Gifted Science, Math Students Get Challenge

A program now starting its second year here provides a challenge for students gifted in science and mathematics.

From among the beginning freshman students, 46 were chosen on the basis of test scores to take part in the special program offered by the Basic Division in cooperation with the Department of Mathematics.

The students are enrolled in an analytics course and upon successful completion of the course they will receive college credit in algebra, trigonometry and analytics.

They were selected on the basis of placement tests, given during New Student Week and special tests offered later in mathematics achievement.

Dr. C. H. Ransdell, associate dean of the Basic Division, says these students are also placed in a position where they may receive a special opportunity in English if they prove themselves in writing ability during the first semester they may be given the opportunity to take an advanced course in English in lieu of the regular second semester English courses.

Students selected for the special course in analytics are as follows:

William Alexander Westbrook, Paul Frederick Heye, Donald Lee Fletcher, Jack Frederick Paris, Roy Wayne Thompson, Ramsey Kermit Melugin, James David Carnes.

William Dougherty Compton, Reed Straud Armstrong, Robert Franklin Ford, Terrence Doyle Gossett, Carl Edwin Symm, Jerry Paul Easter, and Richard Brian Wadsworth.

Industrial Ed Club Picks Prexy

Wayne Doyle, '60, of College Station, was elected president of the Industrial Education Club Tuesday night, as nearly 50 students turned out for the club's first meeting of the new school year.

Other officers elected were, Cecil Labhart, vice president; Ben Edmondson, secretary; Bob Peters, treasurer; Jim Riggs, reporter; Bob Holifield, program chairman; Ed Mikulenko, social chairman; Tony Pustejovsky, assistant social chairman; Clem Sherek, assistant social chairman; and Stanley Williams, junior representative to engineers council.

School Plan Met By Opposition

Little Rock Scene Of Some Violence

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People moved Wednesday to block Little Rock's private school plan as scattered violence between Negroes and whites broke out in this racially tense city.

Wiley A. Branton of Pine Bluff, Ark., Negro attorney for the NAACP, filed a petition in U. S. District Court asking that the Little Rock School Board be enjoined from leasing school properties to a private corporation.

The petition asked further that such private schools, if they are opened, be required to admit Negro students under the integration plan previously in effect at Central High School.

★ MSC Needs Help In Food Dept.

Interviews for part-time cashiers and waiters to work in the Memorial Student Center Fountain Room and Dining Room are now being held, according to Mrs. G. M. Black, food director for the MSC.

Mrs. Black said that experience was not required but it would be helpful. Working hours will be arranged as class schedules will permit. Interested personnel should contact Mrs. Black from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Main Desk in the MSC.

K&F Club to Hear Segregationist

John Temple Graves II, one of today's most forceful advocates of segregation and states rights, will be guest speaker for the Monday night meeting of the Bryan-College Station Knife and Fork Club.

Graves, a Birmingham, Ala., newspaperman, columnist, writer and public speaker, will address the club at its meeting in the Memorial Student Center.

A syndicated columnist in almost 100 newspapers throughout the country, Graves is the great grandson of John C. Calhoun.

BSU Initiates Devotion Meets

Evening devotional meetings begin this week in the Baptist Student Center.

The services consist of songs, prayers and talks by selected speakers on topics of interest to young men.

The meetings will be held from 7 to 7:25 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday with exception of the nights when yell practices are to be held.

The programs will be under the direction of Rufus Sprayberry.

SCUBA School Starts Tuesday

A SCUBA diving short course will begin Tuesday at 7 p.m.

The course will be supervised by the Department of Oceanography and Meteorology. The initial meeting will be held in Room 305, Goodwin Hall and pupils may register then.

The applicant may be male or female, must be in good health and able to swim. The program is set up in 10 two-hour weekly sessions, four class, five pool, and one testing.

The prices are $10 for students and staff and $20 for non-college personnel. All equipment will be furnished except a face mask.

Dorm Constitution Drafted by Walton

Walton Hall, with the aid of Alton Linne, civilian student counselor, is in the process of drafting its constitution.

As soon as the constitution is completed elections are to be held for dorm president, student council representative, and ramp representatives.

Special projects under consideration for the year include the organization of a dormitory newspaper, purchase of a television set for the lounge, organization of an intramural program and a dorm barbecue.

Sam Ridgeway, Walton dorm master, indicated the constitution should be completed early this week. The elections will be held as soon as it has been approved by the dorm.

Milner Hall Plans Saturday Outing

Milner Hall students will hold a hamburger fry Saturday in Hensel Park, Dennis Ryan, president of Milner's dormitory council, said yesterday.

A softball game at 4 p.m. will begin the activities, followed by the meal at 5, Ryan said.

Any Aggie who desires to participate in this and other Milner activities must buy a $2 activity card from a Milner dorm council representative.

