council the possibility of having a National Guard armory built here. He said the possibility is great but the first step would be to deed a suitable site to the Texas Army Board. Langford, Boswell and Hershell Burgess were appointed to make a further study and report back to the council.

A letter was read to the council by Langford from Marion Pugh offering to sell the city property and buildings he owns for warehouse usage. Councilman Carl Landiss and Boswell were appointed to study the problem and report to the council at its next meeting.

The council adopted Ordinance No. 270 which provides for a public hearing Oct. 20 upon proposed changing to industrial classification, the land recently annexed which is west of the T&N railroad tracks.

Street Roller Bid Okayed

Approval was given to Boswell to accept a bid of $1,377.50 for a street roller from Brown-Ferris Equip Co. of San Antonio. Other bids were for $1,605 and $1,325. Boswell asked the council to take the Brown-Ferris bid in preference to the lower bid because of immediate delivery and better quality of machinery.

Final approval was given to the final subdivision plan for Woodson Village.

The council authorized Boswell to attend the International City Managers' Association meeting in Dallas Oct. 19-23. It also authorized to underwrite the expenses of Langford, Boswell and Wright to the Texas Society of Architects annual meeting in San Antonio Oct. 29-31.

Upon motion by Sorrels, a motion was passed giving the city manager power to contact the St. Thomas Episcopal Church with regard to the completion of their parking lot within 60 days so as to make Jersey Street from Lee Street to Dexter Street no parking on the north side of the street after that date.

Councilman D. A. Anderson asked of the possibility of employing a woman to replace the policeman who is now stationed at Jersey and Highway 6 from 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and from 2:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. on school days. Boswell said that the city is looking for a woman to fill the position, but that thus far no one has been found. The job pays $85 per month.

Anderson and Boswell were picked by Langford to study a report and make their recommendations on the report by the city auditor on the length of time to store certain records.
