Full Weekend's Activities Planned

Rue Pinalle Kicks Off First Home Game Program

The first of a series of activity-burdened weekends will begin tonight as Aggies and their dates take in Act I of Cafe Rue Pinalle. The forecast for Saturday calls for many varied activities on the campus beginning with the regular inspection and drill and ending with an after-game dance in the Memorial Student Center.

Guests will lock arms and march to The Grove for the first mid-night yell practice. R. D. (Smookey) Hyde, head yell leader, is scheduled to talk to the student body on the "Aggie Spirit."

Saturday the Aggie Band will march onto the track at Kyle Field at 6:53, leading the long line of khaki-clad units.

The last unit will clear the center track by 7:15. The Corps units will march in the sequence of Band, Corps Staff, 2nd Regiment, 1st Wing, 1st Regiment and 2nd Wing.

John O. (Jack) Teague, Corps public information officer, will announce the units and their commanders as they pass the stands in front of the press box.

To top off the weekend of activities a second dance is scheduled to get under way in the MSC after the yell practice, following the game.

Bill Turner's Aggieband Combo will play for the after-game dance and Dave Woodard and his combo will provide the music for Cafe Rue Pinalle.

Also at the Friday night dance will be three Texas Woman's University students, Pianist Pat Deminor, Singer Cynthia Cohen and Sword Dancer, Jerri Keith, will put on a floor show.

Honor Council Meets Tonight

The Corps Honor Code Council will hold its second organizational meeting tonight at 7 in the Corps Conference Room, according to George R. (Randy) Curtis, deputy Corps commander.

Maj. Charles M. Taylor Jr., adviser to the council, is scheduled to talk to the senior cadets. There is also to be representative from the Civilian Student Council at the meeting.

The Council composed of a representative from each group and battalion in the Corps, held its first meeting last Friday night.

Ole' Army Shines, Says Losing Barron

By JOHNNY JOHNSON
Battalion News Editor

"It was a great day for Ole' Army," Bryan attorney John M. Barron said last night, commenting on the reversal by Waco's 10th District Court of Civil Appeals of 42nd District Judge W. T. McDonald's ruling last spring that girls should be allowed to enter A&M. "Judge Jake Tirney (Waco jurist who read the decision of the court) should be made starting wingback for the Aggies and Judge Frank McDonald (one of the other two jurists on the civil court bench) should be starting blocking back and top assistant to Head Coach Jim Myers," he continued.

"Tirney Always Delivers. Mistead might fumble, but Tirney will always deliver the ball for the Aggies," Barron said.

The ruling was read by Justice Tirney, shortly after the court opened at 9 a. m. yesterday. Justice McDonald concurred and the other member of the court, Justice Joe Hale was sick and did not attend. Barron said a motion for a rehearing for the trial would probably be filed with the Waco court today.

Writes Appeal

"I felt two weeks ago that the court was against us, and I've had the appeal typed up since then," said Barron.

If the court refuses to grant a rehearing, as Barron expects it will, the appeal will be filed with the Texas Supreme Court, he said.

"I have great confidence in the fairness and judgment of the Texas Supreme Court. I feel that they will review the case and hand down the proper opinion," the Bryan attorney added.

Two Bryan Women

Barron is representing the two Bryan women, Mrs. Lena Ann Bristol and Mrs. Barbara Alice Tittle, who were denied admission to A&M during the last spring semester. The women won their case in the district court, but Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, representing the college, filed the appeal with the Waco court.

"About Halftime" "It's just about halftime in this legal football game with A&M holding a slight edge, 7-6. But we plan to use our first team during the second half. There are four courts to go through and we've been through two of them, each side winning one quarter.

"If, however, the Texas Supreme Court rules against or refuses to take the case, I will appeal to the highest court in the land—the United States Supreme Court.

Legal Equality

"The concept of legal equality hasn't reached Texas yet, except by television. If the women are entitled under the law to enter (A&M), then we want them to have these rights.

"Of course we're also at a disadvantage because A&M has power and influence on its side," the attorney concluded.

At Austin, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson had no comment on the ruling.

Here on the campus, Duncan Dining Hall rocked with wildcat when the announcement was made at Thursday's noon chow.

Civilian Student Council President Tom Beckett had this comment: "I'm not really surprised. I know it will work a hardship on the wives of faculty and students, but coeducation would rob the college of some of the traditions that make A&M great."

Vice President Earl Rudder declined to comment officially on the ruling.

Don Cloud

Don Cloud, Corps commander, said yesterday, "It's a great thing for A&M. Our school can now continue to be one of the last strongholds where a person interested in academic achievement can come and pursue his goal and at the same time receive the benefits of training offered by the Corps of Cadets. All of this would be hampered by the presence of female students and I feel that the people of Texas would not want to see such a great thing as A&M ruined."

This Week's Sign Winner

C Field Artillery won this week's $5 prize weekend's game between the Ags and the University of Missouri Tigers.

Reveille II's Fate Discussed

Senate Discusses Full Slate; Chest, Seating Head List

By BILL REED
The Student Senate Thursday night elected to keep the same seating in Kyle Field as was used last year.

The Senate also discussed the Campus Chest Drive, elected delegates to attend Southern Methodist University's United Nations conference, discussed A&M-Texas Women's University relations and suggestions concerning Reveille II.

William R. (Bill) Markillie, head of Student Life Committee, made a report to the Senate which designated ramps M and N as sophomore sections, Ramp O as junior section, and Ramps P and Q for the seniors.

Campus Chest Drive
The Senate members carried on a lengthy discussion concerning how to reach the $7,000 goal of this year's Campus Chest Drive.

