To Discuss Fight

Baylor Delegation Due Here Today

W. L. Penberthy told the Student Senate last night that W. C. Perry, dean of men at Baylor University, and "two or three of his assistants" were coming to A&M this afternoon to discuss the brawl staged by students of the two schools of the Waco campus last Friday night.

Penberthy, director of Student Activities, said he gathered from a telephone conversation with Baylor officials Monday that "they aren't any happier with A&M than Aggies are with Baylor."

At least one physical fisticuff and several verbal feuds were reported to have broken out at Baylor after the basketball game Friday in which Baylor defeated A&M. No injuries or property damage were reported.

The Baylor officials were scheduled to meet with Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant; Bennie A. Zinn, director of Student Personnel Services; Robert O. Murray Jr., director of Student Affairs;

Barlow (Bones) Irvin, assistant athletic director; Penberthy; John Thomas, Student Senate president; and Joe Buser, editor of The Battalion. The meeting was set for Zinn's office at 3:30.

12th Man Bowl Talked
Other Senate business saw Thomas set a tentative date for the annual 12th Man Bowl for "about a week before spring football training begins."

In meantime, Chairman Bill Myers and his Issues Committee will decide whether the game will match the Army and Air Force ROTC, or a combination of the two against a civilian team, or two individual games with the winner of the former facing a civilian squad. A choice of having only the former game would probably mean civilian students represented on both teams.

This point and other information, such as the date, coaches and admission, will be announced later. Thomas said there was a possibility that the game would be played at night.

WW II's Marshall Suffers Stroke

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, who guided the Army through World War II as chief of staff, suffered a mild stroke at his winter home Thursday.

The 78-year-old general was brought to Womack General Hospital here from Pinhurst by ambulance. His condition later was termed satisfactory by Col. G. M. Powell, chief surgeon at the hospital.

Cold Weather Sweeps Across Entire State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter's latest assault on Texas stacked snow up to seven inches in the Panhandle yesterday and then whooshed across the rest of the state to tumble temperatures all the way to the Gulf.

Whipped by winds up to 50 miles an hour in gusts, snow that fell during the morning measured from about an inch in the Amarillo area to seven inches in the northern section of the Panhandle.

The State Highway Department issued a special highway advisory. It read:

"All over the Panhandle roads are iced over. Snow is drifting badly on highways. Do not drive except in emergencies."

Borger, Dumas, Stratford and Dalhart had more than three inches of snow. Perryton had around two inches. Visibility was cut to a fourth of a mile at Dumas.

Some rural schools closed. These included the Polo Duro community school near Dumas, and the school at Stratford. At Cactus, 12 miles north of Dumas, classes were dismissed because of a power failure.

The snow stopped falling in most areas during the morning and skies started clearing at Perryton around noon.

Area Ag Teachers Open Meeting Here

Vice President Earl Rudder will welcome approximately 100 vocational agricultural teachers to the campus as the annual Mid-Winter Conference of Area III Vocational Agriculture Teachers gets underway today at 5:30 p. m. in the Memorial Student Center.

Following Rudder's welcoming speech George Hunt state director of Agricultural Education will address the group on "What's Ahead for Vocational Agriculture."

According to Emmet Tiner of the Department of Agricultural Education the conference program is devoted to in-service training which is designed to improve the teachers professionally and technically and to keep them abreast of the new developments in the field of agriculture.

Group meetings will dominate Saturday morning's program with the business session to be held in the afternoon before the conference adjourns.

Area III is one of 10 vocational agriculture areas in Texas. It is composed of more than 100 teachers from 91 schools in a 21-county area which includes Brazos county.
