

Blood Flows in Cuba As Executions Begin

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Fresh blood flowed heavily Monday in revolutionary vengeance for what the rebels call crimes of the Batista dictatorship.

Rebel officers said firing squads executed 71 persons over a seven-hour period at a military camp outside Santiago and tumbled them into a 40-yard-long mass grave dug by a bulldozer.

Santiago military headquarters declined confirmation. But a huge mound of fresh raw earth was seen by AP correspondent Stanford Bradshaw Monday afternoon at the reported scene of the executions.

Shot at Rifle Range This was the Campo de Tiro rifle range, a mile from Santiago and a mile from San Juan Hill, the scene of the Rough Riders' charge that helped in the Spanish-American War to free Cuba from Spanish rule.

Later reports said firing squads executed eight more persons at Bayamo in western Oriente province and "various" at Guantanamo.

About 50 supporters of ex-President Fulgencio Batista—largely police executives, secret agents and informers—had been put to death previously by the victorious rebels of Fidel Castro.

Thousands Face Trial Nearly 3,000 face trial on charges ranging from torturing prisoners to treason. Among them is Maj. Gen. Eulogio Cantillo, who commanded the armed forces for a short time after the fall of Batista's government New Year's Day.

Cantillo and 50 military associates are slated to be arraigned before revolutionary tribunals later this week in Havana. Castro had accused Cantillo of treason for letting Batista escape to the Dominican Republic.

Magazine Shows Bitterness Bitter feelings were reflected in a special edition Monday of the weekly news magazine Bohemia.

It carried hundreds of pictures of what it called Batista terrorism and atrocities and charged that 20,000 Cubans had been killed in the interval since Batista seized power in 1952. It assailed Earl E. T. Smith, who has resigned as U. S. Ambassador to Cuba, as "the servant of the despot." Smith declined comment.

Rebel policy has been to bar newsmen and the public from executions. There had been no hint that mass executions were planned. Bradshaw relayed this account of the Campo de Tiro incident as told to him by rebel officers:

Executions Described The prisoners—described as military men, police officials, civilian spies and informers—"known as criminals and oppressors"—were moved by trucks from 3 to 10 a. m. to the rifle range.

There they were lined up along the trench, 10 feet wide and 10

Prof to Present Paper at Meet

Dr. R. W. Moore, assistant professor, Department of Veterinary Microbiology, will attend a conference on Biology of the Pleuropneumoniae Organisms, in New York tomorrow and Thursday. The international conference is sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences, section of Biological and Medical Sciences. Outstanding authorities in this field, from all parts of the world, are due to attend.

Moore will present a paper, "The Basic Characteristics Including Serologic Relationship of Various Strains of PPO Isolated From Chickens and Turkeys," authored by Dr. Moore, Dr. L. C. Grumbles, professor and head of the veterinary microbiology department and Dr. J. N. Beasley, assistant professor, veterinary pathology department.

Architects Plan Landscape Talk Thursday Nite

Dallas Architects James Reece Pratt and John Harold Box will present an illustrated lecture in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom Thursday night at 8.

This program will be presented as one of a series sponsored by the Division of Architecture. Entitled "Space-Hurry Architecture," the lecture deals with the problem of integrating individual buildings, and all objects in the physical landscape, into a better total visual environment. The two architects will discuss lay education, various controls, ordinances, codes and commissions presently being used over the western world as beginnings to solve the problem.

Pratt, a native of Dallas, received a bachelor of architecture degree from the University of Texas and a master of architecture degree from Harvard University. He is a visiting professor at the University of Texas on the subject of urban design.

Box, a native of Commerce, attended East Texas State College and received his bachelor of architecture degree from the University of Texas. He attended the Civil Engineers School of the U. S. Navy and is associated with Chance-Vought Aircraft.

Pratt and Box are recipients of awards for outstanding service from the Dallas chapter, American Institute of Architects.

★ Day Students Get New Parking Lot

When the paving presently underway in the parking lot immediately behind G. Rollie White Coliseum is completed, it will be available as a day student parking lot, said Fred L. Hickman, chief of Campus Security.

All of the lot, with the exception of spaces parked reserved, will be for day student use, he said.

Unwelcome addition: The new volcano, Ilha Nova, which burst out of the Atlantic near the Azores about a year ago has added a square mile to the area of the Portuguese possession.

Poultry Without 'O.K.' Tag May Not be 'Spring Chick'

A&M Prof Heads Trip to Big Bend

Dr. Charles O. Wallmo, assistant professor of wildlife management, is now heading a ecological research expedition through the Big Bend region of Texas.

Initiated in 1955 for the Texas Game and Fish Commission, the research is directed toward accumulating new information on the biology of the area.

Wallmo has devised several new methods of sampling animal and plant populations, the results of which are put to statistical analyses.

In addition to the routine job of making census counts, the researchers are making collections and records of all plants and vertebrate animals from the Big Bend Region.

YMCA Sends 16 Students To Illinois Meet

Sixteen members of the Young Men's Christian Association were in Urbana, Ill., recently for the National Student Assembly for Y's.

They are James Crouch, Bob Compton, Howard C. May, David Wallace, James L. Wolfe, William G. Shenkir, Robert P. Coffman, John M. Bozard, Lee R. Ratliff, Richard M. McGlaun, Paul Van Nieuwenhuize, Spencer Hodge, Malcolm D. Maxwell, Robert Bennett, Alton F. Fischer and William R. Phillips.

The assembly is held every four years for members of YMCA, YWCA and Student Christian Associations.

A&M students were accompanied by J. Gordon Gay, general secretary of the YMCA and coordinator of Religious Life, and Carl Zeitlow, associate secretary of the YMCA.

Chemical Engineers Get $1,000 Grant The Chemical Engineering Department, has received a $1,000 grant from the Gulf Oil Corporation as a part of the company's "Aid to Education" program.

Dr. J. D. Lindsay, head of the department, said the gift was added to a department fund that is used to paying expenses of faculty members to technical meetings and for purchasing of special equipment, supplies and books.

Bizzell Hall Holds Fund-Raising Feed

Bizzell Hall held a fund-raising dinner in Hotard's Cafeteria Thursday night.

The menu was headed by venison, turkey and duck barbecue.

An after-dinner speech was presented by Miller Meeks, senior Industrial Education major, who also served as master of ceremonies.

Fifty-seven people attended including Bennie Zinn, director of Student Personnel Services, Robert O. Murray Jr., director of Student Affairs, and Robert L. Melcher, Civilian student counselor.
