Police School In Final Week; Ends Friday

The annual police training school at A&M is in its fourth and final week. The program began Sept. 2, and is due to close Friday. It is designed to give the law enforcement officer a better understanding of the laws of our state. The program is broken down into four phases, each a week long. The first week is made up of basic courses. Following them, courses in criminal law, criminal investigation and traffic law and enforcement are taught. Ira Scott, one of the instructors said that during the course the men are taken on two field trips. The first is to Austin, where they are shown through the Department of Public Safety. The other is a tour of the state penitentiary at Huntsville, where they gain a better understanding of the state prison system. Scott said that there were about 25 men in each class, and the only requirement for taking the course is to be a police officer.

Topic of Talks Not Released

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek talked for more than three hours with the top U. S. military commander in the Pacific Tuesday.

What they discussed was not disclosed. It seemed likely the Nationalist leader asked U. S. Adm. Harry D. Felt for either a go-ahead to bomb Red coastal positions or more direct U. S. aid in getting supplies to blockade Quemoy.

This seemed to indicate there had been no change in the U. S. policy of not attempting to carry the fighting to the China mainland. Various spokesmen on Formosa have been threatening to retaliate against the mainland. But the Formosa regime has pledged, in exchange for U. S. help, to take no such action without permission from Washington.

Bomb Found in Top of Eiffel Tower

PARIS—French police, troubled by Algerian rebel terrorism, raced to the top of the Eiffel Tower Tuesday to remove a dynamite time bomb planted in a washroom there.

It was defective, officials said, otherwise it could have blown the top off the famous landmark. The bomb with an eerie arrangement of wires was spotted by a French woman tourist. The tower is visited by thousands of tourists every year.

The planting of the bomb came at a time when Algerian rebels both in France and Algeria were stepping up a campaign to discredit the new constitution proposed by Premier Charles de Gaulle. A referendum on the constitution will be held Sunday.

U.N. Refuses Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The U.N. General Assembly Tuesday approved a U. S. proposal to postpone for another year any action on the seating of Red China.

The American victory, however, was not so decisive as in previous years.

The vote was 44 to 28 with 9 abstentions. The vote on the same question a year ago was 48 to 27 with 6 abstentions.

Little Rock Schools Ask Federal Advice

The Little Rock Board of Education asked Tuesday for a quick test in federal court of an Arkansas plan to lease four closed high school buildings to a corporation for use as private segregated schools.

The board petitioned U. S. District Court to say whether it can legally lease the buildings. It said it is willing to do so if the court will absolve the board from contempt action.

Gov. Daniel Demands Oil Import Cut

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Gov. Price Daniel, reinforced by Oklahoma Gov. Raymond Gary, called on the Southern Governors Conference today to demand mandatory restrictions on oil imports.

Daniel was opposed by Republican Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland, who made a plea for free trade.

Govs. Luther Hodges of North Carolina, A. B. Chandler of Kentucky and John Coleman of Mississippi came to Daniel's defense and pledged support of his request.

It appeared that the joint Texas-Oklahoma resolution would pass in Wednesday's closing session.

Band to Play Saturday Despite 'Raw Deal'

By JOE BUSER
Battalion Editor

Members of the 240-piece Texas Aggie Band will travel to Houston Saturday to support their team on the field and in the stands despite the second raw deal in as many years at the hands of the University of Houston.

Initially, the Band elected to make the 90-mile trip without marching since they were allotted no time during the half.

Jack Skaggs, commander of the Consolidated Bands, said "The Band wants to go and support the team even if we don't get to march."

An offer to march before the game after pre-game warmups was considered, Skaggs said, and was accepted, not because it was a fitting time for the world-famous Aggie Band to perform but it was the only time available.

Lt. Col. E. V. Adams, director of the Band, said last night the drill would, of necessity, be short. He said the bandmen would play "The Spirit of Aggieland" from the marching "T" on the field to eliminate the rush of moving into the stands to play it before game time.

Col. Adams said the drill would begin after both teams had left the field and would be over before they returned for the kickoff to prevent a recurrence of the "crowded" condition the Band experienced last year when they were forced to march around and through the Cougar team to leave the field.

Half-time activities for the A&M-U of H game will consist of a mass display of 85 Texas high school bands celebrating the annual University of Houston Day.

CHS Dance Band Entertains Kiwanis

College Station Kiwanis got in the swing, so to speak, as they were entertained by the A&M Consolidated High School dance band at their noon luncheon Tuesday.

The 12-piece band is under the direction of CHS Band Director Walton (Lefty) Hinds. Hinds, who began his first year at Consolidated with the opening of school, will direct all high school band and choral groups.

Hinds even lends a hand in the dance band, manning one of the two trombones. Other instruments include four saxophones, a piano, tuba, drums, and three trumpets. The band played six special arrangements Tuesday.

Kiwanis also began plans for selling pre-football game box lunches at all Aggie home games this season.

"Last year our lunch sale was very successful," said Vice President K. A. (Cubby) Manning. "But this year there are only three home games and two of them are at night. So if we come up to par, we're going to have to hustle."

He said the box lunch sales had been one of the club's chief money-making activities in previous years.

Public Relations Training Studied

Members of the public relations committee of the A&M Journalism Advisory Council met with D. D. Burchard, Journalism Department head Monday to investigate the possibility of including more public relations courses in the A&M journalism curriculum.

The journalism advisory council was formed last spring when President M. T. Harrington appointed 47 men representing leadership in the mass communication field to work with and assist A&M's department in doing the most efficient job possible in training young men for work in journalism. The council will also assist the department in training students to work effectively with persons in the professional journalism field.

Members of the public relations committee include Jas. A. Knight, chairman, public relations manager for Alcoa Aluminum's Rockdale plant; John L. Mortimer, district director of public relations, U. S. Steel Corp.; and Pat Daniels, public relations director of the Alvin, Texas, State Bank. Gene Robins, agricultural department, Houston Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the advisory council, was also present at the meeting.

Mortimer said the committee is developing recommendations for a public relations major at A&M that would be equal to or better than offered by any school in the United States.

Chemistry Prof At AICE Meeting

Dr. C. D. Holland, associate professor in the Department of Chemical Engineering attended the national meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers at Salt Lake City, Utah, Monday and Tuesday.

He was co-author of a paper, "High Speed Computing by Use of the Thiele and Geddes Approach to Multicomponent Distillations," which was based on research he conducted for the Humble Oil and Refining Co. in 1955.

Tuition Grants Open to Oct. 15

A limited number of tuition scholarships will be available this fall according to an announcement by the Faculty Scholarships Committee.

These scholarships take the form of refunds for the additional $25 which was added to the matriculation fee under terms of a bill which was passed by the Texas Legislature in 1957.

To qualify for the refunds students must show that the added tuition created a serious financial hardship for them. Other requirements are: (1) applicants must have completed at least one semester or more at A&M with an over-all grade point average of 1.00 on work taken at this college, (2) applicants must be legal residents of Texas and (3) applications must be filed with the Secretary, Faculty Scholarships Committee, Office of the Registrar, on or before Oct. 15.

IBM Corporation Aiding Students

The International Business Machines Corporation will forfeit over nine thousand dollars in profits this year for the benefit of business students.

According to Dr. John Roche, associate professor of business administration, the I. B. M. Corporation is providing the college with four of their machines at no cost. In addition to this, they service the equipment free of charge, he said.

These machines, a printing card punch, a sorter, a tabulating and printing machine, and an accounting machine, have a monthly rental value of eight hundred dollars. Roche pointed out that the only expense borne by the school is for punch cards and paper for the machines, plus the teachers' salary.
