English Professor Says Snows Heavy In Saskatchewan

It snows more often and heavier in Saskatchewan—and it convinced an English teacher that the South is the place to live.

So says Dr. Harry Kroitor, a new member of the Department of English who, in introducing himself to the faculty through the department's newsletter, recites:

"Some two thousand miles separate Texas from the snows of Saskatchewan (my home is Regina, on the Canadian prairies), from which I fled as soon as my first degrees were behind me. A fellowship in American studies lured me to Maryland, where I did my doctoral work and then a teaching job took me to the University of Buffalo, where my real academic apprenticeship began a number of years ago.

"Too much snow convinced me to move south again and here I am. "Though my dossier describes me as an 'eighteenth century man' interested in science, literature and Cowper, it doesn't mention that I'm also a football fan, able to "wildcat" almost as vociferously as the Aggies. "In short I love teaching and football; snow, I hate."

Rival Coach Lauds Rookie John Crow

Cleveland Brown Coach Paul Brown had this to say about John Crow, former Aggie all-American and Heisman Trophy winner and now a rookie halfback with the Chicago Cardinals:

"He ran us ragged. He's the greatest thing to come out of college football in a long time."

Bobby Joe Conrad, a teammate of Crow's at Aggeland, is also a star rookie with the Cards. He is being used as a field goal and extra point kicker.

intent to paint the campus—not because they did paint it due to the fact that there is no evidence to prove they did.

In a telephone conversation yesterday with Don Cloud, Corps commander, Perry said everything possible is being done to avoid any incidents this weekend.

Special Meeting

He said a special meeting was held Thursday with the male students of the college asking their cooperation. Extra policemen have been hired for the campus this weekend, Perry said. The staff and faculty are also cooperating, he said.

"It is our wish to do everything possible to create peace and harmony between the two schools, if at all possible," Perry said.