Don Rummel, head of Student Welfare Committee, presented a suggestion made by his committee whereas company and squadron public information or supply sergeants would be in charge of collecting the donations from their individual units.

As for the Civilians, Charlie Graham, vice president of Civilian Student Council, is in charge of collections. Rummel said Graham would work out his own method of taking up donations.

Delegates to UN
William A. (Bill) Myers, head of the Issues Committee, was elect by the Senate as the senior delegate to the SMU's UN conference October 24-25 in Dallas.

Other representatives elected to attend the conference are Joseph J. (Jake) Sekerka, junior delegate and Don K. Reinhardt, sophomore delegate.

Registration fee for each delegate to the conference is $10. The Senate approved a motion to allocate $20 toward sending the delegates, if the Student Conference on National Affairs will pay for sending one delegate, a SCONA member. The motion also stated that the Senate would pay the full amount of sending all three.

Rev Detracts Audience
George R. (Randy) Curtis brought a discussion before the group pertaining to putting Reveille II on a leash and let her march with the Aggie Band rather than run freely on the field at halftime.

The fact that Reveille's activities on the field detracts the audience from the band's performance prompted the discussion. The matter was referred to the Issues Committee by John Thomas, Student Senate President.

Vets Want Reveille
Also involving Reveille was a discussion involving the transfer of the mascot from the quartermaster unit to a A Vet company. Richard E. Whitmire, junior representative from the School of Veterinary Medicine, presented the point to the group. This matter was also referred to the Issues Committee for a full-scale investigation.

Whitmire said, "Reveille should be put into the veterinarians' custody, because they are the logical ones to take care of the mascot."

A&M-TWU Relations
Since A&M didn't get along with TWU so well last year, a discussion was brought concerning the betterment of Aggie-Tessie relationships this year. Ronald Buford, vice president of Memorial Student Center Council, requested that the Public Relations committee study the problem.

Benjamin (Bennie) Corbo was elected temporary recording secretary to the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association. The method of electing a permanent recording secretary was referred to the Issues Committee for study.

A telegram from the SMU student body, addressed to the President A&M student body, was read at the meeting. It said:

"Good luck against Missouri. Let's keep the Southwest Conference on top."

The Aggies will attempt to hit the comeback trail tomorrow night when they face the University of Missouri Tigers on Kyle Field, and if history repeats itself the Cadets are fairly certain of victory.

For it was back in 1954 that the Cadets' new coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant, faced a similar situation that Jim Myers now confronts. After defeats to Texas Tech and Houston, the '54 Aggies clipped Georgia, 6-0, for their first victory.

Myers' single wingers have lost to the same two opponents, but now they face a Missouri team. If they have the courage and ability they should down the "Show Me" squad. Missouri, victories over Idaho last week, 14-10, after an 8-12 loss to Vanderbilt, features the running of Halfbacks Hank Kuhlmann and Norris Stevenson and the line play of Guards Charles Rash and Don Chadwick.

Myers has planned few changes for the game. Dick Gay, one of the A&M captains, was the outstanding Aggie on the field against Houston and should be in top form for Saturday's game. The Shreveport senior should be in shape to have another good season after getting off to a slow start.

Charley Milstead also has come along well after suffering a shoulder bruise against Tech. His play at tailback has been one of the bright spots in an otherwise dismal Aggie start.

The Cadet eleven has shown more spirit and enthusiasm this week than any time since the start of fall practice. Tuesday was termed "the best practice to date" by the coaching staff.

The Tigers have a dangerous offensive, employing the winged-T, split-T, straight-T, single wing and double wing. It's the same offense Missouri Coach Dan Devan used so successfully at Arizona State before taking the Missouri job.

Odds-makers have chosen the Cadets a 5½-point favorite over the Tigers, but the Ags will be out to widen the gap even more in revenge for their two humiliating losses to Houston and Tech.

Game time is 8 p. m.

Seating Plan Stays Same as 1957

The seating plan that was used last year will be effective again at the 1958 home football games with but one major alteration—seniors and their dates will have more seating space, W. L. Penberthy, director of Student Activities, said yesterday.

Approved by the Student Senate last night, the plan adds 320 seats to the senior section, located in sections 130, 131, 132 and part of 129. These sections take up the area from the 10 to the 50 yard line and will accommodate 3,126.

"This should allow for about 1,000 Aggie senior dates," Penberthy said.

Juniors will sit in most of section 129, section 128 and one fourth of section 129, totaling 1,608 seats and allowing for 700 dates.

Sophomores and freshmen will take the seats in sections 127, 126, 125, 124 and 123, totaling 1,503 seats.

As last year Civilian seniors will sit in the upper half of the senior section, Civilian juniors in the upper third of their section and Civilian sophomores and freshmen in the upper fourth of their section.

Two Air National Guard pilots made safe, emergency landings yesterday afternoon after one ran out of fuel while returning from a practice alert near Lufkin.

One of the two F-86D's made its landing at Easterwood Field and the other made a safe set-down on a ranch air strip near Iola, about 20 miles northeast of here.

The Sabre piloted by 2nd Lt. Wendell Ogden, 22, had a flame-out from lack of fuel about 15 miles northeast of Bryan at 3:35 p. m. and for a while it was feared that he bailed out.

The Highway Patrol found the pilot and plane shortly after 4, both unhurt.

2nd Lt. Paul Meath, 22, pilot of the other jet, made an emergency landing at Easterwood after he lost visual contact with his wingman, shortly after the flame-out. Meath's craft sputtered to a halt just as he pulled onto the parking ramp.

Both pilots were members of the 11th Fighter Interceptor Squadron (Air National Guard) at Houston.
