

Aggies Picked to Down Raiders

Ken Beck

All-American candidate Ken Beck will be a stalwart in the line this weekend for the Aggies when they face the Red Raiders in the Cotton Bowl.

BOB WEEKLEY

Gazing deep into the crystal ball see the Longhorns, Rice, TCU, Arkansas and A&M heading toward intersectional victories this weekend under full sail. SMU, one of the top teams in the SWC, will not charge into action this week, but will continue laying the stage for their battle with the No. 1 team in the nation, Ohio State, next week.

Texas 19, Georgia 6: The Steers are young, fat and sassy, and have a pinch of Oklahoma's faculty for striking swiftly under ex-Sooner Darrell Royal. They should win running away.

Rice 7, LSU 13: There's no Hill and Ryan around in the backfield, so the Bayou boys should run rough-shod over the Owls from Houston.

TCU 30, Kansas 0: Picked to finish first, the Frogs should have no trouble at all from the Wheat Shockers. The score may be worse than this.

Arkansas 14, Baylor 13: I don't see how you can pick a winner in this game. Both teams should be fighting it out for the SWC cellar before the season is over.

A&M 28, Tech 13: You've been hearing about this game all week, so why bother to pick the winner.

An interesting sidelight to this game should be the bad luck hounding the Tech players.

Last year it was the Aggies sick with the flu that played a weak Tech team. This year it's the Raiders sick with a virus playing a weak Aggie team.

Looking at the other top games being played over the nation this weekend UCLA should drop Pittsburgh by a close score.

Bruins in Shape; Dickerson Follows Sanders' Pattern

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The late UCLA football coach, Red Sanders, had many interesting theories about coaching. Red used to say, for instance, that he'd rather have an under-coached rested team than an over-coached tired team on the field. Big George Dickerson, who stepped up as head coach when Sanders died of a heart attack last month, has the same theory, and he has left unchanged most of the Bruin training routine. So Saturday UCLA will field a squad at full strength, with many an injured player, when the Bruins open the season here against Pittsburgh.

Dickerson followed the Sanders pattern of departmental coaching, letting the various assistants handle their specified jobs and himself acting as general overseer. The Bruin workouts, in Sanders fashion, are quick, fast and, for the players, generally interesting. The one difference might be that where Sanders was never too close to the individual players, Dickerson, who was Red's assistant for his nine years at UCLA, was always the father-confessor type. It was part of George's responsibility, and also his nature. It was to him the players brought their personal problems. If the problems needed Sanders' attention, Red assumed them. This isn't to say that Dickerson, himself a fine lineman in his playing days at UCLA, is on a buddy-buddy basis with the youngsters. He commands respect.

Ty Cobb holds the Detroit Tigers' consecutive hitting streak record. He hit in 40 straight games in 1911.
