

Swishing Swisher Leads Ags In SWC Shooting Statistics

Broussard Leading Frosh In Scoring, Rebound Race

The Texas Aggies, their hopes of an early lead in the Southwest Conference race shattered by an inspired Rice team, take to the road again Friday night for a conference match with the Baylor Bears.

Leading the Aggie attack will be swishing Neil Swisher, the short gunner who sank 27 points against the Rice Owls for his highest season mark. In SWC play Swisher has averaged 21 points per game for two games, hitting .500 per cent of his shots from the floor. The Ag senior and captain has collected 12 rebounds and made eight of nine free throws for a .889 percentage. Backing Swisher in the shooting department is 6-5 Archie Carroll who has averaged 16 points in two SWC games. Carroll has made 12 of 14 charity tosses and grabbed 13 rebounds.

At center will be lanky Wayne Lawrence, 6-7 junior from Connecticut. Lawrence has 13 points per game to his credit and pulled down 15 rebounds for the runner-up honors on the Ag squad.

Wilmer Cox, the other half of the top SWC guard twosome, has 9.5 points per game average and seven rebounds. At the other forward position is Jim McNichol with four points per game to his credit. McNichol is the team's leading rebounder with 16.

The Cadet Fish will be seeking their fourth win of the season in Waco Friday when they open the night's activities against the Cubs.

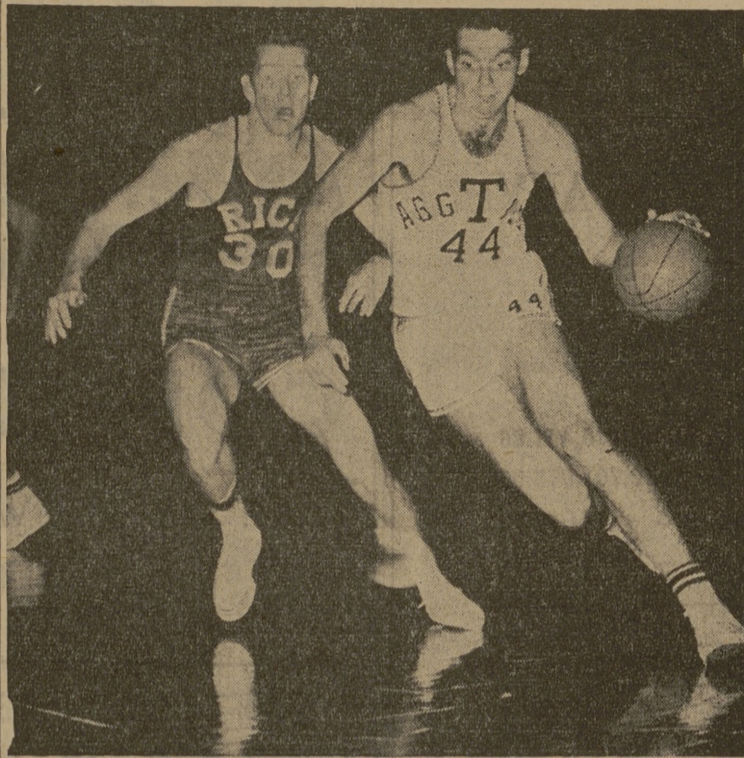

Carroll Broussard, the all-American high school star from Port Arthur, sparks the Fish attack with 22.7 points per game. The 6-5 frosh has sunk 40 out of 63 shots from the floor for a nifty .635 per cent average. Broussard is also tied for the team's rebound lead with 46.

Forward Gary White has 54 points to his credit for a 13.5 average and claims 26 rebounds. White has made 6 of 10 free throws for a .600 average.

At the other guard position for the Aggies will be 6-4 Ron Sheldon with an 8.5 point per game average. Sheldon has 16 rebounds.

John Keller rounds out the forwards with 6.7 points per game to his credit. Keller has made seven free tosses while missing four.

Playing center for the Fish will be 6-10 Don Riggan, the tallest Ag basketball player in history. The lofty Riggan has sunk 28 points and pulled down 46 rebounds to tie Broussard in the latter department.

McNichol on the Move

Jim McNichol (44) attempts to drive past the Rice Owls' Steve Galloway (30) in Tuesday night's conference thriller. Galloway thwarted McNichol's intentions as the Owls stopped the Ags, 70-65.

Ags' Michels Rejoins Pros

John Michels, Aggie line coach, has resigned his post to serve in a similar capacity with the Winniepeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Michels, no stranger to the pro ranks having played with the Philadelphia Eagles as a defensive end and linebacker and offensive guard, is a former All-American and a graduate of the University of Tennessee.

A native of Philadelphia, Michels played in two Cotton Bowl games against Texas University. His key block in the 1951 classic with the Longhorns sprung loose Hank Lauricello on a 76-yard touchdown run as the Vols defeated Texas, 20-14.

In 1952, he was an All-American guard for the second successive year. The year following, Michels was an all-Army guard while participating on the gridiron during a two-year hitch in the service.

He and his wife, Ann, have two sons, Mike, 3½, and Steve, 2½.

Ineligible Gridder May Regain Status By NCAA Ruling

CINCINNATI (AP)—The powerful National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Council ruled yesterday that Don Fuell, a controversial figure in football since he was declared ineligible at Auburn, can regain his eligibility if he transfers to a college which has not violated the rules in recruiting him.

Fuell, former star high school quarterback, was declared ineligible by the Southeastern Conference on the grounds that rules regarding NCAA principles on amateurism and administering financial aid had been violated when he was induced to enroll at Auburn.

The NCAA placed Auburn on probation until September, 1961, because of the activities of a representative of the institution in these violations. Fuell filed suit in an unsuccessful effort to have his eligibility restored.

A question from Mississippi Southern College brought Wednesday's ruling from the NCAA Council, the 18-man policy-making group of the college organization. Fuell still is enrolled at Auburn as a third-semester student, but the implication was that he might transfer if he received an OK on the eligibility question.

Aggie Basketball Coach Bobby Rogers will have to change the suit he wears to the game for the Baylor tilt Friday.

The superstitious Rogers has been wearing the same light blue sport coat with dark blue trousers to the Aggie games since his charges started a four game winning streak against Texas Tech in the Southwest Conference Tournament.

They lost Tuesday night so now comes the big switch to a different combination.

Roy Simmons, Syracuse University assistant football coach, has been associated with Orange football since 1921 when he was a freshman quarterback.

Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Bob Giallombardo won 21 games for Reno, Nev., in the California League in 1957. He had four shut-outs among 21 complete games.
