

Methodist Revival Will Begin Sunday

The A&M Methodist Church starts a six-week mid-winter revival series Sunday evening with the first speaker to be the Rev. Charles Williams, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Beaumont.

The Rev. James A. Argue, of the A&M Methodist Church, said the first meeting will be a special service honoring new members who have united with the church since June 1, 1958. Time for the service is 7 p.m.

The first in a weekly series of brief lay witnesses will be given by Mrs. Joe Mogford, local artist and housewife. Special music will feature the Aggie Quartet under the direction of Don Royall.

The evening prayer will be led by Mrs. L. V. Hawkins, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, which is sponsoring this week's service. Following worship, the first weekly fellowship period will take place.

Sunday's guest speaker is founder of a new church in Beaumont. Since his work began, the church has enjoyed a tremendous growth, said Rev. Argue.

The host pastor extends a cordial invitation to everyone to hear Rev. Williams.

Future speakers in the revival series will include the following:
