Foundrymen Meet Here in December

The Texas chapter of American Foundrymen's Society will hold its December meeting on the A&M campus Dec. 5.

The A&M students chapter has made arrangements for meetings to be held in the Memorial Student Center, according to President James Freytag.

Representatives to Visit A&M College

Representatives of transportation agencies and industrial firms will have an opportunity Friday and Saturday to become more familiar with the operation of the Texas Transportation Institute of the A&M College System.

During a two-day open house program, they are invited to take a look at the research projects of the Institute and to talk over their problems with staff members of the Institute.

All interested citizens are invited to attend the open house of the Institute which is located in the Highway Research Center on the A&M campus. During tours of the laboratories they will see the Institute in action through posters, displays, models, movies and films.

The Institute was created in 1950 as a research organization for conducting research and educational work in all phases of transportation. Its program is divided into three general fields—Highway Design and Traffic Research, Structures and Materials Research, and Economic Research.

The Institute is the official independent research agency for the Texas Highway Department. Other cooperators in its program include the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, the Automotive Safety Foundation, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and private industry.

Gift Shop Orders Wedgewood Plates

The Interfaith Chapel and the Memorial Student Center will be added to the twelve A&M Commemorative Wedgewood Plates now available, Mrs. R. C. Fussell, manager of the MSC Gift Shop, said yesterday.

Mrs. Fussell explained the collection was started in 1936 by P. L. (Pinky) Downs Jr. and the transaction from Downs to the Gift Shop was completed in 1953.

The original designs were made in 1935 by architecture students and sent to Josiah Wedgewood and Sons, Ltd., of Etruria, England, where the twelve original commemorative plates were made of ivory queensware.

In 1953, J. F. Doyle of the Department of Architecture sent a letter to Downs stating that designs on the plates would characterize not only the school itself, but also the traditions of the state. On the rim of the plates are the insignia of the countries under which Texas has been ruled, along with the Longhorn for Texas traditions; the prickly pear, the state's most common cactus; and the bluebonnet, the state flower.

Photographs of the chapel and the MSC were recently sent to the Wedgewood firm in England to be processed in artistic designs simulating the pictures. They were returned to the gift shop for approval last week.

Mrs. Fussell also said that the two new designs for the commemorative plates are beautiful, and will be made available to Aggies and A&M admirers in six months, along with the twelve currently on sale in the Gift Shop.

Administrators Set Meeting Nov. 11-12

The Texas Association of Student Personnel Administrators will meet in the Memorial Student Center Nov. 11-12, it was announced this week.

Purpose of the meeting is to compare problems and study new ideas and trends, Bennie A. Zinn, a vice president of the association said.

Author Moehlan, an outstanding authority on education psychology, and Dr. J. P. Abbott of A&M will be main speakers at the meeting.

A & M Dairy Makes Major Conversion

The A&M Dairy is now converting 100 per cent to frozen semen. Prior to this the dairy has followed a part fluid semen and part frozen semen plan.

Dr. M. A. Brown, manager of the Dairy Cattle Breeding Center, said there were 19,125,000 cows in the United States in June of this year. Of these, 6 1/2 million were bred artificially and of these, one-third were bred with frozen semen. Brown added that many states and areas are already following the frozen semen plan with good results.

The plan presents many advantages. It offers a greater flexibility in allowing any cow to be bred to a pre-selected bull. The breeder has a larger selection of sires to choose from because frozen semen can be shipped under dry-ice refrigeration anywhere in the world.

Military Engineers Plan Field Trips

Members of the A&M chapter of the Society of American Military Engineers made proposals for a field trip to Vicksburg, Miss., at their first meeting of the year last week.

The proposal is under consideration for approval by college authorities. Funds for the trip have been requested from the Fort Worth District Engineers Office.

Plans call for tours of the Waterways Experiment Station, Vicksburg Division Engineers Office, and Lower Mississippi Valley Division Engineers Office, during the spring semester.

The breeder can make faster progress in milk production and body characteristics, because better sires are available to him.

The breeding season begins Nov. 1 in the A&M Dairy herd. Each cow will be analyzed for type defects and milk production potential. Upon completion of this analysis, a sire will be picked that will correct a cow's defects and increase milk production in her offspring.

Approximately 72 per cent of the 7070 Aggies who registered this fall are Baptist, Methodist, Catholic, or Presbyterian, according to a Religious preference list, released by J. Gordon Gay, Co-ordinator of Religious Life.

The percentage is smaller than last year when 75 per cent of the students were in one of the four groups. The total number of students in these groups is 5,120.

The remaining denominations and religions have 28 per cent of the total enrollment or 1,950 students.

Totals for the four groups are: Baptist, 1,963; Methodist, 1,683; Catholic, 1,042; and Presbyterians, 477.

this man IS a prophet

THE CHURCH FOR ALL — ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

| Day | Book | Chapter | Verses |
|-----------|------------|---------|--------|
| Sunday | Exodus | 4 | 12-15 |
| Monday | Isaiah | 6 | 1-7 |
| Tuesday | Jeremiah | 1 | 4-10 |
| Wednesday | Matthew | 10 | 7-16 |
| Thursday | II Timothy | 4 | 1-4 |
| Friday | Acts | 28 | 16-18 |
| Saturday | Ephesians | 4 | 11-12 |

No, he doesn't predict the future. From antiquity the prophets have been those who speak for God. In every generation they have explained His promises . . . pointed out His warnings. Some men believed the prophets, and saw God's promises fulfilled. Others were skeptical—until their own bitter experience vindicated God's warnings. No wonder many thought the prophets were reading the future. To every thus saith the Lord a later historian had to add and it came to pass. In a pulpit not far from your home there will stand next Sunday an earnest, thoughtful, consecrated man. He is a prophet! He can't predict whether you'll come to hear him. But he's preparing right now to speak for God—TO YOU. It is the One who calls the prophets who knows . . . whether you'll come . . . whether you'll believe . . . and all the future holds in store for you.