Chinese Sabres Search Strait for More Migs

TAIPEI, Formosa. (AP)—Nationalist Chinese Sabre Jets swept back over the Formosa Strait today in search of more Red Chinese MIGs to add to the 10 reported shot down yesterday in a giant jet air battle.

Two more of the Russian-made fighters were possibly destroyed and three possibly damaged in the swirling conflicts that raged over more than 400 miles of the Strait.

More than 100 MIGs and 82 Nationalist planes were involved, the air force reported, but nine Nationalist planes did the damage. Capt. Chien Yee Chiang was credited with sending two MIGs screaming down into the sea and the blazing guns of eight other pilots brought down one each, the air force said in a communique that revised earlier Defense Ministry statements.

The toll was the greatest air triumph in Nationalist China's history and one of the world's greatest jet air victories.

On another front, Nationalist air force transports scored again with a successful air drop Wednesday night on Little Quemoy, six miles off the Red China mainland and two miles west of Quemoy. There the improving supply picture is threatening effectiveness of the Communist artillery blockade.

Adm. Liu Hoh-tu, Nationalist military spokesman, said a Red plan to lure the Nationalists over the mainland backfired.

All of the Sabres and their American-trained and equipped pilots returned safely.

Industrial Majors Eligible for $500

Applications are now being accepted for the Alvin M. Smith Industrial Distribution scholarship at Industrial Distribution office.

This $500 scholarship, awarded each spring to students working toward a B. S. degree in industrial distribution, is given by the Southern Industrial Distributors' Assn. in memory of Alvin M. Smith, formerly secretary-treasurer and president of the association.

The purpose of the scholarship is two-fold: to lessen financial handicaps for capable, ambitious men; and to increase the attention of industrial distribution as a career. The scholarship is awarded on the basis of the need of the student, his scholastic record, his interest in industrial distribution and his seriousness of purpose.

The applicant must be either of junior or senior classification. Applications should be accompanied by a transcript and recent photograph.

Fish to Continue Taking Basic Math

Top freshman entering the field of engineering last year were selected as guinea pigs for an academic experiment by the Basic Division.

Three hundred entering freshmen, who had excelled both in high school math and on the battery of aptitude and achievement tests administered to all entering freshmen were picked to take special math tests and 100 were selected to take part in the experiment.

The program was a pilot study to determine whether or not entering freshmen were capable of taking Math 104, analytical geometry, the first semester instead of algebra or trigonometry.

Members of the group who made a C or better in the 104 class were allowed to advance to Math 209, calculus, and given a full credit for 102 and 103.

Of the students that made an A in 104, 57 per cent made A in 209, 65 per cent of those making D or F in 104 made an A in 102 and 103.

The results of the test show that although the experiment was moderately successful, it would be better to keep 102 and 103 as beginning math for freshmen.

SCONA IV Plans Initial Luncheon

SCONA IV will hold its first general meeting of the school year Monday at noon in the Memorial Student Center Assembly Room.

The meeting will be a luncheon and all SCONA IV members must R.S.V.P. to the MSC Director's Office before noon Friday.

Earlier this week at a meeting of the Executive Committee, Chairman Bob Pfeuffer told his committee chairman that after a summer of devoted work by members of the finance committee and other members, the finances were in good shape.

Preliminary plans for the annual conference to be held early in December will be made according to Pfeuffer.

Students Needed To Direct Traffic

About 35 students are needed to and after the A&M-Missouri football game Oct. 4, Fred Hickman, Campus Security, said yesterday.

Those students who are interested in working should apply for this work at the Campus Security Office the first of the week prior to the game. Work assignments will be issued Monday.

Tanks Stop Lebanese Fighting

BEIRUT, Lebanon.—Lebanon's new President Gen. Fuad Chehab stopped a deadly outburst of civil warfare here yesterday with heavy tanks and troops. Wednesday night he named a former rebel leader as his premier.

Nineteen were killed in the day's communal fighting between Christians and Moslems.

State's Finances to Go Into Red

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said Wednesday the state's finances will go into the red in October "and stay there."

Calvert said he did not know what the deficit would be when the fiscal year ends next Aug. 31. At the end of this year, the General Revenue Fund held only 13 million dollars, after the big revenue payments of June, July and August had come into the State Treasury.

"The deficit will take us back to the days of 1933 to 1943 when state warrants were discounted for people to get their money," he said.

UT Newspaper Hits Dallas Price Hiking

AUSTIN—The Daily Texan, student newspaper at the University of Texas, asked editorially today that the Oklahoma-Texas game not be played in Dallas again if "price hiking" is practiced this year.

The editorial was headlined "Cease The Soaking." "It said: "We're glad to hear that Mayor R. L. Thornton of Dallas thinks the Big D hotels and motels are doing an 'excellent job'. But from what we hear from irate students, parents and alumni, they are doing an excellent job of soaking the fans for the OU weekend."

Temple Girls to Recite Here

Mary Sue Hooks and Kaki Dowling from Temple High School will give dramatic readings for the
