brazos A&M Club last night.

Speaking to the group at their regular monthly meeting, Doherty said, "We are entirely within our rights to deny admission to women. The statutes give us the right to set entrance requirements and regulations."

(Bryan attorney John M. Barron is appearing before the Court of Civil Appeals in Waco today arguing in behalf of the two local women who sought admission to the college earlier this year. A&M attorneys appealed the ruling of Dist. Judge W. T. McDonald allowing the women to enter A&M to the higher court.)

Little Rock Citizens Plan Private School

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Six citizens of Little Rock formed a corporation Wednesday to operate private schools, an apparent follow-up to Gov. Orval E. Faubus' plans to make private institutions of the city's four high schools.

Three more schools in Virginia faced apparent closing on orders of federal judges favoring integration. One school already has been closed because of a state law against integration.

Still another Virginia school area—the one at Norfolk faced the integration question Wednesday night. U.S. Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman called a special session to consider a request by the Norfolk School Board to knock out a state injunction against local assignment of pupils.

The "Little Rock Private School Corp." became a business when a circuit judge signed corporation papers. Faubus, who ordered the schools closed to prevent forced integration, had no comment on the action.

It could not be learned whether the group will move immediately to open private classrooms in Little Rock's high schools. However, observers expect the corporation to wait until after a special referendum Sept. 27 before taking any action. Faubus ended the election for the Little Rock School District to let voters decide whether they want integrated or segregated classrooms.

In one of the Virginia cases, Chief Judge Simon E. Sabeloff of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court at Baltimore refused to interfere with a lower court order to admit two Negroes to Lane High and 10 to Venable Elementary School at Charlottesville. He said stay orders are granted only for good cause and that there was not enough cause in this case to warrant interference.

As these developments took place, Atty. Gen. William Rogers said in Washington that public officials who are sworn to support the U.S. Constitution have no right to defy decisions of the Supreme Court which interpret the Constitution. "Individuals may not determine for themselves when they will obey the decrees of the courts and when they will ignore them," said Rogers in a speech prepared for the National Conference on Citizenship. The speech obviously was an official statement of the Eisenhower administration on the school integration issue.

Organization Held For All Senior Unit

There'll be boots aplenty showing when one A&M Cadet unit marches by in Corps reviews this year.

The unit is all-senior C Composite, which got plans for the year rolling last night in the YMCA with an organizational company meeting. Forty-three of the 46 day students composing the company were present for the meeting. All but two of the unit's members are married.

Company Commander C. A. (Buddy) Bollfrass briefed the seniors on the company's policies and objectives for the coming year, introduced other unit officers, appointed acting officers to fill vacant positions and introduced the company's drill instructor and tactical officer.

Bollfrass was named outstanding cadet at the Infantry summer ROTC camp at Fort Hood this summer. Executive officer for the company is Ray Fields, who was first sergeant of B Infantry last year. Administration officer is Clyde Tew, who was only three places behind Bollfrass for high ranking cadet at summer camp.

Maj. Edward Scott will be tactical officer for C Composite and Capt. William L. Martin is the company's drill instructor.

The unit is notorious for consistently having the highest grade average in the Corps of Cadets.

While their husbands attended the company meeting, 18 C Composite wives attended a "get acquainted" meeting also held in the YMCA. The wives made plans for providing unit activities during the year and supported their husbands in building company spirit. Eloise Bollfrass presided at the meeting.

Reviews Accomplishments
Reviewing accomplishments, problems and planned projects that have taken place during his six years on the Board (his term expires Jan. 1, 1959), Doherty pointed out that one of the main problems facing all of Texas' 18 state-supported schools is the inability to compete with both colleges in our own state and state colleges and universities in other states.

"We can't expect a top-notch professor to come here and teach, when the top salary he could hope to work up to here would still be more than $200 less than the average of all instructors where he was," said Doherty.

Expresses Hope
He expressed hope that progress along this line is underway. To help solve this problem he told of the formation of a group by the Texas state-supported schools to present the facts to the Texas Commission on Higher Education and the legislature on why the schools are asking for an additional $13,000,000.

He said he believes the commission is convinced of the need of this money for additional teaching salaries and more equipment, but that the next big hurdle is to convince the Legislature of the need.

Reds Reject Cease-Fire in Formosa
TOKYO—Red China's official mouthpiece Wednesday rejected the idea of a cease-fire in Formosa Strait while American and Red Chinese ambassadors confer in Warsaw on the crisis.

Referring to President Eisenhower's "no appeasement" speech in which he urged that arrangements be found to stop gunfire and pave the way to a peaceful solution, an article in the Peiping People's Daily said:

"There is no question of a cease-fire since China and the United States are not at war. The Chinese people have waged a struggle to liberate the whole of their territories for the past 11 years."

Reds Dump Heavier Shells on Quemoy
TAIPEI, Formosa—The Chinese Communists opened up on Quemoy with heavy artillery and deep-penetration shells Wednesday in what appeared to be a new attempt to smash Nationalist gun positions.

Previous heavy shellings were aimed at blasting supply vessels coming ashore at Quemoy or at Nationalist troops. The guns now being used by the Reds were described by Nationalist ordnance experts as 204mm. and 212mm. weapons, as compared to the 152mm. artillery previously aimed at Quemoy. The smaller artillery splattered the island with antipersonnel shells which burst into fragments. The new, bigger guns use deep-penetration shells.

Moscow Charges U. S. on Peace
LONDON—Moscow radio charged Wednesday the United States has written off in advance any prospect of a Far East settlement through the Warsaw peace talks.

Moscow radio's commentator said U. S. agreement to enter ambassador-level negotiations with the Chinese Communists coincided with a movement of U. S. military reinforcements to the Far East.

Intensification of military preparations and evacuation of families of U. S. servicemen, show that Washington does "not attribute any significance to the Warsaw talks, and rejects in advance any prospect of a peaceful settlement of the conflict in the Far East," the radio said.

Redstone Again Fires Successfully
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—A Redstone, the nation's most advanced ballistic missile and reportedly the first to fire a nuclear warhead, roared aloft from the Cape Wednesday.

The 63-foot medium-range weapon was launched as one of the final steps in the Army's development program to make the missile operational.

The Redstone, which helped push three Explorer satellites into orbit as the first stage of the Jupiter-C launching vehicle, rose straight up on a tail of orange flame, curved toward the southeast and was out of sight in two minutes.
