Russians Close CBS Moscow Bureau

MOSCOW—The Soviet government Wednesday ordered the Columbia Broadcasting System to close its Moscow bureau and ordered CBS correspondent Paul Niven to leave within two weeks.

Niven said he was summoned to the Foreign Ministry and told the action was taken because of Soviet dissatisfaction at some recent CBS programs, especially a TV play, "The Plot to Kill Stalin."

Judge Rules Against Segregationists

A federal judge Wednesday slammed another door on the South's hopes to escape racial integration of classrooms when he ruled publicly paid teachers must not work in Virginia's makeshift private schools as long as they are segregated.

Already denied use of public school buildings for private classes in Arkansas, segregationists thus had the second major prop knocked from beneath their private school plans.

Dairy-Biochemistry Building Dedicated

"This building represents a serious obligation on the part of the college to the people of Texas for continued advancement in the fields of dairy science and biochemistry and nutrition," President M. T. Harrington told approximately 100 people at the formal dedication of the $1,500,000 new Dairy and Biochemistry Building yesterday.

W. T. Doherty, president of the A&M Board of Directors, formally presented the building to President Harrington, who accepted it on behalf of the college.

Garland Laseter, representing the dairy industry of Texas, spoke briefly on the dairy industry's stake in research and education.

A review of nutrition and biochemical investigations to the livestock feed industry was given by Steele Wright of Nacogdoches who represented the feed industry of the state.

The new building and equipment will give A&M one of the most modern and up-to-date dairy and biochemistry research and teaching facilities in the nation, said Dr. C. M. Lyman, head of the Department of Biochemistry and Nutrition.

Other speakers on the program included Dr. I. W. Rupel, head of the Department of Dairy Science.

The building houses some $250,000 worth of equipment—including an electron microscopy laboratory where the most minute particles can be photographed, still or in motion, an electrophoresis apparatus that can take pictures of

Pope Pius XII Dies After Second Stroke

Civilian Council To Discuss Plans For Honor Code

Adoption of a Civilian Honor Code will be the main topic of discussion tonight at the Civilian Student Council's second meeting of the year in the Senate Chamber of the Memorial Student Center, Tommy Beckett, president, said yesterday.

Since the Council's last meeting the proposed honor code has been submitted to the various Civilian dormitory councils for approval. Beckett said, the councils are expected to vote in favor of the code, because most of the Civilian students were in favor of it last year.

Other business will include a Civilian seating plan, the current clean-up campaign, faculty achievement award, report from the Student Senate and ushers for the next football game.

The outstanding dormitory council award will be discussed also, Beckett said.

"We plan to award a plaque to the outstanding dormitory or apartment council at the end of the year," he said. "This award will be given to the top council by a committee of five persons."

Catholics Enter Mourning For Nine-Day Observance

CASTEL GONDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Millions of Roman Catholic followers from more than 50 nations throughout the world are in mourning today, following the death of Pope Pius XII at the papal summer castle, alongside Lake Albano, last night.

The Pope died at 3:52 a. m. Thursday (8:52 p. m. Wednesday CST) after suffering two strokes which caused a grave condition in the heart and lungs. Last night before the 82-year-old Pope died his temperature rose to 107.6.

A crucifix lay on his chest and a rosary in his hands in the final hours.

He became the first Pope to die in the summer residence here, about 18 miles from Rome and the first to die outside the Vatican City since the 18th century.

One of the most moving events ever witnessed in the history of the church is expected to unfold with a tremendous procession bearing the body back to the Vatican City for decorum and dignity. A nine-day mourning period is to follow.

A Mass for the dying was celebrated in the chapel adjoining his death chamber early Thursday morning when doctors gave up hope for recovery. It was then that Romans were told to stand by for the fateful news.

The first stroke came Monday morning and the second Wednesday night. The Vatican radio announced the news of death to the world.

Cardinals throughout the world prepared to come to Rome for a conclave to elect a new Pope to replace the valiant Pius XII, for 19 troubled years the "Pope of Peace."

The new Pope will be designated by the College of Cardinals expected to be held in about two weeks, following the period of mourning. All the Popes for the last 400 years have come from Italy.

Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant, said, an increase in commutation would bring the Corps many benefits, both directly and indirectly.

He said, "In thinking to the future, if we do qualify for double commutation, we hope to build up a reserve fund for developing a distinctive uniform for early fall and laundry, if and when the reserve becomes large enough."

Col. Davis said, all phases of the ROTC program will be inspected.

Inspect New Instrument

A freeze dryer used for dehydrating tissue and bacteriological suspension, one of the many new machines in the $1,500,000 Dairy and Biochemistry Building which was dedicated yesterday is inspected by, left to right, Miss Jo Boatwright, Mrs. Marie Tiller, Dr. L. D. Matteson, a member of the Department of Poultry Science at the University of Connecticut, and Dr. James Waddell of DuPont University, Wilmington Del.
