

Future Gloomy for Farmers As Scribe Picks SMU to Win

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Too bad there's no two-way option for the harassed football seer. Can't pick and run. Can't pass. Just a head-long plunge. As for the customers, they only kick.

Last week's score: 38-18 for .679, despite upset choices of Northwestern, Syracuse, Penn and Tulsa.

Another fling:
Louisiana State 25, Duke 7: The Tigers don't heed Coach Paul Dietzel's advice to "let's be humble."

Army 19, Rice 15: Bob Anderson and Pete Dawkins have too much speed, but inspired Owls make it a battle.

Notre Dame 20, Pitt 14: George Izo's spark ignites an already great team, but Pitt will prove tough.

Southern California 28, Washington 7: The Trojans, too late, have finally jelled into one of the West's best.

Iowa 30, Minnesota 7: Coach Forest Evashevski said, "I don't think we can be beat." Not Shakespeare, but we get it.

Wisconsin 18, Northwestern 13: The dream must burst some time for the Wildcats' cloud-riding sophomores.

Auburn 7, Mississippi State 0: The Plainsmen, on a 20-game unbeaten streak, don't score much but neither do their foes.

Air Force 32, Denver 7: Unbeaten and unnoticed, the Airmen have matured quickly.

Princeton 21, Harvard 7: The Ivy is a topsy-turvy league but the Princetonians are settling down.

Georgia Tech 13, Clemson 7:

Tech's resourcefulness prevails.
Mississippi 21, Houston 6: Ole Miss rebounds from loss to Louisiana State.

Ohio State 20, Purdue 13: The Boilermakers have been wrecking our score all season, why stop now?

Washington State 14, Oregon State 6: Two of the Rose Bowl contenders mix it up; Cougars picked on home field.

Law School, Pro Football Plans of Freshman Tailback

By BILL HICKLIN
Battalion Staff Writer

Law school and professional football are the most important factors in the future of Rodger McFarland, talented tailback on the A&M freshman football team.

"After graduation, I hope to play some pro ball and finish my law work somewhere up north," said McFarland.

Until graduation, however, McFarland, a pre-law major, is expected to become a prominent cog in the Aggie football aggregation. The hard-running Fort Worth lad has been outstanding on what many call the finest freshman squad here since 1956.

Offered Numerous Scholarships
McFarland, who was offered scholarships by every Southwest Conference school except Arkansas, in addition to Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and assorted junior colleges, said Bud Sherrod, assistant football coach, influenced his decision to attend A&M. "Coach Sherrod brought me down here and showed me around," said McFarland. "I liked what I saw, so I told Oklahoma and Rice that I had signed a letter of intent with A&M."

uate brought an enviable high school record with him. He lettered two years in football and track and was president of the student body. He was an all-district quarterback his senior year as the Panthers journeyed to the state playoffs for the second straight year.

During his junior year at Paschal, McFarland and Roy Northrup of Amarillo, outstanding Aggie sophomore linebacker, locked horns in the state bi-district playoffs. "Most of Amarillo was expecting an easy victory and were looking to Abilene," he recalled. "They had even begun printing tickets for the game. But we beat them 13-7 in what was my biggest high school thrill. Roy and I still kid each other about that game," he said. Paschal bowed to Abilene, 14-0, the following week.

New Oriole Chief Wants Top Finish

NEW YORK (AP)—Lee MacPhail, new general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, has set his sights on a first division finish for the ball club.

MacPhail, 41-year-old son of Larry MacPhail will take over his new job officially later in the month.

James Keely Jr., said the new general manager first will clean up unfinished business in his position as director of player personnel for the New York Yankees.

As part of the new set-up at Baltimore, Paul Richards, who has acted as both general manager and field manager, will devote his full attention to managing. Keely said Richards was in full accord with the change and had, in fact, recommended MacPhail for the job.

"The way I understand it, Paul Richards and I will collaborate on any deals involving major league clubs," said MacPhail. "Paul is a tremendous manager in my book."

MacPhail said he regretted leaving the Yankees after 14 years in the organization but felt he could not afford to reject this opportunity. He wouldn't talk about his salary.

THREE NEW ACERS
DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Holes-in-one come in bunches at the Lakewood Country Club. Carl Johnson, Art Gow and Ron Abbott all scored aces in one day's activity. Johnson got his first hole-in-one in 27 years of golf, Gow his first in 25 years and Abbott his first in 12 years as a golfer.
