About the Churches

Presbyterians Have Heard Sermons in Many Locations

(Ed. Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles designed to familiarize students with churches in the area in connection with the coming Religious Emphasis Week.)
By ROBBIE GODWIN
Battalion Staff Writer

The Rev. Norman Anderson, pastor of the A&M Presbyterian Church since 1928, can remember when the services of his church were held in the Campus Theater.

Before the present church was built in 1948, Rev. Anderson was constantly on the move from one building to another. At first, services were held in the assembly room and the chapel of the YMCA. From there the congregation went to Guion Hall, then to the old Assembly Hall located at the present new chapel location near Puryear Hall. From there, the pulpit was coved to the Campus Theater.

"That didn't work too well," said Rev. Anderson. But in 1948, the present chapel was moved in section to its present location on College Avenue from Victoria Air Force Base where it had served as a military chapel.

The newest addition to the real estate is a building housing classrooms, a modern kitchen, a dining hall and a fully equipped recreation room.

The Rev. Anderson is proudest of the kitchen and Cashion Memorial Lounge. He said the kitchen was the only one which could boast two refrigerators and two stoves. Cashion Lounge is a reading and record lounge with comfortable furnishings.

"At first," said the Rev. Anderson, "the college held morning sessions during Religious Emphasis Week, and the churches held the evening meeting."

He added that he liked the present method much better. "I think we have one of the best Religious Emphasis Weeks you'll find anywhere," he added.

The pastor said RE Week now was brought directly to the campus instead of into the churches. He added that the administration had a fine spirit of cooperation during the week in allowing classes to be excused in order for students to attend the meetings.

One of the handicaps faced by Napoleon's armies in their retreat from Russia was lack of salt necessary to help heal wounds.

Fellowship Meet Scheduled Tues.

A faculty christian fellowship meeting will be held at the All-Faiths Chapel at A&M Tuesday, at 6:45 a.m.

Special guests will be the religious leaders, who are visiting the campus for Religious Emphasis Week activities.

J. Gordon Gay, general secretary of the YMCA and co-ordinator of religious life at A&M., said all staff and faculty members are invited to attend and get acquainted with the visiting religious leaders.

The program will start with organ music by Dr. Murray Brown of the Department of Dairy Science. The Rev. Robert T. Browne, pastor of the Southwest Methodist Church of Houston, will be the meditation leader.

Following the program, a period of fellowship will be held in the YMCA and coffee and doughnuts will be served.

BAROMETER OF LIFE

Would it really help to have an instrument to predict the storms of life?

When the barometer falls it's too late to build a sea wall or to dig a cyclone cellar. Wise men prepare when the wind is calm. A leaking roof must be mended while the sun shines.

The Church does not claim to provide a barometer of life. But it preaches every Sunday the spiritual readiness which climaxed Christ's Sermon on the Mount:

"Whoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house. . . .

"And it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

... As an RCA Engineer

Receive your MS in Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering or Physics at RCA's expense, through the RCA Graduate Study Program. At the same time, you're beginning your RCA career as an engineer on a fully professional level, getting a head start in the field you prefer. RCA pays the full cost of your tuition, fees and approved texts while you take graduate study part time at the University of Pennsylvania or Rutgers University.

Or, you may prefer a different path ahead . . . RCA Design and Development Specialized Training. Here is another of RCA's programs for careers, in which you begin by working full-time on planned technical assignments. Experienced engineers and interested management guide your progress. You may receive assignments in design and development of radar, airborne electronics, computers, missile electronics, television, radio and other equipment fields, as well as in Electron Tubes, Semiconductors and Components. MS, PhD Candidates are eligible for direct assignments in the above mentioned fields.

There's a lot more that's extremely interesting about an RCA engineering career. You should have these facts to make a wise decision about your future. Get them in person very soon when an RCA engineering management representative arrives on campus—

Right now, though, see your placement officer. Get squared away on a specific time for your interview. And get your copies of the brochures that also help to fill you in on the RCA picture. If you're tied up when RCA's representative is here, send a resume to:
