

Heavy Vote Blasts Street Bond Issue

Remley Talks to Ags On Life of Isaiah

The Rev. Ernest Remley said in his address this morning that we could very well follow the challenge of the life of Isaiah.

This was the third in a series of sermons given daily in Guion Hall by Dr. Remley in connection with the 17th annual Religious Emphasis Week. Dr. Remley is pastor of the Collegiate Presbyterian Church in Ames, Iowa.

He pointed out that when Isaiah's father, King Uzziah, died, Isaiah went to God asking for guidance for himself and for his people. There he found three things.

The first, said Dr. Remley, was that Isaiah's worship experience was an intense and soul searching confrontation with God. In this meeting he was conquered by the absolute.

Second, he said, was that Isaiah's experience brought him face to face with himself, and made him aware of his many personal limitations.

Third, this experience called Isaiah to a commitment of obedience to God in His service. His willingness to accept the challenge of commitment involved him in persecution, adversity and suffering.

"What happened to Isaiah can happen to you and me," said Dr. Remley. "But only if we have the courage to honestly confront God, to honestly examine ourselves and fearlessly obey God's will whatever the cost."

He pointed out that when Isaiah's father, King Uzziah, died, Isaiah went to God asking for guidance for himself and for his people. There he found three things.

The first, said Dr. Remley, was that Isaiah's worship experience was an intense and soul searching confrontation with God. In this meeting he was conquered by the absolute.

Second, he said, was that Isaiah's experience brought him face to face with himself, and made him aware of his many personal limitations.

Third, this experience called Isaiah to a commitment of obedience to God in His service. His willingness to accept the challenge of commitment involved him in persecution, adversity and suffering.

"What happened to Isaiah can happen to you and me," said Dr. Remley. "But only if we have the courage to honestly confront God, to honestly examine ourselves and fearlessly obey God's will whatever the cost."

He pointed out that when Isaiah's father, King Uzziah, died, Isaiah went to God asking for guidance for himself and for his people. There he found three things.

The first, said Dr. Remley, was that Isaiah's worship experience was an intense and soul searching confrontation with God. In this meeting he was conquered by the absolute.

Second, he said, was that Isaiah's experience brought him face to face with himself, and made him aware of his many personal limitations.

The annual Fish Ball is scheduled for Feb. 28 in Shiba Dining Hall from 9-12 p.m. with honored guests to include the president and vice president of the college, the deans of all the departments, the military department and tactical officers, and seniors of the Corps of Cadets Staff.

Crowning of the Freshman Sweetheart will highlight the evening. A freshman judging committee will choose the five finalists with the winner to be presented to the class by Eddie M. Dyer, chairman of the Sweetheart Committee.

Music will be furnished by the Aggeland Orchestra.

Tickets, date or non-date, can be purchased in room 210, YMCA, Chuck Cloud, president of the Class of '62, said.

"The profits, if any," said Cloud "will stay in the class treasury during our stay at A&M for all social functions. Remaining funds will probably be used for a gift to the college if the class follows the precedent of the past classes."

Mrs. Gertrude Howard, former drama professor, will direct the production.

Leading roles are played by Glenda Peery as Procla and Jimmy Best as Pilate. Others in the cast are Mary Myrle Anderson, Mary Frances Coslett, Elizabeth Gibbs and Rodney Kelly.

The play, about an hour long, will serve as a worship service for family participation. The public is invited to all performances. An offering will be taken, but no admission is to be charged.

Four members of the Ross Volunteers returning from New Orleans were involved in an automobile accident last Wednesday afternoon on U. S. Highway 90, east of Orange, Texas.

The occupants, all juniors, were Tom Wisdom, New Braunfels; Charles Benson, Sour Lake; Hubert Oxford, Beaumont; and Eugene Marshall, Dallas.

Benson, who was driving, lost control of his car while taking a flat sharp curve after crossing the Sabine River bridge. Wisdom reports the car spun one time on the rain-slick road, went into a side-skid and finally came to rest in a water-filled drainage ditch.

Benson's car, a 1956 Chevrolet, narrowly missed a telephone pole and a construction barricade in its wild slide, Wisdom said.

No one was injured although damage to the car is estimated at $150, said Benson.

Any Aggies who would like to have jobs in Europe this summer may contact Dr. E. C. Breitenkamp of the Department of Modern Language.

Warm, Windy Weather Makes Sap Flow
Aggies in general felt energetic with the event of springtime weather yesterday and Monday, but these two members of Squadron 19, the Civil Air Patrol outfit, were probably exclusive in spending their leisure time. John Flynn of Big Spring look on as John Gary of Waco practices "spilling" his parachute behind Dorm 9.

European Work Open to Students

The only requirement for a job is that the applicant be an American student and know the English language, Breitenkamp said.

There are many different kinds of jobs available for students. These include construction, summer hotel work, forestry work, fishing industry help, factory work, sales representatives, specialized work and work camps.

"Countries such as Germany, Sweden and Switzerland usually pay the highest wages," he said. "It is impossible to give figures of wages to the different economic systems. The wages also vary among the different jobs."

The maximum duration of work is three months and the minimum is one month. Jobs are available between June 1 and Sept. 30.

Work will be controlled by the labor ministries of the chosen country, he said. There is usually a 40-hour work week.

International Student Insurance is available which covers accidents, sickness, life, and stolen property.

Breitenkamp said the only expense is a $9 fee for finding individual jobs requested by the student. Travel tickets are available at a 10 per cent reduction.

Fish Drill Team To Visit Laredo

A&M's Freshman Drill Team will participate in the annual Washington's Birthday celebration at Laredo this weekend, Gregory A. Garcia, executive officer of the team, said yesterday.

Thirty-five members of the team will make the trip to Laredo by private car Friday afternoon.

$250 Award Offered For Story of A&M

At long last Aggies have a chance to get paid for telling the story of Texas A&M.

A $250 award, made available by a former editor of The Battalion, will be given in May to the author of the best essay on "Texas A&M—What It Means to Me."

Grants totaling $48,000 have been received by A&M College biologists for continuation of radiation studies. They were received from the Office of the Surgeon General, U. S. Army, through the Texas A&M Research Foundation.

The grant is for two years additional study of the effect of dietary substances on the resistance of animal to continuous chronic radiation produced by cobalt 60. A grant of $24,000 was received previously for this specific study and covered the past year's work.

Experiment, under the supervision of two members of the Department of Biology, Dr. S. O. Brown with Dr. G. M. Krise serving as co-investigator, are being conducted at the Texas Engineer Experiment Station's low-level radiation laboratory on the campus. They will continue to June 1, 1961.

Lenten Fast Lifted For Catholic Ags

Catholic Aggies are not required to observe fasting during Lent, which lasts until Easter, Father Charles Elmer, chaplain at St. Mary's Catholic Church, said yesterday.

The Catholic Church usually requires that its members between the ages of 21 and 59 eat meat only once a day during this period and only one full meal daily, he said.

Bishop Louis Reicher, in a letter to Father Elmer, said the students would not have to observe this law because they will need the extra "sustenance" for late studying. Eating in the dining halls also was given as a reason.

Bishop Reicher did suggest that the students make other sacrifices such as attending a few extra church services during Lent.

Citizens Will Again 'Pay-As-You-Go'

College Station voters turned out in record numbers yesterday to defeat the proposed $350,000 street bond issue by a more than a 4-1 margin.

The plan was beaten 775-162 for a total number of 937 votes. The previous record-high voting was in the 1958 regular general election in which 516 votes were cast, City Manager Ran Boswell said.

With the defeat of the proposed bond issue, the city's pay-as-you-go plan will proceed under full steam, said Boswell.

Some 1,500 feet of Lee Street are ready to be paved with curb and gutters and petitions are being circulated for the paving of Kyle Street and Walton Drive, he said.

The bond election was brought about when a petition signed by 265 College Station property-owners was presented to the Jan. 26 City Council meeting.

Marion Pugh, one of the supporters of the bond issue, said last night: "I was real pleased with the turnout of voters. It indicated a great amount of interest in better streets. I believe the Council will give us streets as soon as possible. The vote also showed the real interest of the citizens that we have to have a good and progressive city."

Heaviest voting was at Ward I where 471 votes were cast—397 against and 74 for. In Ward II, 294 voted against the bond plan while 75 were in favor. Ward III results showed 84 citizens against the move and only 13 for it.

Boswell said more plans for street construction would be discussed at the regular Council meeting Monday night.

Students Make Plea to Lower Voting Age

AUSTIN (AP)—Students from the universities of Texas and Houston Tuesday put in a plea for the voting age in Texas to be lowered from 21 to 18.

The collegians appeared before the House Constitutional Amendments Committee. They endorsed the proposal by Reps. Roger Daily of Houston, W. H. Pieratt of Giddings and Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls.

The proposed amendment went to a subcommittee, along with plans to ask voter approval for a ban on state income taxes and a change in financing the public schools.

The students said 18-year-olds of today are frequently better informed than their elders were at 21, due to advances in communication and education. They said the three-year lag between completion of high school civic courses and a youth's 21st birthday killed interest among young people in governmental affairs.

Blair Cherry Jr., University of Texas student from Lubbock, said he was forced to pay substantial federal and state taxes even though he was not allowed to vote.

"I think I ought to have a say in who levies those taxes," he said. In other debate, Rep. John Blaine of El Paso said his proposal to ban income taxes through constitutional amendment was an attempt to make Texas attractive for new business and capital.

Engineering Group To Take Field Trip

The Society of American Military Engineers will make a four-day field trip to Vicksburg, Miss., tomorrow by charter bus.

Approximately 30 men making the trip will visit the Water Ways Experiment Station in order to view the various engineering projects sent into the station from all over the country.

The society is composed of those students enrolled in ROTC and those interested in military engineering. The trip will be sponsored by the District Society of Military Engineers of Galveston. Maj. Gilbert F. Moore and Capt. Joseph D. Bennett of the Department of Military Science and Tactics will make the trip with the Aggies.

CS Kiwanis Lauded For Scouting Work

"You cannot make a man out of anything but a boy."

This statement exemplifies the reason that scouting plays such an important role in America today, Dr. Carlton Lee of Bryan, chairman of Boy Scouts of America's Arrowmoor District, told College Station Kiwanians yesterday.

"Scouting, through proper leadership and healthy activity, helps make our nation stronger by making its future leaders better men," Lee said.

He told the Kiwanians they could be proud of the part they play in the scouting program. The club sponsors Cub Scout Pack 102, Boy Scout Troop 102 and Air Scout Squadron 102, making it the only organization in the district to sponsor three scouts units. Lee also lauded members of the Kiwanis club who are active in Scouting.

As chairman of the Arrowmoor District, which is in the S a m Houston Area Council, Lee heads the 300 volunteer workers in the district.

Political Meeting Attended by Aggies

Student representatives of the Southwest Region of the YMCA-YWCA met in Austin for a conference on politics last Friday.

Aggies who attended were: Bob Coffman, Bill Shenkin, Sandy Westbrook, David Halm, Don Cloud, Jimmy Wolfe, Carl Zietlow, David Wallace, Bobby Bennett, Paul Van Nieuwenhuize, Bill Pey, Roger Ratliff, Malcolm Maxwell, Ned Keshey, Henry Haswell and Dan Brenner.

Fish Have Until 5 To Enter Pictures

Freshmen have until 5 p.m. today to submit pictures for the Freshman Sweetheart contest, Eddie M. Dyer, chairman of the Sweetheart Committee, said yesterday.

The winner will be announced at the Freshman Ball on Feb. 28, after selection from a list of finalists, he said.

Pictures should be 8x10 in size and accompanied by a snapshot. They may be turned in at the Department of Student Activities on the second floor of the YMCA.

Guide Posts

"Democracy is a cause that is never won, but I believe it will never be lost."—Charles A. Beard

News of the World

By The Associated Press

Satellite Into Orbit

WASHINGTON—An American satellite carrying a miniature, mechanical weather observer flashed into orbit around the earth Tuesday.

The satellite, Vanguard II, may whirl on through space for years or even centuries. But the batteries for its weather eyes—a pair of photoelectric cell—can operate continuously for only two weeks.

Boy Lives After Plunge

NEW YORK—An 11-year-old boy plunged 17 stories from his East Side apartment Tuesday and lived through it. A soggy lawn cushioned his fall.

The lad, James Bell, a Negro, broke both wrists and elbows and was reported in critical condition. But a hospital nurse said: "For a little boy who fell 17 stories, he's in pretty good shape."

Children Saved From Death

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio—A school bus driver saved his load of 40 children from perhaps serious injury Tuesday by gunning the motor as he felt a bridge giving away beneath his vehicle.

The bus lurched onto a solid roadway just as the bridge collapsed into swollen Sycamore Creek about 15 miles north-east of this north central Ohio community.

Navy Blimp Explodes

WASHINGTON, N. C.—A Navy blimp plunged into a swamp near here before dawn Tuesday and exploded. Four of the seven men aboard died in the crash or subsequent fire. The others suffered critical burns.